ARMY MANEUVERS NEXT ON PROGRAM

Gen. MacArthur Arrives at New London to Take Personal Charge of Defense.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW LONDON, CONN., Aug. 24.—Maj.-Gen. Arthur MacArthur, who is to be in command of the army maneuvers in the coming war games with the navy, is expected to arrive here tomorrow to assume personal direction of the preparation in the forts at the eastern entrance of Long Island sound. With him will be Gen. Randolph, chief artillery officer; Gen. Gillespie of the engineer corps, and Gen. Greeley, chief signal officer.

The great war game will begin next Friday night at midnight. By that time all details of preparation will be completed and the army will be ready to meet the enemy, which in this case will be the North Atlantic squadron, whose purpose is to force an entrance to Long Island sound, running the gauntlet of the Island forts.

At the present time there are over 4,000 troops stationed at the forts in this district, mainly artillerymen, augmented with two companies of engineer signal corps, and by the latter part of this week the two sea coast companies and the signal corps of the Connecticut national guard will be added to the land force, while the three battalions of the naval militia of the state will be added to the naval force.

GEN. MILES PREPARES FOR PHILIPPINE TRIP

War Department Very Much Surprised to Hear of It from Newspaper Sources and Washington Wonders What Developments Will Result.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Boston, Aug. 24.—Gen. Nelson A. Miles will sail for the Philippines within a few weeks. He is reticent as to the object of the trip. When asked if he was going in his official capacity, he replied:

"Well, I am not going as a tourist, neither am I going for my health. I cannot tell until I get there what I will do."

"In view of the correspondence between yourself and the war department," the general was asked, "does your visit to the Philippines in your official capacity indicate a change of heart on the part of the department?"

"You will have to put that question to the department," Gen. Miles answered. "I do not keep my finger on the pulse of the war department."

"Will you take any part in the negotiations relative to the Friars lands?"

"No."

"Will you confer in any way with, or make any suggestions to the civil government there?"

"No, I will have nothing to do with any matters outside of my profession."

Gen. Miles declined to answer other questions relative to his trip, but said:

"The statement that I had been active in suggesting material and witnesses for the senate committee on the Philippines is without foundation. I never suggested a witness and only read the testimony of one witness who appeared before the committee. Eighteen of the 25 witnesses were unknown to me."

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—Nothing is known in the office of the adjutant general regarding the intention of Lieut.-Gen. Miles to go to Manila. Gen. Miles would not have to report to that office his intention to leave the country. While he can order himself all over the United States to inspect military posts and do other things in his opinion for the good of the service, it is not thought that he would take such a step without first communicating his intention to the secretary of war, or the president.

Should Lieut.-Gen. Miles hie himself to the Philippines without having first apprised the war department and obtained the consent of the president, there is little doubt that he would be relieved of his command before he got to San Francisco.

Gen. Miles has twice sought to go to the far east on service. Once to assume supreme command of the military forces in the islands and in China, but President McKinley would not give his consent; and later he had a plan for ending the war in the Philippines, which he said was being conducted with extreme cruelty by the army. His plan was to bring to the United States a party of prominent Filipinos, who were to study our institutions and at the same time he was to take to the Philippines a party of Porto Ricans and Cubans who were to give the Filipinos an account of the good results of American rule in their island homes.

The application was refused by Secretary Root with comments so caustic as to make it appear that the application of the lieutenant general commanding the army was deemed a deliberate attack on his brothers at arms, and the incident almost led to the arbitrary retirement of Lieut.-Gen. Miles by President Roosevelt.

GIRL LURED TO DEATH IN A FILTHY BASEMENT

The Police of Chicago Find New Witness in Bertholin Mystery. Bloody Overshoes Were Also Discovered.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Whether or not the exhuming of the remains buried in Calvary cemetery as the body of Minnie Mitchell shall develop that the missing girl's family was correct in accepting the body as that of their missing daughter, the police have secured ample evidence to indicate that some young woman was lured into the basement of the Bartholin house on the Wednesday night that William Bartholin and his sweetheart vanished from sight.

An important witness, whose name will not be made public for the present, has been found. He is a business man whose home is not far from the Bartholin house.

According to this witness he alighted from a Forty-third street car shortly after 9 o'clock, an hour after Minnie Mitchell and her lover bade adieu to the Mitchell family on the steps of the house at 901 Forty-fourth street.

He walked along Calumet avenue and his walk led him past the Bartholin home. He noticed a woman, apparently quite young, standing on the grass plot in front of the building. The pedestrian had gone beyond the Bartholin residence when he heard a man's voice, and, looking back, he could just discern a figure leaning against the staircase leading to the basement which two weeks ago gave up Mrs. Bartholin's body.

The man on the steps, who is assumed to have been William Bartholin, said something that could not be heard and the girl responded, asking why the first speaker wanted her to go into the "filthy" basement. Turning back again, when he had progressed some distance in his walk, the pedestrian caught a glimpse of the woman descending into the basement.

The police today found a canvas overshoe, covered with blood in the Bartholin house. Its size precludes it having belonged to Mrs. Bartholin, but it has not been identified as belonging to Minnie Mitchell.

Many Farms Flooded.

EMPORIA, KAS., Aug. 24.—Hundreds of farmers are fleeing from the water of the Cottonwood river, leaving behind their deluged farms and flooded homes. The river has been rising steadily for a week and great damage is resulting. The Neosho river is entirely out of its banks below its junction with the Cottonwood. The Santa Fe railroad is troubleed much with washouts, and has discontinued some of its trains.

Runaway New York Boy.

Fred Lang, aged 15, a runaway boy from New York, was arrested about midnight by Police Officer Kennedy and sent to Central station.

MANY WERE INJURED IN A FIERCE RACE RIOT

Over Two Hundred Negroes and Whites Engage in Battle at a Baseball Game in Indianapolis. Fifteen Shots Fired.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Aug. 24.—A race riot broke out at Haughville, a suburb of this city, this afternoon between 200 negroes and whites employed by the National Malleable Castings Company. There has been bitter race feeling between them for several years, and trouble has frequently broken out.

A ball game this morning between the two factions caused excitement. As the crowd left the field hostilities commenced. Stones, bricks, clubs and other missiles were used. Two hundred persons immediately crushed together in a fighting mass.

Twelve or fifteen shots were fired, and it is reported one negro was shot, but he was taken from the field before the police arrived. The whites were victorious, driving the blacks from the field and wounding a number of them. Several white people were badly injured.

Ten arrests have been made and others will be made as rapidly as the persons can be found. The police responded to a riot call, but, on account of the distance, did not arrive till the fight had been fought to a finish. Officers of the company fear other outbreaks will follow.

FUERST BISMARCK BREAKS HER SHAFT

Liner Proceeding Slowly With One Engine and All on Board Are Reported Well.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The British steamship Sheppy Allison arrived from Middlesboro today and reported that on Saturday when in longitude 66.22 and latitude 40.44, which is about 300 miles east of Boston, she had sighted the Hamburg-American liner Fuerst Bismarck, which signaled that her starboard shaft was broken and that she was proceeding under one engine.

Capt. Berends of the Fuerst Bismarck told Capt. Williams of the Sheppy Allison that all were well on board and that he was proceeding on his voyage at a speed of about 15 knots.

The Fuerst Bismarck sailed from New York Thursday morning for Hamburg via Plymouth and Cherbourg, and had on board a large number of cabin passengers.

Among them were Mme. Helene Modjeska, George Alberti, Henry Adler, Franz Joseph Freund, Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Remey, W. J. Simpson, Dr. and Mrs. C. Benjamin Kopf and George Waterbury.

Small Boy Missing.

Samuel Smith, aged 9, of 111 Ninth street, was reported as missing to the police last night. He left home Saturday at noon.

KNOX WILL BEGIN HIS VACATION DAYS ON BOARD OCEANIC

Has So Far Been Unable to Hide Away from Constant Cares of Office.

SAILS AWAY WEDNESDAY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 25.—Attorney General Knox will have his real vacation when he steps aboard the Oceanic next Wednesday en route for Paris. He said so yesterday.

A friend to whom he made the remark ventured the thought that the attorney general had already been away on vacation for more than a month. The attorney general explained how he had passed his time. At Atlantic City he had even a greater stream of visitors, morning, noon and night, than he had in Washington. He was lucky to get two hours a day to himself and family.

He fled from Atlantic City to Prides Crossing, Maine, to visit a friend, and there business cares followed him, letters, telegrams and officials. Leaving Maine, he went to a private fishing club not far from Sandusky. To this place he was also pursued by the Panama canal question, the whole thing culminating in a cable from Assistant Attorney General Russell in Paris that now was the time to come.

Hence, the attorney general will begin to enjoy his vacation as soon as he gets beyond the reach of the wireless telegraph on the Oceanic.

MINERS CAUSE TROUBLE.

Several Hundred Strikers Congregate About Rend Property in West Virginia.

THURMOND, W. VA., Aug. 24.—The striking miners held meetings at various points throughout the new Kanawha river coal fields today. Nothing has been made public as to what was done. Some of the operators claim tonight that the strikers, or the greater part of them, are in favor of resuming work and believe that before the close of the week practically all the mines in the Chesapeake & Ohio territory will be in operation.

The strikers interviewed claim there is nothing in the report that they intend to resume work, but say they will remain out all winter unless their demands for the recognition of the union shall be met.

There was much excitement about the Rend mines today where several hundred strikers congregated, and for a time it was feared the property would be destroyed. Trouble is predicted there tomorrow.

Altomonte in Eruption.

ROME, Aug. 24.—Mount Altomonte, in Calabria, has been in eruption since last Friday, and is emitting showers of stones and flames.

JOKE OF FRIEND FRIGHTENED LEVY SO THAT HE DIED

When Ruben Miller Drew Back as If to Strike Him, He Dropped Dead.

PANIC IN LITTLE PARTY

Because Simon Levy of No. 1628 Fifth avenue took the little things of life too seriously a playful argument was suddenly changed into a tragedy yesterday. A gesture made by Ruben Miller of Congress street as if to strike Levy frightened him so that he sank dead in his chair in the store of Israel Cohen at No. 1106 Fifth avenue. The affair happened shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Levy had been troubled with heart disease for some time and the fright was too much for him. His body was taken to the morgue and later was removed to his home. He was 43 years old, married and a cigarmaker by occupation.

It has been a custom of Cohen and his friends to congregate in his harness store on Sunday afternoon. Yesterday his friends Jacob Artfield, J. Alpen, Harry Levinson, Edmond Bass, Harry Freeland, Ruben Miller and Simon Levy were there.

They had been there several hours and had frequent discussions. Suddenly there was a bandying of words between Levy and Miller over some lodge matters. Miller assumed that he was greatly angered at Levy and made a motion as if to hit him. Miller's frowning features and arm drawn back were too much for Levy and frightened him so that he raised in his chair and fell back dead.

His collapse frightened Miller and his friends, and they sent Annie Cohen for Dr. M. A. Goodstone of No. 919 Fifth avenue. In the meantime, they dashed water in Levy's face, but their efforts were of no avail. When the physician arrived, they were informed that he had died instantly.

Miller and his friends were greatly shocked over the tragedy. Coroner Jesse M. McGeary was notified and Deputy Coroner George Mercer hurried to the scene. The remains of Levy were taken to the morgue, where they were identified by his wife. They were immediately sent to his home in Fifth avenue. At first a report was circulated that Miller struck his friend and killed him.

Detective Bernard McStay upon investigation learned the facts of the peculiar tragedy. Coroner McGeary will hold the inquest on Thursday.

Four Children Suffocated.

PORTLAND, ME., Aug. 24.—The four children of William Kronberg and his servant girl were suffocated in a fire today in a two and a half-story house. When the firemen arrived the father stood half-clad on the sidewalk calling piteously for them to go to the aid of the children, but there was no chance for them.

MURDERER TRIES TO ESCAPE TO SEA

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 24.—After murdering a man and seriously wounding his own wife, Leander Smith, colored, stole a boat and put out to sea in an effort to escape, but when five miles from shore his boat capsized. The fugitive clung to the upturned boat until sighted by a mail steamer and was then picked up and brought to Somers Point. Two hours later he was arrested and brought back to Atlantic City.

The tragedy was due to jealousy. Smith believing that Boyd Clinton, colored, head watter at the Hotel Canfield, was paying attentions to Mrs. Smith, employed at the same house. Shortly before 1 o'clock this morning Smith entered the hallway in the basement of the Hotel Canfield, where his wife, Clinton and two others were sitting, engaged in conversation. Smith stealthily approached Clinton and fired a bullet into the latter's head, killing him almost instantly. The murderer then shot his wife, the bullet entering her back. The shots and screams aroused all in the hotel, but before assistance could arrive Smith had fled.

Woman May Recover.

The body of the murdered man was removed and Mrs. Smith was taken to the City hospital, where doctors extracted the bullet, and there is hope of her recovery.

In the meantime Smith had stolen a rowboat and put out to sea with the intention, it is believed, of getting aboard a vessel bound for some distant port. His plan was frustrated by the upsetting of his boat, and the steamer that picked him up was a fishing vessel bound for Somers Point, to which place he was brought.

After being landed at Somers Point the murderer said he had left Atlantic City yesterday in a small boat, to fish, and that his boat had capsized and he had been rescued. He then said he would have to hurry and tell his boss about being saved, and started up the railroad track toward Pleasantville. His actions aroused the suspicions of Mayor Higbee of Somers Point and he telephoned to the Atlantic City authorities for information.

Chief of Police Eldridge told him of the murder and asked for a description of the suspect. The description tallied exactly and the chief requested the mayor to send a posse after the fugitive. After receiving this information the mayor sent the city marshal up the tracks after the man, and himself got his horse and carriage, and with several other men started on a hunt.

Fugitive Is Captured.

On the turnpike to Mays Landing, about two miles from that place, the mayor and his party overtook the man walking at a rapid pace. This road leads away from Atlantic City toward the woods opposite from where the man said he was going. The mayor asked him if he wanted a ride, and he said "Yes," getting into the carriage.

After he was in the mayor asked him where he was from. He said he was from Somers Point. In answer to further questions the man said that he had lived in Somers Point for several months, and worked for a man named Johnson.

"A tall, slim man?" asked Mayor Higbee.

"Yes," replied the man.

As there was no such man there, the mayor knew he had his man and turned his team around toward Somers Point. The fugitive became confused and made efforts to get away. He was taken back to Somers Point and there turned over to officers from Atlantic City, who brought him here and placed him in jail to await a hearing.

AMERICA IS BECOMING SUPREME IN THE ORIENT

So Says Special Commissioner Jenks After a Year's Investigation in the Far-Off East Indies.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Dr. Jeremiah W. Jenks, special commissioner of the United States in the orient for the war department and professor of political economy in Cornell university, has returned from his year's journey throughout Europe and southeastern Asia, and is passing a few days with friends at Stanford university.

This journey he undertook at the call of the war department, having been appointed by Secretary Root to investigate the workings of the currency of eastern countries, their system of internal taxation—in general to report upon the internal administration of the Dutch and English possessions in the far east. The pirpose of the investigation was to throw all the light possible upon the problems which confront the United States in the government and industrial development of the Philippines.

Prof. Jenks found that the prestige of the United States throughout the east has been vastly increased by the events of the last four years. In trade, particularly in China, no power except England has the future before it that the United States has, and commercially England herself is likely soon to be outstripped by the great republic. Germany has a vast and rapidly growing trade with the east, but her geographical position will enforce a severe handicap upon her in the future. Russia's influence is largely political and is likely to be confined strictly to the north.

DREAM CAME TRUE.

Chicago Man Awoke to Find His Wife and Children Dead.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Bryant Schick was awakened this morning by a dream that a mishap had befallen his wife. He found the house filled with escaping gas and his wife and two children, one a girl of two years, and the other an infant, dead. It is supposed that Mrs. Schick turned on the gas while temporarily insane. She left a note, but it was so poorly written that nobody could read it.

Reason for Cambon's Transfer.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—In a dispatch from Paris the correspondent of the Times dilates upon the significance of the transfer of Jules Cambon, French ambassador to the United States, to Madrid, and says M. Cambon is probably sent to this point on account of his special knowledge of Mediterranean questions which are likely to become paramount in the years to come.

THE NEW MAINE DEVELOPS GREAT SPEED

Official Report Says Trial of the New Battleship Is Successful—Makes Nearly Eighteen Knots an Hour.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—An official report of the trial trip of the first-class battleship Maine over the Cape Ann course yesterday was received at the navy department today from Capt. Train, the president of the trial board. It reads as follows:

"Boston, Aug. 24.—The trial of the battleship Maine successfully completed. The mean speed uncorrected for tidal errors, 17 96-100 knots."

It is stated at the navy department that the corrected figures for tidal allowances may make a slight change showing a greater or less speed.

OUT OF EXISTENCE.

Everett-Moore Syndicate Will Dissolve Federal Telephone Company. Others Handled Separately.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 24.—The Everett-Moore syndicate has changed its plans with reference to the Federal Telephone Company, and no further effort will be made to bring about a reorganization of that company.

Today it was learned that not a single company would remain on the property of or in control of the Federal Telephone Company, and that that organization would speedily go out of existence.

Henry A. Everett said that the intention is to fully protect stockholders of the Federal company and to bring about a dissolution of the company in about a month. The United States Telephone Company and the Cuyahoga Telephone company will be handled as separate properties.

A development with regard to the Peoples Telephone Company at Detroit is expected soon and is to be arranged by an attorney. It is believed that the money obtained from the sale of the former companies will more than offset the indebtedness of the Federal company.

WANT CONGRESS TO MEET.

Workingmen Will Ask the President to Endeavor to End Miners' Strike.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—President Roosevelt will be asked to call a special session of congress to take action to end the coal strike. This was decided at a meeting today of the Central Federation union, representing 250,000 workingmen.

A mass meeting under the auspices of the labor unions of New York city and vicinity will be held, at which resolutions will be adopted urging President Roosevelt to immediately call congress to meet and decide upon plans which will bring the strike to a speedy termination.

ENEMY'S FLEET IS DESTROYED BY HIGGINSON

Pillsbury's Squadron Is Defeated by Ships of Defense.

ATTACKING FORCE SIGNALLY FAILS

Mimic Warfare Suddenly Ends by Surrender Off New England Coast.

SUPERIOR STRENGTH OF DEFENDING BOATS

Rockport, Mass., Aug. 24.—The naval search problem on the New England coast was terminated at 5:40 this morning by the signals, "Surrender demanded; unconditional," from Rear Admiral Higginson's flagship, and the reply, "Accept; surrender," from the fore truck of the Prairie, Commander Pillsbury's flagship.

The battle between the blue, or defending squadron, and the white, or attacking squadron, was thus quickly ended eight miles south of Thatcher's island. The enemy had most signally failed to make a harbor. A preponderance of fighting strength, relatively 64 points, represented by the battleships Kearsarge, Alabama and Massachusetts, Scorpion and a torpedo boat, had overwhelmed the 45 points represented by the auxiliary cruisers Prairie, Panther and Supply.

To speak from a theoretic standpoint the white squadron was entirely destroyed by the guns of the defending battleships. Thus on the fourth night the game of naval strategy was brought to an end, it having covered a period of unceasing toil, sleepless nights, of anxious and wearing vigil and of grave uncertainty to its participants.

The destruction of Pillsbury's squadron occurred this morning at a point just within the outer limit of Gloucester harbor, not over eight miles southerly from Thatchers Island, off which had been anchored since Wednesday, when the war game was declared opened, the three powerful battleships of the blue squadron.

Interesting Navy Maneuvers.

The surrounding and "putting out of action" of the squadron in command of Commander Pillsbury was the culminating climax in one of the most interesting chapters in the peace history of the American navy. For the placing in operation of the maneuvers of the warships off the coast of New England the navy had long prepared itself and had long looked forward to them with keen anticipation.

As planned by the naval authorities at Washington, two squadrons were to be put into the game, one the blue, the defending fleet, and the other the white, to be a hostile fleet bent upon effecting an anchorage in some unprotected harbor on the coast from Cape Elizabeth to Cape Cod, opposed all the time by the first-named fleet. This anchorage had to be maintained against the defenders for a period of six hours.

Commander Pillsbury's white squadron consisted of auxiliary cruisers Prairie (flagship), Panther and Supply. The two former boats were each assigned 20 points of fighting strength, while the Supply was assumed to represent five points.

Admiral Higginson's fleet was actually superior in the number of its members and by the same arrangements made as to the Pillsbury ships it represented a grand total of 37 points of strength. The Kearsarge, the Alabama and the Massachusetts, battleships, were given 20, the cruisers Brooklyn and Olympia, 8 each, the Cincinnati Montogomery, Gloucester, Mayflower and Scorpion 3 points each, while a number of torpedo boats made up the remaining numbers.

Had Superior Squadron.

To win in the mimic war the blue squadron had to bring against the attacking vessels, as it did early today, warships superior in their combined assumed fighting power. Each side had the right to capture individual craft of the other fleet by overcoming them in point of strength and under the rules of the game the captured vessels were to retire altogether from the field of action.

In the defeat of Pillsbury the defense, with three battleships, the Scorpion and with a single torpedo boat, had 64 points, so that the balance was against the attacking squadron. Throughout the mimic war there was placed in operation a system of coast defense which was admittedly of credit to those who engaged in it.

The problem was so complicated that on the war vessels here tonight the week's work is viewed with satisfaction for the one reason, if for no other, that the squadron has had invaluable practice.

The final event of these war moves was the sequence of many complicating developments. The capture came at the end of a night filled with rumors as to the location of the attacking squadron. At 9:30 o'clock last night three battleships of the blue squadron got under way in a hurry and sailed to the eastward. The intention was to move on to Portland and if that had been carried out Admiral Higginson, as it later developed, would have unconsciously swung the balance of his fighting force to that end of the coast line, as Pillsbury had intended he should, but which was not done on account of heavy seas running outside Cape Elizabeth.

Sailed Under Higginson's Guns.

Higginson, however, defeated his course back to Gloucester after a swing seaward, in response to a report that the enemy had not been sighted when it was believed he had been, but in the last hours of the night Pillsbury sailed toward Cape Ann from the outside, and, as it proved, right under the very guns of the defending squadron, Commander Pillsbury, when still out to sea, after maneuvering, headed straight for Salem harbor. But the desired vantage point was never reached.

When his boats had arrived off Magnolia they were sighted by the signal station on Bakers Island. A message was sent to the station at Rockport here and the torpedo boat Barney was sent out to notify the blue squadron. The station here, before this, had been informed that Higginson's battleships had been sighted off Gloucester and that later they had returned to their berths under the lee of Watchers Islands.

The Barney's commander was mystified, therefore, when, after rounding Straitsmouth he saw no evidence of the presence of the Kearsarge. On a hazard, the Barney was steered southerly. After Higginson's ships had cruised up and down the coast they went to their anchor off Thatchers Island. At this time the officer on the deck of the Kearsarge was Lieut. Ray Stone, with Midshipmen Wilworth Pulleston as the junior officer in command.

In contrast to others, the morning was clear and star bright. On the bridge a dozen jackies stood upon the lookout. One of these was Daniel Staehle, an apprentice of the first class. He stood well forward peering on the lee side. The flagship was just falling down into a trough when he notified the ensign at his side that he could see the enemy. The officer of the deck called Flag Lieut. Evans and Flag Secretary Bistol, and it was but the work of a moment to inform Admiral Higginson of the probability that the time for decisive action was at hand.

Just Like Real War.

It was real war then. General quarters were sounded. There was a quick rush of many feet, the maning of a hundred posts, the clank of the anchor chain, the ringing of bells, the giving of orders and a general clearing for action. Not many moments passed before the flagship was under way, steaming at 14 knots, with the Alabama and Massachusetts many lengths in the rear. Some distance back was the Barney rapidly overhauling the ships ahead.

At 5:40 o'clock the three battleships, aided by the converted yacht Scorpion, which had chased in from the south in time to be in at the finish, and the Barney, which had overtaken the fleet, formed a horseshoe about the white squadron. The elation among the men on board the blue squadron ran high.

There was something pathetic in the picture when Commander Pillsbury, after he had signaled his surrender, passed in his barge from the Prairie, walked up the starboard gangway of the Kearsarge and offered his sword to Admiral Higginson.

"Keep your sword, sir," said the senior officer, his voice quavering a bit in spite of himself. "I would not accept the sword from so gallant a foe."

"And I, sir," responded Pillsbury, with dignity, "could not surrender to a nobler or better officer, sir."

This exchange of words ended the actual surrender, and at the invitation of Admiral Higginson, commander Pillsbury stepped down to the cabin of the Kearsarge, and here the two officers discussed in privacy the incidents of the days since the "declaration of hostilities" on Wednesday.

Benefit to the Navy.

At the conclusion of the conference, Commander Pillsbury was returned to his flagship, and it was not long afer that the Prairie headed down coast. A little later signals were given for the blue squadron to return to Rockport. Later, by the same system of communication established and maintained so successfully since Wednesday, messages were dispatched to all points from Portland to Provincetown ordering all the warships of the offending squadron to return to Rockport for further instructions, and at the same time to collect on the way to this harbor all signal men who had been detailed at both island and mainland stations along the coast.

In an interview on board his flagship, Admiral Higginson expressed his pleasure at the real work which had been done during the week. He commended Staehle, the apprentice boy who was the first to report the presence of Commander Pillsbury's squadron. He said he believed that to some extent the maneuvers had taught the navy its points of weakness and strength during a time of real action, and he believed much good would come from the "war game."

Commander Pillsbury was asked regarding his movements, and stated when he left Provincetown last Tuesday the fleet steamed directly to sea, running off some 400 miles about southeast of Cape Cod. His plan was to lay off there until Saturday night and then to try for Salem harbor. Coming on the coast last night he had first thought of making a feint with one of his ships in the direction of Portland, hoping to draw off Admiral Higginson and the big ships of his command in that direction, but as a heavy sea was running and as his ships were slow of speed and their bottoms foul, he decided not to do this and made his run direct for Salem harbor.

The only ship of Admiral Higginson's fleet he saw during the entire period was the torpedo boat Barney, which he sighted just about the same time he found he was discovered by sharp-eyed Staehle of the Kearsarge.

PROTEST IGNORED.

Venezuela Replies to Foreign Governments' Anti-Blockade Message. Two Dutch Schooners Seized.

WILLENSTAD, ISLAND OF CURACAO, Aug. 24.—According to Venezuelan advices received here the government of that country has replied to the protests lodged by Germany, Great Britain and France against the blockade of Venezuelan ports as not being effective, by declaring that the protests in question will not receive consideration.

Two Dutch schooners which entered blockaded Venezuelan ports in ignorance of the existence of the blockade, have been captured by government authorities.

THE WEATHER.

Fair weather, possibly a little warmer, is predicted for Pittsburgh and vicinity today and tomorrow by the Washington weather man. The bright sun and cool breezes of yesterday drove great crowds into the open air, and to the various parks and nearby excursion points. The almost phenomenally pleasant weather this month promises to keep up until the very end, and many Pittsburghers are finding their home city the best summer resort this year.

THE PRESIDENT IS GODFATHER FOR NAMESAKE

Roosevelt Attends Christening of Baby at Newport.

SHORT TRIP ON SUNDAY

Cheering Thousands Greet the Chief Magistrate Along the Journey to Nahant, Mass., Where He is the Guest of Senator Lodge.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Nahant, Mass., Aug. 24.—President Roosevelt left Newport today at 2 o'clock in a sumptuous train of four special cars. Accompanying him to the depot were Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Chanler and Senator and Mrs. Lodge, the two latter journeying with the party to Nahant, the home of the Lodges, where the president will spend the night.

As is his custom, the president rose early, and, after eating a light breakfast, left the Chanler house about 9 o'clock and went out to meet Mrs. Roosevelt, who had come up on the Sylph during the night.

The president was aboard the ship for about two hours. Mrs. Roosevelt accompanied him ashore and spent about half an hour at the Chanler residence, taking a look at the Chanler baby, but did not remain for the christening. She left shortly before the event for Oyster Bay. The president remained at the Chanler villa, where the ceremony of christening the baby was performed by the Rev. John Diamond, of the Episcopal church, in the presence of the president, who acted as godfather; Senator and Mrs. Lodge, the latter acting as godmother; Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, and a large number of the personal friends of the family.

An Auspicious Event.

The affair was regarded as one of the most auspicious events of the season at that fashionable resort, due not only to the social prominence of the Chanlers, but to the fact that the president of the United States would act as godfather to the child for whom it was named.

Traveling on Sunday was something new for the president, but in this instance he was obliged to depart from his usual custom, as he went to Newport for no other purpose than to attend the christening and it was necessary to make the short journey to Nahant today in order to maintain his schedule.

Lieut. Gov. Bates and Adjt. Gen. Dalton of Massachusetts boarded the train at Newport and completed the arrangements for the entertainment of the president and party in Boston tomorrow night.

That the enthusiasm attending the president's journey shows no abatement was made evident today by the crowd gathered about the depot at Newport, which cheered his arrival and continued cheering until the train departed and was lost to view.

Stone Bridge, R. I., Fall River, Taunton and Mansfield, in Massachusetts, turned out in force to greet the president, and as each place was reached the train was slowed down, the president appearing on the rear platform and bowing his acknowledgments.

Cheering Was Continuous.

At Boston the entire party disembarked and entered the special which was standing on another track, the crowd in the meantime keeping up a continuous cheering.

Upon arriving at Lynn, where carriages were in waiting to take the party to Nahant, the sight was one long to be remembered. Stretched from the depot through the city and across the peninsula to Nahant, a distance of four miles, were fully sixty thousand people, who cheered again and again as the president passed. There were two miles of carriages on either side of the road.

The president rode with Mrs. Lodge and was escorted from Lynn to Nahant by a troop of cavalry. The arrival at Nahant was a signal for another outbreak of applause, and the two places seemed to vie with each other as to which should be the more cordial in its greeting. Flags and bunting were displayed everywhere.

Tomorrow afternoon the president will deliver an address from the steps of the public library building in Nahant.

THREE KILLED IN WRECK.

Freight Trains Collide and Are Precipitated into a Deep Ravine in Indiana.

NEW ALBANY, IND., Aug. 24.—In a disastrous freight wreck on the Southern railway near Georgetown, 10 miles west of here early today, Engineer "Red" Duval, Fireman B. Cox and Brakeman Ross of one train were killed outright, and Engineer Harry Goodall and Fireman George Myers of the other train were probably fatally hurt.

Fourteen box cars loaded with wheat with two locomotives were tumbled over a trestle to a ravine 40 feet below and were demolished. All the traffic on the Southern railway between Louisville and St. Louis has been blocked.

Two sections of the through freight were coming east and the first section in charge of Conductor Walter Alvis had stopped at Duncans to switch, leaving a cut of cars on the main track. There is a heavy grade at this point and by some means the cars broke away and rolled down the track gaining momentum at each revolution of the trucks. Just as the runaway cars were approaching the trestle the second section, drawn by two big mogul engines came thundering over the hill and the crash occurred a moment later. The cars piled over the locomotives and all went down into the ravine in a heap.

Iron and Steel Men There Have Little Combination of Their Own.

WANT TO BE FRIENDLY

Emperor William Sending Count Tiele-Wenchler to United States to Have Talk With Morgan On Industry and Commerce.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by the New York Herald Co.)

Berlin, Aug. 24.—Cable advices from New York, to the effect that J. P. Morgan and Charles M. Schwab contemplate an international working agreement with the German and British iron and steel industries, similar to the transatlantic ship combination, have been received, and are regarded here without any special alarm, for the German iron and steel corporations have now completed a close syndicate, the object of which is primarily to offer competition to the United States steel and iron exporters, especially in the European, British, African and Asiatic markets.

This so-called "sale syndicate" has armed itself with a rebate or bounty fund to encourage exports within the last few months, and since the visits of Mr. Morgan and Mr. Schwab to this country all the largest steel and iron works, which have hitherto remained independent, have joined the "kartel" which has no capitalization, but a central board of management to which is referred all orders and all questions of production for home consumption and export, and which issues orders appertaining to wages, hours of labor and political subjects.

A royal commission, headed by Count Tiele-Wenchler, an owner of mines and a leading financer of Germany, leaves here within a few days for the United States. The count will meet Mr. Morgan and discuss the subjects of friendly relations with the German industrial and commercial interests.

The count is commissioned by the kaiser to make this trip. It is understood that the meeting of the capitalists will be an outcome of the interview between the kaiser and Mr. Morgan at Kiel.

WAS ROBBED, BUT HAD $30.

Andy Jurko's Tale Not Believed By Police.

Andy Jurko, a Slav residing at Homestead, was found early yesterday morning lying on Center avenue near Neville street, by a private patrolman. He was unconscious and covered with blood from a long cut on the side of his head. He waz taken to No. 4 police station. He was soon able to go to his home.

Upon recovering consciousness, he stated that he had been held up and shot by highwaymen, but the police are inclined to doubt the story, as the man had $30 on his person when found, and they think he may have fallen from a car.

HUNTING THE HUNTER.

Baldwin Ordered to Go North in Search of the Frithjof.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Cabling from Copenhagen, the correspondent of the Daily Express says William Ziegler of New York, who financed the Evelyn B. Baldwin polar exploring expedition, has ordered Mr. Baldwin to proceed for Franz Josef Land on board the America in search of the Frithjof.

The Frithjof has not been heard from since she was dispatched last July to search for and bring relief to Mr. Baldwin.

France Prepared for War.

PARIS, Aug. 24.—A yellow book, recently issued by the French health department, makes the revelation that at the time of the Fashoda dispute with Great Britain in 1898, France, fearing war with Great Britain, concentrated 3,000 troops at Cherbourg, where a serious outbreak of fever occurred among the soldiers. A thousand cases were reported and there were 120 deaths.

THREE KILLED AND MANY HURT

TROLLEY CARS CRASH ON CURVE NEAR NORFOLK, VA.

Motorman Failed to Obey Orders to Take a Sidetrack and Two Coaches Loaded With Excursionists Collided at Full Speed.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NORFOLK, VA., Aug. 24.—In a head-on collision between two cars on the Bay Shore Terminal line this afternoon three people were killed and many others badly injured.

The dead:
W. S. YANDELL, motorman.
C. B. COLDEN, motorman.
LINWOOD FENTRESS, aged 10.

The seriously injured are, W. R. Waller, R. J. Davis, George Stephenson, Mrs. J. F. Stephenson, Joseph White, conductor; M. V. Ahern, Benjamin Rowson, Miss Lillian Land, John Taylor, colored; Maria Fentress, colored; Miss Ruth Banks Phoebe Frederick, colored; Corliss Waller, badly injured internally; Mrs. Victor Parks, skull fractured; Louis Parks, internal injuries, expected to die.

The accident occurred 400 yards beyond Futas siding, about three miles from Norfolk. One car was coming from Ocean View and the other going to the View. The orders were that the shorebound car should wait at the siding for the other. Motorman W. S. Yandell failed to obey the order.

Yandell endeavored to jump but was crushed between the telescoped cars and died hanging by his right leg. Motorman Colden, of the other car, applied his airbrakes as soon as he saw the danger, the collision occurring on a curve, and then tried to jump, as did Linwood Fentress, the 10-year-old son of R. B. Fentress, president of the Norfolk Cold Storage & Ice Company, who recently purchased extensive subway franchises in Baltimore.

Both Colden and young Fentress were caught under the platform of the shorebound, which piled up on the other, and were killed outright. Colden's head was almost torn from his body and both legs were cut off. The Fentress boy was crushed to death. Both cars were full of Sunday excursionists, and few escaped uninjured.

Help was telephoned for and physicians and ambulances were hurriedly on the scene. In the meantime a large number of the hurt were taken to the city in private conveyances. There is no complete list of the injured.

R. P. Waller, a brother of Maj. L. W. T. Waller, was on one of the cars and sustained serious injuries. He was taken to his home in Pembroke avenue. M. V. Ahern of the Virginian-Pilot was wedged between two seats and injured internally. Benjamin Rowson, managing editor of the Humorist, also sustained serious injuries. A coroner's jury viewed the dead and took some testimony, but adjourned until Wednesday.

People who were near the front of the shorebound car state that Motorman Yandell was talking with a young woman passenger who was standing in the cab on the front platform when the crash came. After the crash this woman was removed in an unconscious condition from beneath the dead motorman's body.

KEILEY SEEKS CHANGE.

Wants American Catholicism Emancipated From Congregation Propaganda.

LONDON, August, 25.—In a dispatch from Rome the correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says that the Rt. Rev. Benjamin J. Keiley, bishop of Savannah, Ga., had an audience with the pope prior to visiting other Italian cities, and took advantage of the occasion to urge upon the pontiff the wishes of a large number of American bishops for the emancipation of American Catholicism from the jurisdiction of the propaganda of Rome.

He declared that the congregation was only intended to supervise religious affairs in infidel regions.

LABOR LEAGUE HAS EXONERATED ITS PRESIDENT

Charges of Double-Dealing Repudiated By Two-Thirds Vote.

DELEGATES WERE ANGRY

Some Demanded That the League Keep Out of Politics—Investigating Committee's Report Was Unanimous That Boate Was Not Guilty.

The United Labor League of Western Pennsylvania battled till last midnight over the charges of double dealing in politics preferred against President William Boate before, by something over a two-thirds vote, the president was exonerated. The charges against the league president were preferred at the last meeting of the league by Delegate George J. Churchill of the West End, who represents the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway employes. It was alleged by Churchill that Boate had been guilty of double dealing, while endeavoring to secure the nomination of William T. Hamilton of the railway trainmen, whom the league had indorsed as legislative candidate from the Second district, and Churchill, indorsed as a candidate from the Sixth district. The upshot of the entire matter is expected to be that the league will cease to dabble in politics. The nature of the business brought out an unusually large number of delegates, and among them President Simon Burns, of the Window Glass Workers' association, who made one of his characteristically sharp talks of considerable length, condemning any participation of the league in politics. He declared that this will certainly wreck the organization.

Other delegates took umbrage at this, declaring that since the league swung its support to the Citizens movement at the last election, it has gained prestige. Vice President John Fernan and others, however, urged that politics be kept out of the organization.

President Boate spent about an hour talking in defense of the report of a committee which had investigated the charges finding the league president not guilty and fully exonerating him. This committee was composed of George Newcomb of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers and Machinists, chairman; J. C. Thomas of the structural iron workers; George Miller of the stonecutters; Fred C. Harrison of the sheet metal workers, and T. A. Bachanach of the salespeople.

The committee's report, which was unanimous, concluded: "Your committee finds Brother Boate not guilty of double dealing and also exonerates him from all blame."

The committee had had two meetings, one on Friday, August 15, and another on the following Monday. President Boate and one other witness presented all the evidence for the defense, while Churchill named eight witnesses, but he let his case rest with five, the others not being present.

There was much excitement throughout the session last night, the Boate incident taking up the time for about three hours. Nearly every delegate had something to say and it was no easy matter for Vice President John Fernan to preserve order. President Joseph Henry of the Pittsburgh bricklayers was admitted as a delegate to the league. Eight delegates from the traction employes and one each from the painters and theatrical mechanics were admitted.

Funeral of Gen. Siegel.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Taps was sounded today for Gen. Franz Siegel. Simple and unostentatious was his funeral. Surrounding the flag-covered coffin wherein lay the dead general, attired in the well-worn uniform he had worn in battle, stood the few surviving comrades who had fought shoulder to shoulder with the veteran in wars in two hemispheres. Some of these spoke simple eulogies, and then the body was carried to its last resting place in Woodlawn cemetery, followed by a long line of scarred and crippled veterans bearing with them tattered flags. Conspicuous among those who paid tribute to the memory of Gen. Siegel was Carl Schurz, his comade-at-arms, first in the great uprising which swept Europe in 1848, and later in the civil war.

SERIOUS SHOOTING IN A SPEAKEASY

DISPUTE TOOK PLACE IN A RESORT NEAR ESSEN COAL MINES.

Austrian Named Frank Was Hit and Judging from His Screams of Pain and the Blood He Lost Injury Must Have Been Severe.

Word was received in this city last evening of a serious shooting affray that is said to have taken place about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in a speakeasy near the Essen No. 2 tipple of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, about half a mile from Federal. The name of the man who was shot is given as Frank. He is said to be an Austrian, aged about 32 years, and employed as a miner.

It was the impression of those who brought the information to Pittsburgh that the man was seriously wounded, but nothing definite was known. The shooting is said to have grown out of an exciting discussion had over some matter in the speakeasy. Suddenly a shot was fired and Frank fell to the floor, screaming with pain.

Those who had gone to the place with him at once picked him up and hurried away with him. Where they took him is not known. The only trace they left behind was a pool of blood where Frank fell. Other friends of the wounded man started for Bridgeville, it is said, intending to swear out warrants for the man who did the shooting.

Frank is said to be an industrious, reliable miner with a pleasant disposition, a man with whom it is always easy to get along. He has a wife and two children in the old country and a short time ago forwarded to them the money required to bring them to this country.

The vicinity of Essen No. 2 mine is said to be more thickly dotted with speakeasies than almost any other secion of Allegheny county. There are some who say there are not less than 40 of these dives in that locality, and every Sunday nearly every one of them is kept going full blast. The wonder is expressed that other serious affairs have not grown out of the Sunday carousals that are held.

HANNA GIVES UP HOPE OF CHANGE IN MINE STRIKE

Sympathies of Ohio Senator Go Out to Workers Struggling for Higher Pay.

J. P. MORGAN STANDS FIRM

Refused Early in Fight to Arbitrate and Has Not Changed—Bound to Be Long Struggle With Many Hardships.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Buffalo, Aug. 24.—United States Senator Marcus A. Hanna arrived in Buffalo today from Niagara Falls. He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Ruth Hanna, and her friend, Miss Phelps of Cleveland. They were on their way home to Cleveland from Niagara Falls. After a drive around the city they left for Cleveland tonight on the boat.

For the first time Senator Hanna stated the abandonment finally of all efforts to end the coal strike. He said it sorrowfully, for he believes the operators should meet the miners in arbitration.

"I have exhausted my efforts," said Senator Hanna. "I have done all in my power and can do no more. I will make no further attempt, for it would be useless."

He said there was no chance of arbitration so long as only one side, the miners, were willing to arbitrate. He gave it as his opinion that the miners will not give in so long as they are able to fight.

Fight Will Be Long.

"It will not be a short fight," said he. "It will be prolonged, and such prolongation will mean not only hardships for the miners and the women and children dependent on them, but it will have its effect on the American people. The longer this struggle continues the greater will be the increase in the price of coal."

He said he considered the refusal of the operators to arbitrate as final.

"I talked with Mr. Morgan before he went to Europe," continued the senator, "and before the strike was fully under way. He deplored the situation, but would take no active part toward a settlement. His attitude in my opinion is unchanged."

It was evident in every sentence of Senator Hanna's talk that his sympathies are with the miners, that he has given up hope of a peaceful settlement and views with sorrow the prolongation of the strike to the end that sems inevitable.

Mitchell Is Willing.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Aug. 24.—The committee from the Public Alliance of this city, which waited on Senators Quay and Penrose at Atlantic City last week and urged them to use their good offices to bring about arbitration in the coal strike, performed a like mission in this city today when they called on President Mitchell and requested him to co-operate with the Pennsylvania senators in bringing about a settlement of the strike.

Mr. Mitchell said he would do anything that was honorable to bring about an adjustment and he furnished the committee with some statistics of the strike from the miners' point of view, which were forwarded to Senator Quay tonight.

HAZLETON, PA., Aug. 24.—D. J. McCarthy, chairman, and Matthew Long and Harry Silverman, members of the executive committee of the Peoples Alliance of Hazleton, went to New York today to endeavor to put into operation some plan looking to a termination of the strike.

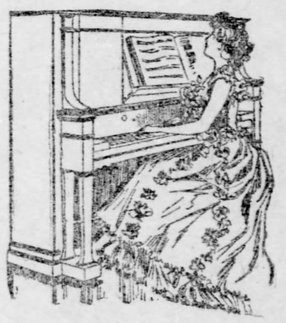
NEW STRAIGHTAWAY COURSE.

It Will Probably Be Built in Saratoga for Next Season's Races.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 24.—The current meeting at the Springs will be brought to a close Thursday. It has been a tremendous social, financial and racing success. Improvements will be made next year, but the most urgently needed improvement is a straightaway course for the great 2-year-old stakes to be run here in future years.

Announcement concerning plans looking to the acquisition of land for a straightaway have been expected daily. The great difficulty is in securing ground for the purpose that is not crossed by a road or a street.

Some valuable stakes remain to be run here in the next four days, including the Champlain, Albany and Saranac handicaps. If the weather could be depended on, a race between some of the best horses at a mile would be put on the program for the purpose of hanging up a new mile record. But the end of the meeting is so near at hand that it is almost hopeless to expect it now.



HOW TO SELECT A PIANO

Experience Not Necessary.

GRADY IS HERE FOR THE OPENING OF IRISH FAIR

Thinks That Democrats Have Little to Expect From Pennsylvania.

IS HOPEFUL OF NEW YORK

Of the Opinion That a Southern Man Will Be the Next Democratic Nominee for President—Senator Sullivan Will Arrive This Morning.

Senator Thomas F. Grady of New York, who is to make the principal speech at the opening of the Irish fair in Allegheny tonight, arrived in Pittsburgh last evening and is at Hotel Henry. He is accompanied by Col. M. C. Padden, private secretary to Senator Timothy D. Sullivan. The latter senator will reach here this morning.

The visitors were met at Union station last evening and driven to Hotel Henry. This morning the New Yorkers will be shown over Pittsburgh and Allegheny. The fair will be held in the Colosseum on the North Side. Early in the evening the speakers and members of the committee will leave Hotel Henry. There will be a unique parade, the procession moving along Fifth avenue to Market, to Sixth, to Federal street, Allegheny, to Ohio, to Western, to Allegheny avenue and into the grounds.

The Rev. Father F. J. McCabe, pastor of the Church of the Annunciation, will ride in the carriage with the New Yorkers. The subject of Senator Grady's speech will be "The Irish People in America."

Pennsylvania Not Democratic.

Senator Grady is one of the Democratic leaders in New York politics, and apparently keeps himself well posted on affairs in this state. He made some inquiries about the present situation. To his mind Democrats have little to expect from Pennsylvania. "It has been possible for our party to carry elections here for state officers," said he, "but I do not expect to see Pennsylvania in the Democratic column in a presidential year. A greater surprise could not be imagined. Pennsylvanians have received more benefit from a protective tariff than the people of any other state in the union. As a consequence they are firmly rooted in the Republican party.

"Over in New York we have a very high regard for Pittsburgh. There was a time years ago when Pittsburgh was a city of bankrupts. Merchants and financiers who wanted credit then were rigidly investigated, and if found to be fairly secure were given limited credit. Now it is different. If a merchant comes from Pittsburgh we know he is worthy of trust. So is with your financial institutions. Their paper is always good, it not even being necessary to make an investigation.

May Carry New York.

"The Democrats are hopeful of carrying New York this fall. We have an entire state ticket to elect. At present Bird S. Coler of New York is the most prominently mentioned candidate for the gubernatorial nomination. He has the backing of Senator Sullivan and that means much. I am inclined to the opinion, however, that an up-state man and not Coler will get the nomination. David B. Hill will control the Democratic state convention.

"The Republicans will renominate Gov. Odell. This is a foregone conclusion. I am satisfied that Odell and not Senator Thomas Platt is in control of Republican state politics. This was brought to my attention in a forceful manner the other day when I met a Republican who wants to be nominated for a state office. I asked him if Platt was for him. He replied that he did not care anything about Platt and would be thoroughly satisfied if Odell would declare for him. Odell appears to have captured the Republican organization.

Bryan Will Not Figure.

"While I supported W. J. Bryan in 1896 and 1900, he will not figure in the next presidential race. In my opinion the Democratic party will name a man from the south. Since the race question has been settled by state constitutional amendments, the south will be debatable ground. Senator Arthur P. Gorman of Maryland is enough of a southerner to satisfy southern sentiment. He is both a strong and a weak man, however. He is strong because he is far enough south to satisfy southerners, but is weak because he is not very decided on some important questions.

"Cleveland has a following of mugwumps. His friends are among those who pretend to have an abhorrence of politicians, but they take advantage of every opportunity to break into office. The issue in the next national campaign will be the trust. Incidentally the tariff will figure some, but it will not be the paramount issue."

Senator Grady says that the impression prevails in New York that if one pitches a stone into Pittsburgh, it will hit a millionaire. This is his first visit to this city.

W. P. GILLETTE DEAD.

Prominent New York Club Man and Veteran of Civil War.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—William P. Gillette died here today. He had been ill with typhoid fever. He was the son of the late Rev. Dr. Abram D. Gillette and was born in Philadelphia 55 years ago. When the civil war broke out he entered the service of the commissary department. He was present at many of the great battles of the war and was with Sherman on his march to the sea.

After the close of the war Mr. Gillette entered the service of the government at Washington. H was a member of the Colonial club and of the New York Athletic club. A brother, Walter R. Gillette, survives him.

STEUBENVILLE, O., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—The following are the dates of some of the coming fairs in Eastern Ohio: Tri-State fair at Steubenville, October 6, 7, 8 and 9; East Liverpool, October 13, 14, 15 and 16; Belmont county at St. Clairsville, August 27 to 29; Monroe county at Woodfield, September 2 to 4; Morgan county at McConnellsville, September 2 to 4; Muskingum county at Zanesville, September 9 to 12; Jefferson county at Smithfield, September 24 to 26; Harrison county at Cadiz, October 1 to 3; Cochocton county at Cochocton, October 1 to 10; Guernsey county at Washington, September 23 to 26; Noble county at Caldwell, August 26 and 27.

Killed in an Elevator.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Aug. 24.—Luke E. Ryan, connected with the Pettis Drygoods Company here, was killed this afternoon in an elevator of the Grand hotel. The body was mangled beyond recognition, being forced through a space five inches wide. The elevator has two entrances, the rear door having been left open. Mr. Ryan leaned back and was crushed instantly.

MANY WERE HURT IN THE FRACAS

HOMEWOOD BOARDING HOUSE WAS SCENE OF A DRUNKEN BRAWL.

One Man Was Stabbed, Another Beaten Into Insensibility and Half Dozen Others Injured in Various Ways. Neighbors Summoned Police.

One man was stabbed another beaten until insensible with a club, and half a dozen others badly used up during a free-for-all fight at an Italian boarding house in Beechwood boulevard near Homewood avenue at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The most seriously injured are:

EDWARD ANGULT, 35 years old, stabbed in the left side of the neck near the jugular vein.

PHILIP BONEY, 46 years old, scalp wound which it took eight stitches to close.

POMAN GOLLOCK, bad scalp wound.

All of the injured men reside where the fight occurred. They had a celebration at the boarding house yesterday at which large quantities of whisky and beer were consumed, and several times during the day there was hot fights among the participants.

About 4 o'clock the trouble was renewed and in a short time a general fight was in progress.

All kinds of weapons were used, including clubs, stones, knives and revolvers.

Angult was stabbed in the side of the neck by one of the party whose identity could not be learned, and Boney was put out of the fight by being knocked senseless with a heavy club.

Word was telephoned to the East End police station from a house in the vicinity and the patrol wagon with Lieut. Edward McPoland and half a dozen policemen was soon on the scene. They succeeded in arresting seven of the crowd, including Angult and Boney, and sent them to the station house.

Dr. A. E. McCandless was called to dress the wounds of Angult and Boney. It took eight stitches to sew up Boney's cut. The other persons registered as August Folla, Slavin Gealic, Slaven Poland, Mart Muster and Poman Tullock.

AMATEURS TO DRIVE.

Program Arranged for Special Events at Syracuse Harness Meet of Grand Circuit.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 24.—The program for the amateur races which will be on the cards of the grand circuit meeting at the state fair next month was announced today. There are eight of the events regularly named, besides some specials which will be pulled off on the last day.

No entrance fee will be charged for any amateur event. The races will be mile heats, best two in three, to four wheeled wagons. In all amateur races hoppies are barred. Four must enter to fill, three to start.

Entries for the amateur events close September 6. Matinee time made at the inter-city matinee meeting at Cleveland September 4 and 5 will not bar any horse. The amateur program is as follows:

Monday, September 8, number 1, for 2:09 pacers; number 2, for 2:25 trotters.

Tuesday, September 9, number 3, for 2:12 trotters; number 4, for 2:16 pacers.

Wednesday, September 10, number 5, for 2:21 trotters; number 6, for 2:16 trotters.

Thursday, September 11, number 7, for free for all pacers; number 8, for free for all trotters.

Friday, September 12, special events.

MOGUL BLOWS UP.

One Man Is Killed, Three Fatally Injured and One Seriously on Chicago & Alton.

MEXICO, MO., Aug. 24.—One man was killed, three fatally injured and one seriously hurt early this morning by the explosion of the boiler of a big mogul engine, drawing the first section of a Chicago & Alton train, 11 miles east of this city. The killed:

HARRY C. MARKWELL, brakeman, Slater, Mo.

Fatally injured:

M. J. STENSON, fireman, Slater, Mo.

L. C. SHALLENBERG, Slater, Mo.

J. T. M'MAHON, Springfield, Mo.

Seriously injured:

M. O. PAGE, Slater, Mo.

All the men were riding on the engine when the accident occurred. The boiler was blown 200 yards and nine cars were ditched.

WILLIAM FLEMING DEAD.

Prominent Resident of the Oil Country Passes Away in Cincinnati.

OIL CITY, Aug. 24.—William Fleming, aged 60, died suddenly in Cincinnati on Saturday evening and the body will be brought here Monday forenoon. He was one of the most prominent residents of the oil country. He came here at the close of the war and engaged in merchandising for two or three years and then followed oil operations in which he was markedly successful in the Butler and Bradford fields.

In 1886 he was made vice president and general manager of the Ohio Oil Company, holding that position until a few months ago, when he retired on account of ill health. Although not connected actively with the Standard he is financially interested in many of its interests. He is survived by his wife, three daughters and one son, all of Oil City.

LEASED BASEBALL PARK.

Rumor That National League Will Have Baltimore Team Next Year.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 24.—A well-defined rumor is in circulation tonight to the effect that the National baseball league has renewed the lease on the Union park baseball grounds for five years, and that bids are being received for the construction of a new grandstand.

It is said that this step is taken with a view of placing a National league team in this city next year. Agents of the property could not be seen tonight, and there are no National league representatives here to confirm the report.

WAS FINNERTY NOT JOYCE.

Identity of Dead Man Was Finally Settled.

The remains of Patrick Finnerty, who was killed on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad on August 16 near the Soho furnace, were exhumed yesterday morning in the potters field in the Highwood cemetery and identified by his daughter, May Finnerty of No. 72 Kerling street. This morning they will be interred at the Calvary cemetery.

The remains of Finnerty were interred at the potters field as those of Patrick Joyce of Forbes street. After Finnerty was injured and taken to Mercy hospital he said that his name was Patrick Joyce of that place. He became unconscious and died. Patrick Joyce also disappeared on the same day and as his relatives thought he had been killed they permitted the remains to be buried by the county. On Saturday Joyce returned home and Finnerty's family, learning this, thought the dead man was possibly their relative.

Big Improvements in Mexico.

TAMPICO, MEXICO, Aug. 24.—The city of Tampico, in conjunction with the state of Tamaulipas and the federal government, has completed arrangements for the construction of sewer and water works systems, and has appropriated $3,000,000 for general street improvements. The preliminary work has already been begun.

DUTCH ANGERED BY SLANDERS ON ROYAL FAMILY

Bishop Cortlandt Whitehead Says Reports Were Unfounded.

BACK FROM HIS LONG TRIP

Disappointed by Postponement of Coronation Ceremonies—Impressed by Mohammedan and Buddhist Visitors Praying for Edward.

The Rt. Rev. Cortlandt Whitehead, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Pittsburgh, returned to the city last week after an eight-weeks' vacation abroad, during which time he visited England, Holland and the Channel islands. He is in excellent health and stated last evening to a Gazette reporter that he felt very much benefited by the trip.

"I sailed from New York on June 1 on the Kronprinz Wilhelm," he said, "and the voyage was most enjoyable only it was too short, for we broke the record, making the crossing in about five and one-half days. I had about four weeks in London and expected to see the coronation parade and some of the festivities connected with it, but in this I was disappointed, owing to the illness of the king. It was a bitter disappointment to the English people to have the coronation postponed, but I believe that it has all been of great benefit to them inasmuch as the sympathy awakened for King Edward did much to bring them all closer together in their common love and respect for their sovereign.

Dutch Were Angry.

"I visited the Channel Islands as the guest of some friends, and also spent a little time on the continent, where I had a delightful time. I had about a week in Holland, and visited several of the principal cities.

"At The Hague I was pleased to hear a positive denial from a most responsible source, of the scandalous stories that have been sent abroad about the prince consort and Queen Wilhelmina.

"The people there are very much distressed that their royal family should be so slandered. The queen is generally beloved by all and they say that the stories about the prince consort are entirely without foundation. From my informant I learned that the scandal was circulated by a butler, or household servant, who had been discharged and took this means of obtaining revenge.

"I was the guest of the Bishop of London at his residence, where a number of the foreign representatives of the British empire were also guests, when the news of the king's illness was received.

Prayed for the King.

"I was very much impressed with the request of these Mohammedans and Buddhists, to be permitted to at once offer up prayers for his recovery. Their request was granted and rugs were brought out upon the lawn, upon which they grouped themselves in the form of a circle. One of their number read from a book, probably the Koran, and then they would, from time to time, prostrate themselves and bow low, chanting frequently their prayers. This continued for almost an hour and was most impressive and interesting.

"The miles and miles of stands erected for the coronation parade surprised me, as did the handsome decorations. The stands were massive affairs and were built with heavy timbers, such as are use to build bridges. I noticed that they were all tested, too, by a force of about 50 navees from the docks, in charge of an official, by mounting them in a body and jumping on them, or sitting down and jumping up again quickly to their feet, so that there could be no danger of their breaking under the weight of the crowd.

England Disappointed.

"I had been specially invited to attend the services at Westminster abbey, on the Thursday following the coronation, as I was not elegible to the coronation services, but of course, the service was postponed, like all the others.

"My visit abroad had no special significance. I went over simply for a vacation and a rest, and as I had been over before and had seen most of the sights, I did not fire myself out with hurrying about from one place to another, as one usually does upon the occasion of a first visit. However, I visited most of the places of interest during the four weeks I was in London and while I understood that there were a great many Americans and not a few Pittsburghers in London I only met four or five whom I knew.

"I returned to this country on August 1 and have since been in Maine and at Spring lake, consequently I feel in the best of health and thoroughly rested."

EXPLOSION IN A MILL.

Houses in Sharon Were Rocked by Force of Shock from a Furnace.

SHARON, PA., Aug. 24.—(Special)—Sharon was shaken from end to end this morning at 6:30 o'clock by five successive explosions that occurred at the National steel furnace north of town. The explosions were caused by the molten iron breaking out of the stack and running into the water around the hosh.

The shock was so great that houses were rocked as if by an earthquake, and many people living near the plant were thrown out of their beds. Great damage resulted to the furnace and as a result the stack has been forced to close down, and will have to be partially relined. A great hole was blown in the side of the furnace and the stock house was damaged.

Hays Has Not Heard.

MONTREAL, Aug. 24.—General Manager Hays of the Grand Trunk, who returned today from England, when asked regarding the report that he was to be appointed president of the road in succession to Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, said he had seen the report in the newspapers, but that was all he knew about it.

Cashier Kills Himself.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 24.—William B. Meadowcroft, cashier for the Pacific Express Company in Milwaukee, and formerly superintendent of the Northern Steamship Company at Buffalo, committed suicide today at the office of the company by shooting himself twice with a revolver. No reason is known for the deed.

Jumped From Train to Death.

HINTON, W. VA., Aug. 24.—James Vincent, aged 35, of Battle Creek, Mich., leaped from a train 10 miles east of here and was instantly killed, his neck being broken. He was a traveling man. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Religious Meeting Broken Up by a Mob; Negro Shoots a Contractor at Connellsville

EVANGELIST CAUSED RIOT

Religious Meeting Broken Up by a Mob in Maryland.

MANY ARRESTS ARE MADE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CUMBERLAND, MD., Aug. 24.—There was a riot last night at a religious meeting being held in a tent near Hagerstown by Evangelist Martin Luther Yeakle, caused by the outspoken manner in which the evangelist has been preaching.

The feeling grew so strong against the Rev. Mr. Yeakle that the authorities had to be appealed to and special officers provided. During the progress of the meeting several fights occurred outside the tent and several arrests were made.

In the meantime a large crowd collected and when they discovered that Cleveland Williams was furnishing the officers with the names of the disturbers of the meeting, they made a break for him. Williams sought shelter in the tent and in their desire to get a hold of him, the mob tore down the tent. This created a regular panic, several women fainting, and for a time the wildest scene ensued.

Here's a Job for Somebody.

WASHINGTON, PA., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—The position of ordinance officer in the borough created by council goes a begging. Policeman Enoch was elected to the place, but he refuses to accept. The officers claim that the job would make them persona non grata with citizens, and that the corporations and contractors who violate ordinances in the construction of their works will use their influence to defeat policemen for election.

Strike Declared Off.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Aug. 24.—The 600 employes of the Ashland sheet mill, who have been on strike for several months, will resume work at midnight. Concessions having been made on both sides, the strike was today declared off.

SEA GIRT READY FOR RIFLEMEN TO OPEN SHOOT

U. S. Marine Corps Team First to Arrive on the Scene of Action.

NEW MATCHES ARE ADDED

One Is Inter-Club, in Which Scores Will Be Made at Home Towns and Sent on for Decision—Entries Now in.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Sea Girt, N. J., Aug. 24.—Preparations are being made here for the interstate rifle and revolver shooting tournament which beings August 29. The range and butts have been practically rebuilt, and there are now 105 targets from 25 to 1,000 yards.

The entries so far received show that increased interest is being taken by the military authorities, both of the regular establishment and the national guard. The United States army will send three teams, one from each branch of the service. The war department has also detailed two officers to attend the meeting and report. There will be sent from the government arsenal at Springfield two experts to try out the new army rifle and representatives from the Frankford arsenal, where the government ammunition is made, will also be in attendance to observe the work of the government cartridges in comparison with those of other makes. Capt. Lossak is being sent by the ordnance department and several of the higher military officials from Washington will also be present as guests of the National Rifle association.

Marines First to Arrive.

The first rifle team to arrive is that of the United States marine corps under command of Major C. H. Lauchheimer. The good work being done by this team daily indicates that it will be formidable antagonists in the Hilton and interstate matches. In addition to the marine corps the following entries have been made in the big matches: United States army, three teams, District of Columbia, Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Maryland.

If records are not smashed in this match the predictions of experts will not be realized. Illinois, which had a good team together, was unfortunately unable to raise the funds necessary for its expenses.

In the regimental interstate match the entries to date are:

First regiment, D. C. N. G.; Twentieth regiment, D. C. N. G.; First regiment, N. G. N. J.; Second regiment, N. G. N. J.; Fourth regiment, N. G. N. J.; Fifth regiment infantry, M. N. G.; First regiment, N. G. Pa.; Second regiment, infantry, N. G. Pa.; Third, Sixth and Thirteenth regiments, N. G. Pa.; First regiment, U. S. Marine corps, two teams; Sixty-ninth regiment, N. G. N. Y.; Seventy-first regiment, N. G. N. Y.; First regiment heavy artillery, M. V. M.; Seventy-first regiment, Virginia volunteers; Twenty-third regiment, N. G. N. Y.

Team Shoot Entries.

As a rule the entries in a company team match are not made until the arrival on the grounds, but the following have signified their intentions of entering the match:

Company A, Third regiment infantry, N. G. Pa.; Companies A, B and C, U. S. marine corps; Company K, Third regiment infantry, N. G. Pa.; Company E, Sixth regiment infantry, N. G. Pa.; Company C, Fourth regiment infantry, N. G. N. J.; Company I, Eighth regiment infantry, M. V. M. This match will have at least 25 entries.

In the carbine match there will compete: United States army team; Squadron A, N. G. N. Y.; Pennsylvania squadron; First troop, P. C. C., N. G. Pa.; First troop, N. G. N. J.; signal corps, N. G. N. J.; Troop A, M. N. G.

The above organizations will also enter teams in the revolver team match, and in addition there will be teams from Light Battery A, M. V. M.; Fourth regiment, N. G. N. J.; First regiment, D. C. N. G.

There are several new matches this year which are attracting heavy entry lists. The National Rifle association has added two contests, the Leach cup and the Interclub. The former is for the cup presented in 1874 to American riflemen by Capt. Leach of the Irish international team. The match is for all comers at 800, 900 and 1,000 yards with sporting rifle. This cup has not been competed for since 1882.

All Over Country.

The interclub match is original, from the fact that it will be shot on home ranges by clubs throughout the United States the same day and hour as the match is shot at Sea Girt, Labor Day at 2 p. m. Clubs from Maine to California will compete and the targets shot at will be sent to Sea Girt for the judges to decide the winner.

The New Jersey Rifle association has added a Spencer match at 800 and 1,000 yards with military rifles, and the Reading match at 500 and 600 yards, for those who have never won a prize at Sea Girt.

THE POPE AND HIS TAILOR.

Good-Natured Pontiff Would Not Consent to His Dismissal.

Rome Sorrespondence Pall Mall Gazette.

Last Sunday Leo XIII. gave a kind of jubilee garden party to 1,500 of the poor of Rome, 50,000 spectators and his court au grand complete. For such a unique occasion the autocrat of the vatican (as he may be called) Pio Centra, the pope's private and confidential servant, announced that the pontiff must have a new set of robes. "But," protested Leo XIII. weakly, "I have a good set; I really do not require others." "Oh, yes," pronounced the autocrat, "you do; your others have a spot on them." The tailor was accordingly called, on a two days' notice, and promised faithfully that the clothes should be ready.

Saturday morning came, no robes! Saturday night, no robes! Sunday morning, no robes! And finally Sunday afternoon, and still no robes; Centra was in a whirlwind of rage and promised all kinds of things, mostly bad and indifferent, but still the pontiff was obliged to appear before his guests in a gown with a spot on it. Centra is keen for revenge on the recalcitrant tailor, but has not yet concocted the mode, as Leo XIII. will not hear of the man being dismissed. "What!" he exclaimed, "send him away after so many years' faithful service. And then, you know," he added slyly, "I did not want the gown." "That is so," ventured Centra, "but you will have to pay, all the same," he added grimly.

A Rope Descendant.

The fruit that grows on the genealogical tree is generally dry, but occasionally has a flavor of humor. A man applied to the Heralds' college for a coat-of-arms. In such a case it is pleasant to be able to borrow one from a celebrated ancestor. The man in question could not remember anything about his great-grandparents, and, therefore, of course, could not mention any achievement by them which could be used as the basis of a coat-of-arms. But the official to whom he applied was not easily discouraged.

"Have you not done something yourself?" he asked.

"Nothing, I fear," said the man, adding as a pathetic antithesis that once, having been locked in Ludgate prison for debt, he had found means to escape from an upper window.

"And how did you get down?"

"I got a cord, fixed it around the neck of King Lud's statue, and let myself down."

"Just the thing! There you have it—honor enough. Lineally descended from King Lud. His coat-of-arms is good enough for you!"

To Tommy's Taste.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer.

It was Tommy's first glass of soda water that he had been teasing for so long.

"Well, Tommy, how does it taste?" asked his father.

"Why," replied Tommy, with a puzzled face, "it tastes like your foot's asleep."

THREE INJURED IN FIGHT WITH KNIVES

Game of Cards Ends in Cutting Affray Near New Castle.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., Aug. 25.—Three men engaged in what may be a fatal fight over cards last night, and all were arrested this afternoon by Chief of Police Horner, County Detective McFate and Constable Hitt. The melee occurred near the water pumping station and knives figured prominently.

Thomas Masgrean charges Nastalla Diune with felonious assault and with intent to murder, and the latter's brother, James Diune, with assault and battery. Masgrean has two long gashes on his head, in addition to several severe cuts on his arms.

Nastalla Diune is also badly wounded and his jaw is broken. His brother is badly wounded. The prosecutor was arrested also and charges will likely be entered against him tomorrow by the two defendants.

REBUILDING ENGINE SHOPS.

Pennsylvania Railroad to Increase Locomotive Work's Capacity.

ALTOONA, PA., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—The Pennsylvania railroad has completed plans for the reconstruction of the Juniata locomotive shops east of this city, which will mean an increase in their capacity of about 50 per cent. The reconstruction work is already in progress and will be finished before the close of the year. All of the departments of the plant are being added to, and by the beginning of the coming year at least 500 additional men will find employment there.

One of the plans of the company contemplates the erection of a new frog and signal department. At present the signal work for the company is largely done by the Union Switch and Signal Company of Brushton. The increase in the capacity of the plant will mean that the new engine work done by the Baldwin locomotive works of Philadelphia will cease, the enlarged plant being able to take care of all the new work necessary for the Pennsylvania lines.

THREATENED TO LYNCH A NEGRO

Connellsville Contractor Is Shot by a Colored Employe.

THE WOUND IS SERIOUS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Aug. 24.—Dave Girard, a member of the contracting firm of Girard & Strawn, was shot through one leg by Robert Bruce, a negro hod-carrier in a Main street saloon here last night, and for awhile after the shooting Bruce's chances for being lynched were excellent. Only the fact that the wound was not fatal saved Bruce from the mob that quickly gathered.

Girard has been having considerable trouble with his men recently. Last night he quarreled with Bruce over the latter's wages, and Girard struck Bruce, knocking him down. Bruce went to a hardware store and bought a 38-caliber revolver and, returning in a few minutes, shot the contractor. Just as Bruce left the saloon he was arrested by Constables Stillwagon and Mitchell.

In the police station Bruce said: "It's only good luck that Girard isn't dead. I shot to kill and when he staggered I thought I had fixed him. That's what I intended to do."

Bruce was taken to jail at Uniontown today. Girard's wound is serious.

ATTACKED IN THE DARK.

Two Men Stabbed in a Mysterious Manner by Unknown Men.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—At 2 o'clock this morning while George Hickman and Walter Goodwin were leaving the home of Jane Caskins, they were attacked in a dark place by two unknown men who had evidently been waiting for them. Hickman was knocked down and stabbed. He was cut five times in the back, twice on the back of his head and twice in the breast. His lungs were penetrated twice and he will die. Goodwin prevented a fatal stab in the heart by throwing up his arms. He was cut in the neck and the jugular vein was missed by a hair's breadth.

Charles Puckley attempted to stop the affray and was cut across the forehead from one ear to the other. The assailants got away without being discovered. No cause is known for the attack.

TRAVELING SALESMAN KILLED.

Fell from a Train and May Have Been a Suicide.

HINTON, W. VA., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—John Vincent, apparently 35 years old, whose home is supposed to have been in Battle Creek, Mich., either jumped or fell from No. 8 Chesapeake & Ohio passenger train 10 miles east of Hinton, and when picked up was dead. His neck had been broken.

From all appearances he was a traveling salesman but no papers were found on his person, save a note stating that his name was John Vincent and that if anything happened to him to notify his father, P. J. Vincent, Battle Creek, Mich. This leads many to believe that it was a case of suicide. He had but little money on his person. A coroner's jury, empanneled soon after theh occurrence, rendered a verdict of death from accident. His father has been notified.

Fatally Hurt at Ball Game.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—John Griffith, living opposite here in Ohio, was watching a game of ball this afternoon when a bat slipped from the hands of a player striking him on the head and fracturing his skull. Physicians pronounce his case hopeless, as he is yet unconscious. He is the son of a wealthy farmer.

SKATES OVER THE SEA.

A Marvelous Boat to Break World-Girdling Records.

A Vienna dispatch to the London Express says:

An Austrian engineer of note, Herr Wetkovic, has invented a new type of ship, which he claims will be capable of traveling at lightning speed.

Herr Wetkovic declares that when perfected it will enable a journey round the world to be made in a week. The ship does not displace water, but glides over the surface like a skate over ice. Ingenious contrivances are constructed to minimize friction and air pressure.

Experiments will begin shortly in the Adriatic sea, and Herr Wetkovic confidently asserts that the world will be astonished.

The Chauncey

Favorite Home Piano

Three things contribute to making the Chauncey the great home piano. First, its wonderful sweetness of tone; second its remarkable durability; third, its moderate cost. This rare combination of desirable qualities makes it the home piano par excellence. It is especially popular in families where the children practice a great deal.

The price of the Chauncey brings it within everybody's reach.

STONE HAS PLAN TO BREAK LINES OF FUSIONISTS

Tells Machine Leaders They Should Get a Straight Democratic Ticket.

MAY HELP COUNTY FIGHT

Governor Is Said to Be Anxious to Save the Court House to the Machine—How Guthrie May Cause Trouble.

Machine men are discussing the plan of Gov. W. A. Stone to help the old organization's local candidates. The executive is in favor of putting up a straight Democratic ticket in order to break the strength of the fusionists.

Gov. Stone says he is out of politics, but he is showing a lively interest in the fight in Allegheny county this fall. He wants to see the machine save the courthouse. If this can be done the friends of Stone would still have a foothold in local politics and there might be a possible future for the author of the postscript.

Stone has had several talks with old organization leaders at Atlantic City this summer. In each instance he has urged the necessity of a straight Democratic ticket as the best means of breaking in on the strength of the fusionists. In his opinion there can be enough dissension caused in the ranks of the Democracy to make the polling of a large vote for the straight ticket possible.

Hints at Stone's Plan.

In the last few days there have been several hints from the machine men that it is the intention to get a straight Democratic ticket. It does not take a great many people to nominate a ticket. There are enough Democrats in the employ of the city and county to carry out the idea of the governor. It is the intention to put the Democrats who are now on the Citizen ticket into this new party. These five men may refuse to allow the use of their names or they may take the position that it is votes they need, and not interfere with the Stone plan of "averting the deluge."

The "straight" ticket would have to have Pattison, Guthrie and Nolan at the head. If Guthrie adheres to his often expressed determination not to do anything which would interfere with the success of the Citizens ticket, he might not allow the use of his name. This would greatly hamper the Stone plan. Any dissatisfaction that may exist in the Democratic party in this county is not caused by the presence of Guthrie as a candidate. The Democrats all appear to favor him and few would support a ticket he would refuse to go on.

Concentrate Their Forces.

Stone is said to have advised machine leaders to give up trying to put through the entire organization ticket, and concentrate forces to elect the county candidates or probably a number of them. This action does not meet with favor from the machine men, as they think it is better to make a fight for the whole ticket.

It was at first thought that the Stone plan of naming a straight ticket could not be carried out, as it would allow candidates to appear in more than two columns on the ballot. This is held by the act of 1897 to be illegal. A decision has been found, however, that sets this act of the legislature aside. Judge Simonton has ruled that the provision conflicts with several fundamental provisions of the Baker ballot law. He says it furnishes the secretary of the commonwealth with no rule to govern his choice among certificates of nomination containing the same names, compelling him to act arbitrarily.

Martin Men Will Fight.

The Dauphin county courts will have to decide whether the Martin or the Boyle Democratic convention in the Third legislative district is the regular one. The Boyle faction indorsed the Citizens candidate for assembly. The followers of Martin have nominated O. K. Gardener, Thirteenth ward, and John Whitney, Eleventh ward. They are both Democrats, while the Citizens candidates are Republicans. The Gardener-Whitney certificate of nomination will be filed at Harrisburg today.

W. J. Brennen is to be home today, and will appoint a committee to decide whether or not the Citizens congressional candidates are to be indorsed. According to the agreement, the Democrats are in honor bound to indorse. Effort will be made by opponents of the fusion ticket to have the committee not take action. This would leave the Democrats without congressional candidates and deprive the Citizens nominees for that office of the benefit of the Democratic column.

Orders Murderers of Two Missionaries to Be Punished—Superstition Cause of Tragedy.

PEKING, Aug. 24.—An edict has been issued ordering the murderers of an English missionary named, Lewis and an Australian missionary named Bruce to be punished. The crimes were committed at Chen Chou, in Hu Nan province. The government expressed deep regret at the occurrence and promises to make reparation.

It is reported that the murders were an outcome of an outburst of superstitious frenzy on the part of the populace based upon the idea that the missionaries in question had caused an epidemic of cholera, which is raging at Chen Chou, by poisoning drinking water.

The men wrecked the mission building and murdered the missionaries, who had but recently arrived at Chen Chou, where they were cordially welcomed.

COAXED ON BOAT.

Three Little McKeesport Girls Were Abandoned Here.

Officer Edward Kennelly found three little girls on the Monongahela wharf at 11 o'clock last night, who had just gotten off a boat that came from McKeesport. They were Katie and Mary Murray, aged 11 and 9 years, and Bridget McKinley, aged 12. They all claimed to live at No. 105 Market street, McKeesport, and said Chief of Police Morrisey was their uncle. They were induced to get on the boat, when it stopped at McKeesport last evening by a man whom they did not know, and who abandoned them when the boat got to the city. They were dressed in their Sunday clothes, but without hats. The matron at Central station took charge of them for the night.

IMPORTANT FINAL ORDERS FOR THE BIG LABOR DAY DEMONSTRATION WERE GIVEN OUT YESTERDAY.

The Labor Day officials are working hard to complete final arrangements for the big demonstration next Monday. The accompanying picture was caught by the camera of a Gazette staff photographer yesterday as Chief Marshal Alexander Hunter was reading his orders to his chief of staff, adjutant general and several of the division marshals, their chiefs of staff and adjutants. Standing back of Chief Marshal Hunter is John Fernau, secretary of the general Labor Day committee, engaged in making a few notations. Next to the chief marshal the officers are sitting in the following order: L. J. Selzer, chief of staff; Charles Winslow, adjutant general; L. L. Prichard, marshal of the second division; A. A. Ainsworth, chief of staff of the third division; Milton Chapin, marshal of the third division. In the rear are W. F. McCoy, chief of staff of the second division; George Miller, adjutant of the second division, and J. F. Smith, adjutant of the third division.

ITALIAN'S SHOT FATAL TO THIEF

WILLIAM MOSBY DIED OF HIS WOUNDS YESTERDAY MORNING.

Raffalo Mazorano, Who Put Two Bullet's Into Negro as He Was Breaking Into House Held for Inquest Today. $1,800 Was Stolen.

William Mosby, who was shot by Raffalo Mazarona while trying to enter the house of the latter at No. 1027 Webster avenue early Saturday morning, died at the Mercy hospital of his wounds yesterday morning shortly after 6 o'clock. When he was admitted to the hospital the physicians pronounced his case a hopeless one, and he sank slowly until he died. Mosby is practically unknown in this city. The detectives are certain that he was a professional burglar.

His body was removed to the morgue and was identified by his wife, Lottie Mosby, of No. 1012 Bedford avenue. Dr. Walter A. McCandless held a post mortem examination of the remains and they were turned over to his wife. Mazorano is still in the Central police station, and this morning he will be brought before a coroner's jury.

Detectives George H. Waggoner and Richard Kelly worked all day trying to learn something of the dead colored man. It is supposed that he is the man who has been robbing the Italian boarding houses in Webster avenue during the last month.

Two Bullets Hit Him.

Mosby was in the act of entering Mazorano's room when he was seen, and the Italian fruit dealer drew his revolver from under his pillow and fired three times at him.

Two of these shots took effect. One in the abdomen and the other in the shoulder. At the hospital he refused to tell the detectives much about himself.

He had a most novel way of robbing houses. With a long pole with a hook attached he would reach into the rooms and pull out the clothing of the sleeping inmates. He easily filled the pockets and left the clothing. It is said there was almost $1,800 taken from the Italian boarding houses this summer.

His wife was unable to tell the detectives much about him yesterday. She said that she met him four years ago at Youngstown, O., and they were married by an alderman there. Mosby was 29 years old. She says they came to this city about five months ago. At first they took up their residence in Poplar alley.

Little Learned About Him.

Two months ago they moved to their present quarters at No. 1012 Bedford avenue. He had no trade or steady employment. When asked yesterday if he had worked recently, Mrs. Mosby said that he had not. According to her the dead man worked for Booth & Flinn for a short time and for a brief period was employed by a furniture company in Grant street.

She claims that he told her that his home was in North Carolina. His wife says that she never knew of him hearing from his relations there. She also acknowledges that he often remained out late at night, but refused to admit that she knew what he was doing.

On the night he was shot he left the house at midnight. She went to a friend's house at No. 32 Poplar alley and remained there until daylight. Mrs. Alice Winslow, at No. 55 Fulton street, who is Mosby's sister-in-law, claims she knows little or nothing about the dead man.

When seen yesterday she said: "If he was out stealing he ought to have been shot."

William Best Put Up Game Fight Against Three Highwaymen.

POLICE ARE ON THE TRAIL

Wounded Man Was Found By Farmer and Brought to South Side Hospital—Footpads Infest Vicinity and Best Furnished Police Clue.

William Best of Hope Church is now lying in the South Side hospital seriously wounded, as the result of a battle he had with three highwaymen Saturday evening. He broke away from two of his assailants, only to run into a burly negro with a revolver, who shot him in the hip. After the footpads had gone through his clothes and robbed him of a pay envelope he was left lying bleeding in the middle of the road, being afterward discovered by the neighbors.

Best is 20 years old and a laborer. On Saturday he drew his pay and was walking toward his home at Hope Church, Mifflin township, when he was accosted by two Italians who inquired where the road led to. As Best was explaining to them they suddenly grabbed him and attempted to rob him.

After a desperate fight he escaped from them and ran down the road. He had gone but a few rods when he was confronted by a big negro with a drawn revolver. Best attempted to push him aside and get by, but the negro deliberately shot him, the bullet hitting him in the hip and rendering him helpless.

As he lay bleeding and groaning on the ground in the road the trio of robbers went through his clothes and took his pay envelope, containing $28 65, and, rolling him over, fled leaving him helpless in the roadway.

At the spot where the attack occurred was a secluded one and Best was unable to move on account of his wound, he lay there for some time before some of the neighbors happened along and found him.

He was carried into the nearest farm house and a physician was summoned, who ordered him taken to the hospital, and one of the farmers drove him to the South Side institution in his buggy. The surgeons there tried to locate the bullet in his thigh, but could not do so.

Police Inspector William McShane went to the hospital and secured a good description of the highwaymen from the wounded man, and the police are after them.

Highway robberies have been of rather frequent occurrence in that section, as well as in the two cities and the surrounding boroughs, and it is believed that three or four organized gangs are at work. Many of their victims have been foreigners, employed in the mines and mills, and have been unable to give the police anything tangible to work on. The descriptions furnished by Best may lead to the arrest of the robbers.

PITTSBURGH IS NOT IN THE COMBINATION

Two Largest Malleable Iron Concerns in City Know Nothing of Merger.

Pittsburgh will probably have a very little part in the proposed consolidation of the malleable foundry interests, now being promoted by John A. Penton of Detroit, secretary of the National Founders' association. Officers of the two largest malleable concerns of Pittsburgh, the McConway & Torley Company and the Pittsburgh Malleable Company, said that they had done nothing toward participating in the deal. The Pittsburgh Malleable Iron Company officials have been negotiating with Penton in the matter, but have no information as to how near to completion the deal is.

President W. H. Schoen of the Pittsburgh company, and Secretary S. C. Mason of the McConway & Torley Company both said that their interests have given no options and are not considering offers. Frank Moore, president of the Pittsburgh Malleable Iron Company, said that Penton had undertaken the deal about a year ago, adding that he had no information as to its progress and knew nothing of the scope of plans.

There are malleable concerns of more or less importance scattered throughout the country and the promoter has a large task before him. The attitude of the two largest Pittsburgh concerns indicates something of this.

Telephone Without Wires.

CAUGHT IN A TRAP OF FLAMING OIL

TWO MEN AT SPANG-CHALFANT MILL SEVERELY BURNED.

Most Peculiar Accident Happened to Stephen Foley and His Italian Helper as They Were Cleaning a Boiler. Terrific Explosion Shook Things.

An explosion occurred yesterday afternoon at the Spang-Chalfant mill in Etna which resulted in the serious injury of two employes of the company. They are: STEPHEN FOLEY, terribly burned about the body. Lives in West Etna. He was removed to the West Penn hospital.

UNKNOWN ITALIAN, burned about the head and body. He was removed to his home in West Etna.

The accident was caused in a peculiar manner. Foley had been working in a boiler, cleaning it out, and, as is the custom, used considerable oil in the operation. He had almost finished his task when the Italian helper, not knowing the terrible results that would follow, took a lighted torch into the boiler.

Without warning a terrific explosion followed, which was heard in Etna proper. People who heard the report expected to hear of a more terrible catastrophe. The men were carried from their flaming prison by comrades who were working near. Their sufferings were terrible.

It is supposed that considerable gas was generated in the boiler from the oil and that this caused the explosion. The oil then became ignited and the burning of the men resulted.

ATLANTIC CITY.

Senator Quay Discusses Politics With Leaders From Clearfield County—At the Hotels.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—The callers at the Quay cottage today included the following prominent citizens of Clearfield county: J. H. Schoonover, Charles E. Patton and C. S. Russell of Phillipsburg, and Charles D. Anes of Kylertown, all of whom are politicians as well as business men. These visitors were in conference with Senator Quay for two hours and it is presumed that the political situation in Clearfield county was the subject under discussion. Senator Quay would not say anything regarding the meeting with the Clearfield men, and the latter were equally reticent.

Still Another Record Broken.

Reports from the railroad companies show that approximately 75,000 passengers were brought into this city today and Saturday. This is about 15,000 more than were brought here on the preceding Saturday and Sunday, and those days were record-breakers so far as Atlantic City crowds are concerned.

CONFIDENT OF WINDOW GLASS HARMONY DEAL

Federation Concern Said to Have Met Conditions by Merging 700 Pots.

ANOTHER MEETING SOON

Sharp Price Advance Looked For. Some Blowing Machine Enterprises Are Tied Up On Infringement Claims Before Commissioner.

Leading window glass manufacturers spoken to yesterday express extreme confidence that the harmony deal of the American and Federation Window Glass companies and the Independent Glass Company will be carried out. A meeting is likely to be held in Pittsburgh within the next 10 days to close a new agreement on prices and the length of the factory fire, which the American and Federation interests have been fighting to make a short one so as to curtail the output and prevent recurrence of the overproduction which now exists.

It is said that no definite arrangements for the meeting have yet been made. Whether it results in the completion of the harmony deal or not, there will be a conference with jobbers to arrange a new joint contract for something like 500,000 boxes of glass. This will be sold only at a sharp advance on the price of the last big contract.

Have Been Moving Prices Up.

The jobbers have been gradually moving prices up as their stocks are becoming short. The last discounts of the jobbers were 90 per cent off in carlots, and 88 and 5 per cent off in less than carlots. In lots of 2,500 boxes and more, slightly lower prices are offered.

Soon after the harmony conference of the producing interests at Atlantic City, fires which had been started in factories controlled by the Independent Glass Company at Smethport, Kane and other mountain towns of this state, and at Vincennes and one other point in the Indiana gas belt, were drawn.

The fires were started under the assurance that the individual owners of the factories of the Independent company would be supplied with wage scales renewing the last fire's highest wages with additional 15 per cent to the cutters' pay. There had also been anticipation that the Independent company would either be dissolved or reorganized.

Re-Organization Deal in Abeyance.

The re-organization deal is now in abeyance pending the expiration of the 30 days in which the Federation company is to bring factories operating 700 pots into its selling agency agreement, with a forfeiture clause of $500 a pot. At the time of the Atlantic City meeting it was short 140 pots and now these are said to have been secured. It is asserted that the Independent Glass Company interests are to receive a consideration either in the proportioning of business when the fires are started, or by other means, for the business lost through the delay of the proposed early start.

Under the provisional agreement made at Atlantic City, none of the parties concerned can start their fires before September 15, and this will mean no start of any number of factories before October 7. Some of the concerns outside of the three big companies are starting fires and arranging for a start in September. The number of these, operating about 100 pots, will not prove a disturber in the harmony scheme.

Not Yet Sure About Blowing Machines.

The American Window Glass Company is said to be equipped with blowing machines. The trade is not satisfied that there is absolute assurance of the commercial success of the machine, contending that the American company, which will control the machine would not in this case be so anxious for a harmony deal. Changes are being made in the mechanism of the machine, which is said not yet to have passed the experimental stage.

Another window glass blowing machine, the invention of Philip Ebling, of Moundsville, W. Va., is being experimented with at the Bellaire Bottle works, Bellaire, O. It is said that the machine takes up the glass from the pot and blows it into cylinders, the first experiment with it having produced rollers from six to 15 feet long. The syndicate, owing to the patents, include the inventor, George W. Yost, Sebastian Weimer, Conrad Rumbach, Daniel Colbert and Charles Donner, of Bellaire.

Rush to Secure Patents.

A rush to secure patents for several glass-blowing machines has brought about a number of infringement cases before the United States patent commissioner. Infringement is alleged in the case of a patent asked by M. J. Owens, of Toledo, for a narrow-neck bottle.

The machine is said to be an infringement on a general blowing device of John J. Powers, which, it is claimed, will produce window glass, and may be applied to most any other blown article. Powers is said to be ready to form a $10,000,000 company, but the patent litigation will delay this at least a year. Others have made counter claims of infringement.

SUICIDE OF ENSIGN.

Frederick R. Holman Jumps Overboard from Refrigerator Ship Celtic.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The death of Ensign Frederick R. Holman of the navy on August 13 aboard the Celtic, while on the way from Manila to Sydney, Australia, is reported in a dispatch received at the navy department today from Capt. Speyers.

The Celtic is a refrigerator ship and presumably was on her way from Manila to Sydney to obtain provisions for the army and navy in the Philippines.

According to the dispatch Holman met his death by jumping overboard. His act was presumably due to ill health. He was a native of Colorado, and was appointed to the navy from Iowa in 1893. His father, in New York city, has been notified of his death.

NEWPORT'S BUSY SUNDAY.

Chief Event Luncheon in Honor of Duchess of Marlborough.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—Newport had one of the gayest and the busiest Sundays in all its history today. The first day of the closing week of the lawn tennis tournament and of the series of polo matches is always the liveliest of the summer because of the many guests who come to the cottages from all points of the country, particularly for the sporting season, as it is well termed, but in addition to this the visit of the president attracted thousands of excursionists, and the presence of the Duchess of Marlborough was naturally the cause of a little extra impetus to the social whirl.

The principal social event of the day was a luncheon that Mr. and Mrs. Pembroke Jones gave aboard the yacht Narada for the Duchess of Marlborough.

ANOTHER SYSTEM TO PURIFY WATER

ENGINEER SAYS HE ORIGINATED ELECTRICAL FILTRATION.

City Had Plans for It Several Years Ago, But It Was Never Given Practical Test—Pittsburgh and New York Men to Try It.

The necessity of water purification in Pittsburgh and Allegheny is attracting the attention of electrical engineers generally, and several methods have been suggested to the officials of the two cities, by which it is claimed that the pure water so badly needed may be obtained by cheap and simple electrical process.

George W. Frazier of No. 1337 Sheffield street, Allegheny, who has been working on the idea of electrical water purification since 1898, and has several patents upon which he is still improving, says he is the originator of this system. A few years ago he made an effort to have his invention tested at the Highland reservoir, submitting the plans to the city authorities, but while the scheme was looked upon with favor, the matter was not given the practical test. These plans are still in the possession of the city, and the recent developments, occasioned by the test of other electrical systems, have awakened a new interest in Mr. Frazier's patent. In speaking of his system yesterday, Mr. Frazier said:

"I expect to have an experiment or test made on a practical scale of my device by certain New York and Pittsburgh capitalists in a very short time. It is simply a device for the passing of river water under pressure through finely perforated metal plates, or screens, charged with an electrical current of high voltage, which will precipitate any foreign matter and destroy all microbes, and the precipitated vegetable and organic matter is rapidly and completely separated from the pure water by means of a new reversible filtering process. This will render any water, no mattter how polluted it may be, absolutely pure for drinking and for use in steam boilers.

"I have been working for some time upon several improvements upon patents I have already registered on this system, and I do not care to make public any further particulars until the proposed test has been made; but I feel confident that the plan will give the people of Pittsburgh a pure water system far better than the proposed sand filtration scheme, at a very moderate cost."

Mr. Frazier is the patentee of the Frazier recuperative storage battery, in use on trolley cars, automobiles and other heavy vehicles. He has a shop in the rear of his residence, where he conducts his experiments. He is a man of known reputation as an electrical engineer, and his new plan for the purification of water, in the opinion of those who have examined it, is entitled to consideration.

CHAUTAUQUA.

Amphitheater Filled Last Sunday of Season—Sermon by "Ralph Connor."

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—This glorious Chautauqua Sabbath day has been marked by two memorable facts, the presence of the largest audience in the last Sunday of the season in the history of the assembly and the addresses of two such noted men as Bishop John Walden, of the Methodist Episcopal church, and the Rev. Charles W. Gordon, better known to the world at large as "Ralph Connor," the author of "Black Rock" and "Sky Pilot."

The amphitheater was filled, which is a thing heretofore unheard of at the very end of the summer program. The morning sermon was given by the Rev. Mr. Gordon, and he showed in his sermon the frank fearlessness that characterizes his principal characters in the two stories that have made him famous. His subject was the methods and motives of Christian work, and in the course of the sermon he took occasion to confess for himself and for his ministerial brethren that a great deal of the failure in church work was due to church self-interest. He said:

"Let us be frank to own it to each other and to God, and with shame, we want to make our church big," he said, "we want to make our church 'successful.' The thought of self is there, and we get indignant with people and begin to fulminate against people who will not come and help us with our church. But when the memory of what Christ has done for him comes to a man, stirring within him a great passion of gratitude, it will make him forget self and the thought of church or of self will not occur to him. He will think of men and of the Master and will try to bring them together.

"The church is here to give things to men. It is God's almoner of His grace. It is not to limit or take from men, but to extend and bestow. When Christ came into the world His whole career, wherever He went, was a career bestowing gifts. Those in need of any kind of giving, where He touched them He supplied their needs. Over and over again the history of the Christian church emphasizes this as true.

"If you are going to win men to Christ you just come with something to enrich them. You cannot barter with him or cajole him into the kingdom; you must discover some way to put into his poor heart some gift of God that came through Jesus Christ."

TAFT ON STAND, SAYS FILIPINOS ARE BEING GOOD

Governor is Called as Witness in Freedom Sedition Cases at Manila.

HE RESUMES HIS OFFICE

Ten Members of Native Constabulary Ambushed By 60 Ladrones, and One is Killed—Official Statistics On Cholera Epidemic.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Manila, Aug. 24.—The defense in the Freedom sedition case has called Gov. Taft as a witness to show that many former insurgent leaders who were guilty of various offenses not recognized by the laws of war have been appointed to civil positions.

Gov. Taft gave testimony to the effect that many such former insurgents had been appointed, but that they had proved honest, straightforward and earnest. He said that some of them had been guilty of murder from American standards, but that from their own standpoint they undoubtedly believed their conduct of the war to have been legitimate. Gov. Taft said that he had found these appointees to be loyal, and that they were not chosen because they happened to be insurgent generals, but because they were men of influence among their own people. He said the experience of the civil authorities with these men had been most satisfactory.

Gov. Taft has resumed the governorship of the archipelago, relieving Luke E. Wright, who has been acting governor during Judge Taft's absence. Commissioner Wright is preparing to visit the United States.

Mrs. Chaffee, wife of Gen. Chaffee, who has been seriously ill for the past week, is now improving and is now out of danger.

Ten members of the native constabulary were ambushed last Tuesday at a point near Magdalena, in the province of Sorsogon, Luzon, by a band of 60 Ladrones. The latter were armed with rifles and bolos and a desperate fight at close range took place. One member of the constabulary was killed, two were wounded and three were captured. The constabulary has taken the field in pursuit of the Ladrones.

Official cholera statistics show a total up to date of 25,664 cases and 18,040 deaths. The actual number of cases and deaths is greatly in excess of the official reports. In Manila there was but eight cases reported last Saturday. In some of the provinces of Luzon the cholera situation is bad, 414 cases and 317 deaths being reported from the province of Ilocos Fort last Saturday.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL.

Man Run Down By Carriage Suffers Much—Driver Fined for Reckless Driving.

Harry Freeman, who was run over by a carriage at Fifth avenue and Market street Saturday evening, was taken to the Homeopathic hospital yesterday suffering greatly of his injuries.

Daniel Wesling of Knoxville, the driver, was arrested by Detectives William Elmore and Charles McGovern on a charge of reckless driving, fined $5 by Alderman D. J. McGarey yesterday morning and dismissed. He agreed before leaving the police station, however, to aid Freeman if he was seriously injured.

Freeman lives in Newark, O., and has been in this city for several weeks. He had just secured employment when the accident happened. He was recently discharged from the United States regular army, having served in the Philippines for three years. He was boarding at No. 10 McMaster's way. He is 24 years old.

Heartburn and Dyspepsia can generally be cured with Dr. D. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge.

A MEAN MAN ROBBED SHARPSBURG NEWSBOYS

One of the meanest men on earth made his appearance in Sharpsburg yesterday. He operated as a highway robber, and newsboys were his victims. He is described as a man aged about 30 years. He wore a blue serge coat and light trousers and a Panama hat. He walked up to a newsboy named Thomas Fitzpatrick and asked him how much money he had made during the morning. The lad replied by reaching into his pocket and taking out all his earnings, $1 50. The man grabbed the boy's arm and took the money away. He did the same with two other boys, Ellis Hunt and Daniel Sullivan, getting amounts ranging from one to two dollars. Then he rapidly made his way back toward Pittsburgh.

Struck by a Street Car—Mrs. Mary Jusett of Crawford street was struck by car No. 484 of the Center avenue line, at Center avenue and Reed street at 8 o'clock last night and cut about the head and face. She was taken to her home. Her injuries are not considered serious.

Row in a Boarding House—A fight in a Slavish boarding house at No. 19 Peirce street, Allegheny, kept by Lisko Washinski, yesterday, resulted in the arrest of the proprietor and John Siscoch, a boarder. Siscoch had his head cut with a beer bottle and Washinski had his nose banged.

Bold Daylight Robbery—The residence of Alexander Foster, in Ayer street, Wilkinsburg, was robbed yesterday afternoon while the family was away. A watch and guard, a pocketbook containing several checks, and a new suit of clothes were taken. The thief then took time to blacken his shoes.

Circus Wagon Ran Over Him—Honey Troiangelo, aged 10 years, of No. 7228 Hamilton avenue, is at his home with a broken leg, sustained at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon by being run over by a circus wagon in front of his home. Dr. F. S. Van Kirk, who is attending the boy, fears he is hurt internally.

Loose Brake Caused Smash-Up—Late Saturday night the brake of an empty freight car on the Pittsburgh & Western tracks at the foot of Page street, Allegheny, became loosened in some manner and the car ran into a shifter about 200 yards down the track, wrecking both the car and the shifter. No one was injured.

Landed His Roommates in Jail—Phillip McGowan and Michael Dougher were committed to jail yesterday, in default of $500 bail each, by Justice L. F. Holtzman of Braddock, charged with larceny by John Richard. The three men roomed together and Richard missed a sum of money which he accused the others of taking.

Conscience Money Sent—According to a report received from Monongahela some unknown resident of Wilkinsburg has been sending conscience money to H. Lenderfield of the former place. The remittance was for $20. Written on a piece of paper which was folded around the money was the single sentence, "Conscience money." The letter was signed "A. Benedict."

Death Followed Carelessness—Guiseppe Autonia Mazzocco, a 17-year-old boy who was run over by a Second avenue car at Greenfield avenue Saturday evening, died at Mercy hospital yesterday morning. He lived at No. 237 Forward avenue. He jumped off a wagon and ran in front of a car, which cut off his left leg below the knee and crushed the right leg above the knee.

Dog Did Not Get a Bath—Peter Landefeld and Charles Williams, business men of Esplen, went to the Ohio river bank yesterday morning to wash a dog. The animal objected to the bath and tried to get away. Landefeld, in grabbing for the dog, slipped, knocking Williams into the water. Williams was almost drowned when dragged out. The dog made good his escape.

Tripped by Cattle Stealers—Robert Givens of McKees Rocks tethers his cow in a vacant lot near his home. He heard an unusual noise early Sunday morning and got up to investigate. He saw two men trying to lead the cow away. He started in pursuit and had almost reached the men when one of them stopped quick and tripped Givens up. He fell on his face, breaking his nose.

Commotion in Stowe Township—Mrs. Harry Dupre of Singer avenue, Stowe township, was awakened early yesterday morning by someone trying to raise a rear window. She ran into the street in her night robe and aroused the neighborhood. Her ghostly appearance so startled an intoxicated individual homeward bound that he fell in a faint. He was immediately pounced upon as the burglar and by the time the matter was straightened out the real robber got away.

He Missed the Ball Game—John Muliany, aged 15 years, who says his home is at Cresson, is detained at the Allegheny central station as a runaway. He says he started last Saturday morning to attend a baseball game in Johnstown, but went to sleep on the train and was brought to Pittsburgh. Saturday night, the boy says, he slept in an open field back of Allegheny. Yesterday afternoon he went to No. 15 engine house, in the Eleventh ward, and asked for something to eat. The firemen sent him to central station.

Will Relieve Congestion—The addition for smallpox patients at the Municipal hospital will be ready for use on Wednesday. There will be 100 iron beds in the place and modern facilities for properly caring for the patients will be part of the equipment. While there is but one bath tub in the present building the new addition will have 14, so that convalescents may enjoy the luxury as frequently as they desire. In other respects the new building will be thoroughly modern in every respect in anticipation of an epidemic of the disease the coming winter.

CRIES OF MURDER DISTURBED PENN AVENUE PEOPLE

Policeman Delahanty Was Kept Busy Going to the Rescue of Women.

MANY ASSAULT CASES

Resume of Hearings Held by Police Magistrates Yesterday Shows Much Variety—Keepers of Disorderly Houses and Visitors Fined.

Police Officer James Delahanty Saturday night arrested at different hours two colored men who, by threatening to kill two colored women, caused the streets to ring with the women's cries of distress. The first man arrested was Andrew Johnson. He had left a Twenty-ninth street drinking resort with Lizzie Rodgers, when he toppled her over into the gutter with a couple of vicious blows.

After committing the assault Johnson ran, but Delahanty heard the woman's cries of "Murder" and "Help" started after the fugitive, and captured him after a struggle.

Johnson had hardly been sent to the police station when the air rang with another woman's screams, and the officer hurried to Thirtieth street and Penn avenue from where they came. This time he caught Joseph Lyons. Stella Ray said he had threatened to kill her because she refused to go with him. The woman was trembling with fear when the officer reached her. Lyons was also locked up in No. 3 police station. It is said he has a bad record and that he had just been released from prison after serving a term for an assault on a man in Spruce alley.

Both men were fined $25 and costs by Magistrate J. V. McMasters yesterday morning.

Magistrate McMasters heard 23 cases at No. 3 police station hearing yesterday. Andrew Kidinski and Stani Mabrosky were each fined $5 and costs. They were discovered in the hallway of a house at No. 1616 Penn avenue after midnight on Saturday, and could give no explanation for being there.

Alice Smith was assessed $25 and costs for keeping a disorderly house. Her place was raided early Sunday morning and 10 visitors arrested with the proprietress. They were disposed of with light fines. The other cases were common drunks and disorderlies and were disposed of in the usual manner.

There were 104 prisoners given hearings at the Central police station yesterday morning, and nearly $1,600 was taken in in fines. Four of them paid $100 and costs each on the charge of keeping disorderly houses. The 31 visitors found in these four places were fined $5 and costs each. Tiney Swartz of No. 824 Second avenue paid $50 and costs on the same charge and seven visitors in her house paid $5 and costs.

William Tabor of Glassport claimed to have been robbed of $300 in a house in Cherry alley, but acknowledged to have been drinking in a dozen places before he missed the money. He paid $5 and costs for being drunk.

Martin McMahon paid $25 and costs for throwing a bottle through a window in a shop on Strawberry alley.

Milton Armstrong, for hitting an old man, paid the same fine, and Henry Williams of 18 Congress street paid the same also for living without working.

B. E. Flanders was held for trial at court for flourishing a revolver in Bedford avenue. Of the other prisoners 30 were discharged and the rest paid small fines.

Magistrate David J. McGarey had 16 cases to dispose of at the hearing yesterday morning at No. 7 police station.

Benjamin Taylor of Allegheny was charged with disorderly conduct, which was changed to aggravated assault and battery by Andrew Hoag of No. 2616 Carson street, making an information against him. Hoag alleges that Taylor struck him on the head with a beer glass, inflicting an ugly wound. Taylor was committed to jail for trial at court.

Stanley Dominick of 121 South First street was another who was held for court. He was arrested at a house in South First street, where a wedding was being celebrated. The usual fight started and Dominick, John Butler and Frank Miller were locked up charged with being disorderly. Miller made information against Dominick, charging him with assault and battery, on which charge he was held. The other two men were discharged.

Charles Bass, colored, of No. 255 Kearns street, was locked up in the West End police station on complaint of his wife, who appeared before the magistrate and made an information charging him with assault and battery. He was held for court and committed to jail.

Police Magistrate Henry Hunneshagen disposed of 14 cases yesterday morning at Allegheny Central station. Frank Paul of No. 13 Ley street, paid $5 and costs for abusing his wife, and Hugh Gillespie, who has no home, got 60 days to the workhouse for being drunk and hitting a man on South Diamond street. Louis Gobinsky of No. 847 Carpenter alley, paid $10 and costs for fighting. The other cases were common drunks.

CURIOSITY CAME BEFORE FALL IN THIS CASE.

While Officers Joseph Banning and George Hagerling had a prisoner at a patrol box in Carson street, near South Seventh street, yesterday afternoon, a crowd of curious youngsters climbed upon a fence running along the top of a retaining wall to watch proceedings till the arrival of the patrol. So many piled on the fence that it broke and fell into the street, striking both of the officers and injuring Banning so that he was taken to his home in the West End. Mary Grogan, a young girl living at No. 710 Mint alley, was one of the many who fell with the fence and when picked up it was discovered that her ankle was broken. She was taken to her home. Several other children were more or less cut and bruised, but their names could not be learned. The prisoner was sent to the station.

OHIO LEGISLATURE TO CONVENE TODAY

Passage of New Laws Made Necessary by Error at Last Session.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 24.—The Ohio legislature will convene in extraordinary session tomorrow for the purpose of enacting a code of laws for the government of the municipalities of the state.

The governor will urge in a special message to be submitted at the opening of the session that the legislature confine its work to the enactment of a municipal code and the repeal of the Roger law, passed at the session last winter, which, by an error, deprived the supreme court of jurisdiction in a large class of civil cases.

The code prepared by the governor will be introduced simultaneously in the house and senate and it is expected that it will be considered by each of these bodies sitting as a committee of the whole. In the opinion of leading members the work of the extra session will be completed in three weeks.

CROWDS VISITED ALL THE PARKS

BOTH PUBLIC AND TROLLEY RESORTS POPULAR YESTERDAY.

Magnificent Pair of Rattlesnakes Were New Additions to the Highland Zoo. Bright Sun and Tempered Breezes Drew Throngs—Big Boat Excursions.

Bright sunshine and pleasant breezes that tempered the warm rays of the August sun drew many people to the city parks yesterday. The Baltimore & Ohio railroad ran excursions from Uniontown and Cumberland. After the excursionists arrived in the city the majority of them went to the parks. It was late in the afternoon before the crowds began to arrive, but before nightfall Highland park was a scene of color and animation. The zoo was crowded with people.

The amateur photographer was in evidence everywhere, and in every picturesque spot groups of people were having their "pictures taken." Under the spreading branches of the oaks and chestnut trees families were reclining, while the lover and his sweetheart sought the privacy of the more unfrequented parts of the park.

The many improvements being made at this park are progressing rapidly. It will be some time yet before they are completed, but many of the unsightly humps have been leveled, and ugly pieces of hillside terraced. The approach to the zoo is now a scene of beauty. The three large flower beds near the entrance to the building are masses of color.

A Pair of Beauties.

During the week a pair of the most venomous reptiles in North America were received by Supt. Ernest Tretow. They are the gift of Mrs. William Long, of Mt. Union, Huntingdon county, Pa., and are magnificent specimens of the rattlesnake tribe. The snakes have seven rattles and a button each, indicating an age of about eight years. They have been placed in glass covered cases, and with them are two large blacksnakes, which were donated to the zoo some time ago. Supt. Tretow may soon have an addition to his snake collection, as one of the blacksnakes yesterday presented him with two eggs. "Patch," the magnificent specimen of the black bear of North America, got his usual dinner of honey yesterday. He was contentedly seated in the sun nearly all the afternoon, licking his chops and blinking at the crowds surrounding his cage.

There was a fair crowd in Schenley park during the latter part of the afternoon. Many went to the conservatory while others visited the art galleries and museum. The chrysanthemums are strong and thrifty in the conservatory, and promise a magnificent display of color in the fall.

At Traction Parks.

It was another ideal park Sunday for the trolley people who have had few of them this summer. Large crowds were at Kennywood, Calhoun, Oakwood and Southern parks day and evening. There was a great variety of entertainment, ranging from concerts to a balloon ascension.

Phinney's United States band of Chicago, which will be at Kennywood all this week, was the attraction at the park. Over 30,000 people heard the band yesterday.

Rocereto's band and the Harris vocal quartet were the attractions at Calhoun park, and both organizations were liberally applauded for their work. The new roller coaster in the park was formally opened. It is called the Biddle school of mines and minerals. It is something new in this section. Entering a car one is transported through a number of mines—gold, silver, coal, etc.—which show methods of working and output.

The cars on the Suburban and Hill Top lines were taxed to their utmost to carry people to and from Southern park. There Mlle. Zeno, the balloonist, made her 500th ascension, and in honor of the event distributed souvenir photographs of herself. She went up attached to the balloon, "Santos Dumont," from which Harry Hicks, an aeronaut, fell and was killed at Kingston Point, N. Y., last Memorial day. Mlle. Zeno bought the balloon from his widow. The Second brigade band gave two concerts.

The Homestead Library band and the Striking Anthracite Miners' Glee club were at Oakwood park. There are 10 members in the glee club, and they sing to raise money to relieve distress caused by the strike in Eastern Pennsylvania. They sang so well yesterday that money was thrown to them by auditors after each number. Every evening this week there will be free vaudeville at Southern park.

The usual Sunday boat excursions on the river were well patronized yesterday. The Gertrude, of the Anchor line, took quite a crowd up the Monongahela to Brownsville and other points in the morning, and Capt. John Klein's Annie Roberts, Beauty and Mayflower were also well crowded for trips to Davis island dam and up the river.

A CIGARETTE CAUSED A COMMOTION IN RANKIN

Mike Shufer, who lives at a Hungarian boarding house in Baltimore street, Rankin, caused all kinds of excitement about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. In the morning, after dressing up in his Sunday best, he felt in a social mood, and proceeded to circulate until he felt tired. Then he went to his boarding house and lighting a cigarette, lay down on a bed to rest. He promptly went to sleep and the lighted cigarette slipped down in the bed clothes. The fire alarm brought out the volunteer forces in large numbers and the flow of language in that Hungarian quarter was something wonderful. After Mike's blisters are healed he will need another suit of Sunday clothes.

WHITMAN MAY DEFEND TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

Indications Are That He Will Be One of Americans Against Dohertys in Newport Tourney.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 24.—One by one the four-score tennis players who last Tuesday began the national championship singles, have fallen before superior players, and only six now remain in the tournament.

Tomorrow the fifth round in the tournament will be played and it is expected the winners will meet on Tuesday or perhaps Wednesday, to battle for the honor of challenging the present champion, William A. Larned, for the national championship.

The indications are that M. D. Whitman of Boston will be one of the players in the finals and that one of the Doherty brothers will be the other, which one of the latter, has not yet been decided.

The feeling among the tennis experts here seems to be that the championship is in grave danger, and that Whitman alone stands between it and the Dohertys.

The English players have been playing stronger and stronger, and it seems almost impossible to defeat them. Tomorrow the younger, H. L. Doherty, will play L. E. Ware of Boston, and this match will be the feature of the day's playing.

Ware has shown considerable ability this year, and it is expected he will put up a strong fight against the Englishman, but very few believe he will win. The tournament will probably be brought to a close Wednesday or Thursday.

It has been the most successful ever held by the association and it was with great pleasure that enthusiasts of the game learned that Dohertys would return next year and defend the title of champions in doubles, and should they win the singles, that event also.

Indian Warrior Dead.

GUTHRIE, OKLA., Aug. 24.—Old Bull, an Omaha Indian chief, who was a survivor of the wars waged against the Indians by Gen. Custer, is dead at the Arapahoe Indian agency at Coly, Okla. He was in the Custer battle at the Little Big Horn in 1876, and afterward entered the regular army, serving until retired on account of age.

MONDAY, AUGUST 25, 1902.

TWELVE PAGES.

Bloodless Combat Ended.

Early yesterday morning the blue squadron, defending the New England coast, met the wily enemy coming to attack and destroyed it. Such is the report of the naval engagement in which no lives were jeopardized, but in which skill matched skill as earnestly as in real warfare. No doubt the reported result is the fate that would meet any really hostile fleet sent to attack that coast. It would be destroyed before sighting land unless it tremendously outnumbered the defending force.

Commander Pillsbury, in charge of the attacking squadron, had the advantage of intimate knowledge of the coast and waters in which the maneuvers were made. His squadron was smaller in reality than it was presumed to be, yet it was readily discovered. Can any one doubt if it had been a great hostile navy it would have been sooner sighted and engaged? The result is satisfactory, indicating as great proficiency in tactics as in firing on the part of the best navy in the world.

Construed by the Court.

Reverting to the question of right of two parties to certify the nomination of the same candidate—prohibited by an amendment to the ballot law adopted in 1897—it is noted that Judge Simonton in 1898 dismissed objections to a second certificate on the ground that no rule was provided to govern the action of the secretary of the commonwealth. Thus, while the law declares that a name shall appear but once by certificate of nomination, it is inoperative because it does not define which of two or several certificates shall be recognized.

Under this decision the Union party may file a certificate of nomination for any one of the state tickets already in the field. But it has no party standing in Allegheny county or in the congressional and legislative districts within the county. It appears it would be obliged to file nomination papers for candidates in these minor divisions, and it is an open question whether such papers could claim the appellation "Union."

In short, the ballot law is complicated and confusing. A party may do things, but it is uncertain what will stand until the questions are submitted to the courts. In the case cited the plain language of the act means nothing, and in other matters there are possibilities of disappointment inherent in the legislative jumble.

The Danger Point.

Immigration from the United States into the Canadian northwest territories has been occupying much of the attention of the Canadian press. Comments of the papers in Toronto, Montreal and Quebec are varied. Some pretend to see in the movement a drifting of supremacy from America to the Dominion; others want the money made by the new population spent in Canada, while a few fear the development of an "outlander" question quite as serious as that which brought on the war in South Africa.

There are possibilities of trouble in the settlement of Canadian territory by Americans, but if there be any it will be of Canadian making. The wheat farmers who are crossing from the Dakotas to Manitoba are most peaceably disposed. They have no intent to create political disturbances. They want to grow grain and market it. If let alone they will do no more harm to Canada than to develop its resources. They will import American machinery to the advantage of their adopted country, and they may send to the States for other things they have been accustomed to, but will spend a fair share of their money in Canada, if Canadian enterprise is equal to catering to their wants. On the other hand, if Canadian statesmen undertake to force the American farmers to buy what they do not want they will either drive them back across the border or start a political agitation for which they may be sorry.

Whether farmers or miners, the Americans who go to Canada are prepared to abide by the laws of the land, on an equality with the Canadians. They will not long regard themselves as outlanders. The danger in the situation is in the Canadian authorities trying to make them outlanders, or depriving them of rights heretofore accorded to all Canadians.

Just General Complaint.

Democratic critics of the appropriations made by congress at the recent session are referred to the comments of Uncle Joe Cannon. They are likely to prove interesting. It has been notable that none of the critics have itemized any appropriations that might have been omitted. They simply groan about the large total. As Mr. Cannon justly observes, the record does not show a single objection by any Democrat to an appropriation to be expended in the vicinity of his home. On the contrary, it does prove that Democrats were quite as active as Republicans in securing something for the benefit of their constituents.

Mr. Cannon also points out that the increase over the amount appropriated at the previous session is practically accounted for in the $50,000,000 given the isthmian canal. Do the Democrats object to that? As a matter of fact, the Democratic critics will not be specific. Their habit is to object to everything and evade specifications.

An Issueless Party.

The observation of the St. Louis Republic that "Republican assertions to the effect that the Democratic party is now without an issue on which to appeal to American voters come from a panic-stricken desire to dodge the great issue of trust regulation," is a mean evasion of Democratic responsibility for the utterance, as well as a bit of sounding brass. It was Mr. Whitney, an approved Democrat, a member of the cabinet of the last Democratic president, who said the Democratic party is without an issue. He also said it is without a man to lead. Republicans see that he is right. There is no "panic-stricken desire to dodge the great issue of trust regulation" on the part of Republicans, and if they wanted to do it they couldn't do it by merely asserting that the Democratic party is without an issue. But speaking of trusts, would the Republic know one if it saw it, or does it know what a trust is? If it is at sea on the trust matter, as we suspect, it may profit by taking counsel of one Jones of Arkansas. No doubt the Democratic party would like to have an issue, but unless it sticks to silver it can't prove that it has one.

Religion and the Coal Strike.

A correspondent of President Baer of the Reading railroad wrote to him:

> If Christ was taken more into our business affairs there would be less trouble in the world, and if Mr. Baer granted the strikers a slight concession they would gladly return to work, and the president of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company would have the blessing of God and the respect of the nation.

Mr. Baer, in the course of a reply, said:

> The rights and interests of the laboring man will be protected and cared for, not by the labor agitators, but by the Christian men to whom God, in His infinite wisdom, has given the control of the property interests of this country.

This is still harping on the same old string, even though with an effort at a turn of the tune. The correspondent of President Baer injects a religious thought into the discussion and finds Mr. Baer equal to it. But, as before, it is the miner and it is the operator, and never the consumer. Mr. Baer is pointed to a blessing that will be his by making a concession to the miner and meets it with a declaration that "God, in His infinite wisdom, has given the control of the property interests of this country" to certain men who, in their own way, will care for the "rights and interests of the laboring man." Neither the correspondent nor the railroad president sees further than the end of his nose when the rights and interests of that numerous class, the consumer, are concerned. The correspondent assumes (we say all this reverently) that the Lord is on the side of the miner, while Mr. Baer somewhat rashly assumes that the Lord has delegated all rights and powers in the premises to the property owners. As a matter of fact, both parties to this discussion are merely clouding the issue. The Lord has no more to do with the dispute between the miner and the operator than with any other of the ordinary events of life, and has just as much to do with them. We have no information that before the miner struck he made the strike a subject of prayer, nor do we find it anywhere recorded that when the operator refused the demands of the miner it was after a period on his knees, in which he sought guidance from the Lord, from whom Mr. Baer says he secured control of property, with certain powers. The miner, when he struck, considered it purely a business and not a religious proposition, and the operator was in the same frame of mind. Neither miner nor operator made the strike the Lord's business nor thought of the Lord in connection with it, any more than they thought of the consumer, and everybody is sure that the consumer and his wishes were not considered. This rather late assumption, therefore, has the odor of a pharasaical afterthought rather than a Christian flavor, notwithstanding that there is little doubt Mr. Baer's correspondent and Mr. Baer are very much in earnest.

Mr. Baer's language, unfortunately, implies a certain heaven-given right to property, akin to the old but exploded assumption of the divine right of kings. As a matter of fact, there is no such right. The right to property or kingship is vested by no stronger title than the social compact, and its divinity rests on the foundation that order is heaven's first law, and that the use by the holder is for the general good. This is peculiarly true of the properties held by Mr. Baer and the Christian men associated with him. The divine title by which they are held is a charter from the state authorizing the holders to supply coal to the Christian people of this Christian country, and they are failing in this duty with the winter season approaching. If there is a religious duty anywhere in this whole matter it is to mine and ship coal. We commend this thought to Mr. Baer and to his correspondent, who arrogate to themselves the right to speak for the Lord, but who, instead of speaking for Him, are occupied with purely selfish considerations. The strike is not religious, the operators are not holding their property by a religious title, and the public is sure that there isn't an animating motive of a religious nature anywhere in the whole dispute. It is each side for itself and—well, the consumer of coal will recall what a member of the Vanderbilt family once said.

Knox Serves His Client.

A tribute is paid to Attorney General Knox in the September McClure's that will be appreciated by those who know him best. Mr. Knox, as everyone knows, has been flouted because he was a corporation lawyer prior to his appointment as attorney general. Opponents have not hesitated to question his sincerity in bringing actions against the packers and the Northern Securities Company. All of these things are enumerated by L. A. Coolidge in the magazine article mentioned, and then he says:

> In bringing suit against the trusts he believes he serves with equal faithfulness his only remaining client—the government of the United States. For Knox is a lawyer all through. He has all a lawyer's intuitions and instincts. Today he is the attorney for the government, just as for years he was attorney for wealthy private corporations—with this difference, that when he served corporations he had many clients. After he entered the service of the United States he regarded his salary as an exclusive retainer.
>
> It would be difficult to put the matter more tersely or truthfully. Mr. Knox is known at his home, here in Pittsburgh, as a man of peculiarly high ideas of honor and as one who has always served his client to the utmost of his ability. No one doubts that he is giving to the government precisely the quality of service that he gave all previous clients.

School-Teaching in the West.

It has been recently declared by a prominent school official of the state of Missouri that there are 16,000 school teachers in that state and that their average pay is less than $200 a year. Information from another source declares that school teachers in the state of Missouri average less than $4 per week. If these facts be correct, and there is good reason to believe that they are, they indicate a condition of affairs that is deplorable in the last degree, and not for one reason or because of the hardships they inflict upon the Missouri teachers.

The business of school teaching is one of the most serious and important avocations that can be undertaken. Its conscientious and successful prosecution under our present system of public instruction is intimately connected with the moral and intellectual development of the country. It is to be feared, however, that $4 per week teachers means a service that is correspondingly insufficient and meager. It is astonishing with what narrowness of vision our lawmakers regard the whole question of remuneration for public school teachers. In devising plans for the support of the schools the question often seems to be solely one of reducing the cost of some grades of teaching to the lowest possible figure. In the state of Nebraska business conditions of every kind, including agricultural occupations, have enjoyed such unprecedented prosperity that the state school boards are finding it extremely difficult to secure teachers at all. The superintendent of instruction in that state says that the farmers of the western part of the state are so prosperous that the farmers' sons and daughters don't need the money and will not teach school. Many Nebraska villages are without schoolmasters and schoolmistresses.

In Missouri the number of persons who must teach for a living is larger, and in that state the same degree of agricultural prosperity does not exist, hence the supply of teachers is greater; but for the reasons already stated the quality of service is doubtless such as to make the Nebraska conditions preferable. The fact must not be overlooked, however, that $4-a-week teachers have their keeping in addition, though subjected to the sometimes unpleasant "boarding around among the scholars."

When it is considered that the voter is not permitted to mark the name of a candidate more than one time on the ballot it ought to be enough for any candidate to have his name in two places.

Up to date the Pacific Commercial Cable Company has not plead probable competition with wireless systems as a reason for not agreeing to Attorney General Knox's new conditions.

Senator Penrose talked at Allentown about national prosperity. In these Republican times we have it with us and it's very popular with the masses.

Since he resigned his judgeship, Pennypacker's only occupation is farming. And it may be remarked that this looks like a good year for farmers.

George Gould displays some of his father's characteristics. He gets his plans ready before advertising for bids on the contract.

People who criticise Recorder Brown for working only 10 seconds a day should remember that he loses some time coming and going.

Bishop Potter may not settle the strike, but as all the world loves a lover there is no mistake that he has made a hit.

Rhode Island is not so big, but it is very much in earnest in paying tribute to the president.

Pittsburgh tonnage is the weightiest problem the railroads ever tried to work out.

Dan Patch is not worrying over Edison's prediction of the horseless age.

Possibly it may be warmer when the campaign is fairly opened.

HILL NEW RULER OF TAMMANY HALL

David Bennett Holds Whole Democracy of New York State in His Hand.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Aug. 25.

After a long eclipse, ex-Senator and ex-Gov. David B. Hill has taken hold of the Democratic machine of New York with no uncertain grasp. Like Alfonso of Spain, he is king, and he will do what he likes. The 10-minute session of the Democratic state committee at Saratoga yesterday was ordered by Hill, and he was so sure that his commands would be followed that he did not take the trouble to be there. He had arranged what was to be done, and he knew his word was law. He had decided that the state convention should be held on September 30, although many influential men in the party wanted it on the 23d. It will be held on the 30th. Tammany is with him and will, at his behest, raise a campaign fund of not less than $150,000, at the same time pledging itself to give him its sincere support, oratorically and otherwise, without asking any recognition in whatever changes may be made in the state committee. In a word, Tammany hall is David B. Hill's. The situation is an interesting one, when it is remembered that two years ago Richard Croker held Hill in such high esteem that it was a question whether he would not attempt to slay the Sage of Wolferts Roost, politically, with a stab in the back. Today Croker is dead himself, so far as New York politics are concerned, and, in spite of all the aspirations of men in this city to be a leader of Tammany hall, David B. Hill is the one man that can control the organization and swing it hither and thither at his pleasure. The desperation of Tammany could not be more forcefully shown that in this. While all the talk here is that the state will go Democratic, probably with Bird S. Coler as governor, Hill and men near to him are aware that the battle will be a violent one, with a very slight chance that anyone but Benjamin F. Odell will be governor of the state of New York. Even "Bin the button man," who is looked on as a shrewd prophet, is not trying to see thousands of Coler buttons on his hands. He wishes the buttons bore Odell's portrait instead.

Depew Star of Promenade.

Senator Chauncey M. Depew was one of the strollers in Fifth avenue today who seemed to be enjoying the bright sunshine thoroughly. After his sojourn abroad, it could be seen that our Chauncey was glad to be home again, and many were the nods and smiles he exchanged with people he knew and dozens that he didn't, but who recognized the genial raconteur at a glance. The senator went over to the Grand Central station yesterday for a look around, but he will not begin work until tomorrow. Mrs. Depew wants to do some shopping, and "Buster" feels that he must give a day or two to "the fellows" in Gotham. The whole family will run over to Washington about the end of the week, according to present plans.

Hotel Clerk Fallen from Grace.

"Dick" Canfield, the king of gamblers, whose luxurious place at Saratoga is running wide open now, was once clerk of the Union Square hotel, at a time when the house was the great resort of sporting men, actors and men about town. Canfield used to see many stiff poker games in the hotel. Occasionally he sat in a game himself, and was generally lucky. It was this experience, an old-timer remarked to me this evening, that turned Canfield's thoughts toward gambling as a serious pursuit, and he has followed it ever since, with the result, as everyone knows, of making him a multi-millionaire. One peculiarity of his career is that he has always played from the "inside." That is to say, he has never risked money on anybody's game but his own. No one ever heard of his betting on a horse race, or risking money in faro or roulette at any tables away from his own establishment. He has been content to take the dealer's end always, and it has paid him tremendously. He is a quiet, businesslike looking man, and might be taken for a banker, a steel manufacturer or a professor of literature—anything but a gambler.

Race Is to the Swift.

As the time approaches for the opening of the two immense store buildings in Herald square there is sharp competition between the workmen in either structure to get ready first. It is expected that both of them will be ready for business next month. The great sashes of plate glass with "Pittsburgh" showing prominently in the middle of each, to give notice that the glass was made there, are nearly all in place, and it looks as if there is not much more to be done save clean up odds and ends, as it were. Much of the interior furnishings have been brought up already, and when at last the painters, decorators, carpenters and other workmen in the lighter part of the work are turned out, a few days will suffice to arrange the store. It is anticipated that when the two stores are in operation, Herald square will be brighter and gayer than ever it was in the old days, when sporting saloons and fourth-class dramatic agencies occupied the two blocks.

Sky Withholds Its Tears.

For the first time since St. Swithin's Day, New York has had a clear, sunshiny Sunday. For many weeks it has always rained on Sunday, and generally on Saturday as well. In a community like this, that takes its pleasures regularly at the week end, with Sunday to supplement it, the misery of a rainy Saturday and Sunday can well be understood. It was not over warm today, but it was an ideal day for a holiday trip down the bay or up the Hudson, and there has never been a day this season on which more excursionists have gone forth from the city. The Sunday morning church parade in Fifth avenue was most imposing. It was just the kind of morning to walk down the broad sidewalks to and from church, with no threats of peril to summer raiment. New York deserves good weather, for there is not a city on earth where it is more properly appreciated.

Rice Has Good Show Girl.

Rice's "Show Girl" repeated its hit at the Grand opera house last evening. The comedy was done at Wallack's early in the summer, and again at Manhattan Beach, and "made good." It was put on at the Grand last night as the opening attraction of that large theater, and a typical West Side audience howled, clapped and stamped its approval. Edward Elusive Rice beamed on everybody in the lobby and from a private box, and it was a glorious night for him, from the back row of the chorus to the box office receipts.

Pride of Japs Is to Work.

It is noticed that there are more Japanese servants employed in New York just now than ever has been the case. The predilection for valets, private secretaries, elevator men, and all kinds of domestic help imported from Tokio and Yokohama has been steadily increasing in this city. It is not incongruous to class private secretaries and mental servants in the same sentence, for the average Japanese help is quite likely to be competent to act as an amanuensis, even when engaged to black your boots. Many of the quiet young men that are employed in hotels, clubs and private families to make themselves generally useful have been graduated from an American college, and are staying here to familiarize themselves outside of scholastic environment with everyday life in the United States. There is no false pride about them, and they prefer to make their expenses as a servant to loafing about the city doing nothing. It may be that Japanese activity along these lines will eventually solve the servant girl problem, although that seems rather too much to hope.

Seek Another Lamb for Slaughter.

The governing committee of the New York stock exchange is jealous of the honor of that institution. Several members are said to be connected with the suit brought by George Alfred Lamb against the Northern Pacific in the name of Peter Power. They will be expected to explain their action—satisfactorily, if they can—but they must explain. Members of the exchange consider that the association of the names of its members with alleged "strike" suits, or ones in which a dummy is used, is in itself "an act detrimental to the interest or welfare of the exchange." No formal complaint has been made in the matter, but it will be taken up at the regular September meeting, if not at a special meeting called before that time. The committee, it is said, will proceed on the ground that the personal conduct of some of the members in the Northern Pacific suit tended to affect the value of securities and cause injury to the shareholders of Northern Pacific and Great Northern. Members found guilty may be suspended for a year.

More Trouble for Chauffeurs.

Mounted policemen in this city are training themselves specially to run down automobiles which are going too fast for the law. For a long time it was the bicycle policeman that was expected to overhaul violators of the law in this direction. Their quarry was a bicyclist. There were few wheelmen that could outride a policeman bicyclist, and when the officer bent his back and pressed hard on his pedals, he was pretty sure to catch his man. Then came the autos, and they were rather too much for the bicycle policeman, no matter how good he might be. It is found, however, that mounted policemen can urge their horses to a speed that enables them to catch the 25-mile-an-hour automobilist, and most of the policemen on horseback have each one or more chauffeurs' scalps hanging to their belts.

From Literature to Picnics.

John Brisben Walker, the magazine editor, is a busy man in other lines of endeavor. He has just leased his property at Kingsland Point, Tarrytown, to the local trolley company for a mammoth picnic ground. Mr. Walker is much interested in the project, although he will not have any stock in it. The property adjoins land owned by John D. Rockefeller, William Rockefeller and the Sleepy Hollow Company. Tarrytown is near enough to New York city to make it a goal for many excursion parties in the summer, and it looks as if the picnic ground would be a good investment for somebody.

Studying Dope for Sheepshead.

Horse lovers are looking forward to the opening of the races at Sheepshead bay next Saturday. Saratoga has had a brilliant racing season, and the appetite for racing has been whetted by the operations up there. A great many New Yorkers will come direct from Saratoga to Sheepshead bay, hardly stopping in Manhattan to take a hasty glance at good old Broadway. Horses are shipped from Saratoga to Sheepshead every day, and by the time the Saratoga meeting ends there will not be many thoroughbreds to bring away. A large number of visitors will be in this city on Saturday to witness the race for the Futurity, the richest stake in America. A big delegation of Pittsburghers is expected.

Sold His Horses, All Right.

A rather bright-looking young man, who smelt of stables slightly, was discoursing thus to a crowd in a hotel lobby last night loud enough for every one to hear: "This morning was the first time I ever saw New York, and the crowds certainly did give me a shock. I came here in advance of a couple of carloads of horses from the farm and landed at Cortlandt street. I had promised to telegraph my brother, with whom I owned the nags, what the prospects for sales were, and when I saw all these people downtown, I naturally thought it was a big day. I went into the first telegraph office I saw and sent this message: 'Think it's county court day. Sales should be excellent.' I have learned since that New Yorkers don't have county court days, but b'gosh, I sold my horses all right. Seems to me you can sell anything in this town."

Courtly Blow at Sandwich.

That old question in New York, which seems as if it never would be settled, "Is a sandwich a meal?" has been answered in the negative by a supreme court justice. It was in connection with the revocation of the license of the saloon and dance hall known as "The Widow's" in Riverside drive, that this decision was made. Other Judges have held that a sandwich is a meal within the meaning of the law, and Mayor Low indorsed that opinion in one of his "talks" recently. Of course the importance of the sandwich as a meal is very great on Sunday, since it determines whether the consumer of a sandwich is or is not entitled to buy an intoxicating beverage to wash it down. With the courts contradicting each other, it is evident that the thirsty sandwich eater in this city can only wait until there comes a decision from the highest judicial authority before he will know where he is at, gastronomically and convivially, on the first day of the week. It was noticed that the ordinary property sandwich was generally sufficient excuse for a drink in any of the high-class hotels today, however.

MAID OF ORLEANS NOT SAINTED

Vatican Refuses Canonization Because Neither Maid Nor Heroine.

BY the MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

Rome—I mean the vatican—has rendered a great service to the republican government in France by selecting precisely this moment to announce its resolution to deny canonization to Joan of Arc, who was destined by all the religious elements of the country to become the latter's patron saint, and to assume that role which St. James plays with regard to Spain, St. Andrew in Russia, St. George in England and St. Patrick in Ireland.

Not content with declining to accord the Maid of Orleans the rights and prerogatives of a saint, the vatican has added insult to injury in Gallic eyes by publicly proclaiming the reasons.

The one which has excited the most indignation in France is the declaration to the effect that after a careful consideration of all evidence presented both for and against the fair Joan, the congregation of rites had come to the conclusion the dame in question was not entitled to the surname of "Maid" accorded by her admirers.

Guilty of Grave Faults.

Moreover, the church holds she was guilty of faults of most grave character in attacking Paris on the feast of the blessed virgin, and in signing a confession that her pretensions to a divine mission were based on fraud in the hope of escaping death at the stake to which she had been sentenced by the English. Besides these, there are other reasons. But the principal are that she was neither a heroine nor a maid, and these are held to destroy for all time the hopes of her admirers to secure her canonization by the Roman Catholic church.

The action of the vatican has excited keen resentment among all the religious elements in France, even among the clergy, who do not hesitate to declare it is outrageous that a few Italian prelates who care nothing for France or its patriotic sentiments should have it in their power to thus asperse the memory of the woman who for 200 years has been looked upon as the national heroine of France, and to deny her the rights which she possesses to be included in the company of saints of the Roman Catholic church. Indeed, it is no exaggeration to assert it has contributed more than anything else to bring nearer that schism between the Church of Rome and the Church of France, so much feared at the vatican.

Queen Victoria Consulted.

It must be confessed the Roman curia has always been hostile to the demands of French Catholics for the canonization of Joan of Arc. The idea was first started during the closing years of the reign of Napoleon III., and had he remained on the throne and continued to keep his troops in the Eternal City for the protection of the papacy against the Kingdom of Italy there is no doubt the matter would have been settled long ago, and the shapely head of Joan of Arc surmounted by the halo of a saint.

But with the overthrow of the empire, the consequent withdrawal of the French army of occupation from Rome, and the subsequent seizure of the Eternal City by the Italian government, the vatican showed a disposition to become hypercritical with regard to the Maid of Orleans, and the matter dragged along until Leo III. became pope. He at once realized the importance of pleasing the French Catholics and identifying as far as possible French national sentiment with Catholicism. Accordingly, after duly inquiring of Queen Victoria whether she had any objections to offer to the canonization of the Maid of Orleans and receiving a reply in the negative, Joan of Arc was duly "beatified," which is the first step towards canonization.

The fact that the queen of England, a Protestant sovereign, should have been consulted by the vatican about the canonization of a Roman Catholic saint will doubtless excite considerable comment. But it must be remembered the Maid of Orleans was put to death by the English, and her alleged martyrdom at the hands of the latter constituted one of the chief reasons advanced for her canonization. Moreover, at the time of his accession Leo XIII. was anxious to establish friendly relations, and if possible diplomatic intercourse with Great Britain, and did not wish to do anything which might be construed at the court of St. James as unfriendly. That is why Queen Victoria was consulted, a fact which the French have now learned for the first time and which has intensified their indignation at the refusal of the papacy to invest the Maid of Orleans with the honors of a full-fledged saint.

This solemn declaration of the vatican, ex-cathedra, that Joan of Arc was not entitled to the qualification of "maid," lends a new importance to the pretensions put forward by several French noblemen of a more or less authentic character, to include her among their ancestresses. There have been several noblemen, including a pseudo French duke, who have brought to this country family parchments and genealogical trees in which the name of the Maid of Orleans figures among their forbears.

Brother's Descendants Known.

It is only fair to add, the general public has always been agreed that Joan of Arc left no descendants, at any rate of a legitimate character. True she had a brother, and from this brother are descended, not in the male line, but on the distaff side, the Marquis and Counts de Maleyssie, one of whom, Count Stephen, is married to an American girl, who was a Miss Stears of New York, and who would have figured prominently in the grand ceremonies in St. Peter's at Rome which were to have signalized the canonization of the Maid of Orleans had not the congregation of rites decided against it. The lineal male line in direct descent from Joan of Arc's only brother became extinct with the death of Charles du Lys, advocate general of the so-called court of aids in 1632. One of his daughters, however, married a certain M. Barentin, whose daughter in turn became the wife of the Marquis de Maleyssie in 1684. The eldest son of this marriage was killed at the battle of Malplaquet, and left no issue. From the second son, who in 1723 married Philiberte de Bouillon, are descended the present Marquis and Counts de Maleyssie.

The American-born Countess de Maleyssie has among her most treasured possessions three authentic letters of the Maid of Orleans, signed "Jehanne." Her husband, I may add, is a member of the exclusive Union club at Paris, and besides having a beautiful house in town, owns a couple of chateaux in the provinces.

The Official Gazette at St. Petersburg has just published a list of articles lost at the court balls at the winter palace during the season and not reclaimed. They include several decorations, diamond rings, diamond brooches and pins, a jeweled comb, three jeweled fans, 27 lace pocket handkerchiefs, a sword, a pair of rubber overshoes and a latch key. The list compares favorably with that contained in the Official Gazette at Belgrade, which proclaimed that among the lost objects found after a court ball given by the king at the royal palace were a pair of dainty satin and lace corsets.

No Assistance Needed.

From the Baltimore American.

"We," says the explorer, as he endeavors to make the cannibal chieftain understand why his country is to be annexed, "have no desire except to benevolently assimilate you."

"Huh," replies the cannibal chieftain. "So far as we, personally, are concerned, our assimilating processes are in good repair. We have assimilated two missionaries and four sailors within the past year. I guess we will do about all the assimilating that needs to be done on this island."

And the explorer was led around the back way to the pantry.

PERSONALS.

J. E. Steele and daughter, Mary Turner, daughter of T. D. Turner, and Elizabeth Moore, assistant principal of the Parnassus schools, all of Wilkinsburg, have returned from an extended tour through the extreme western states and Alaska. Most of the time was spent in Alaska.

"I cannot say what will be the outcome of the anthracite coal strike," remarked George H. Reynolds, a merchant of Wilkesbarre, last night while passing through Pittsburgh. "I am afraid there will be further violence before it is settled and that more troops will have to be sent into the coal country. The majority of the miners are foreigners and they are in an ugly mood. They are likely to start rioting at any time, and if they do many lives will be lost. The strike has greatly depressed business all through the coal region."

Excursion travel was heavy on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad yesterday. One train to Ohio Pyle Falls carried 378 passengers to that resort. Two trains to Wheeling carried 654 excursionists. There came in on two trains from Morgantown, Uniontown and Connellsville 960 people, and one train brought in from Cumberland and intermediate points 560 passengers. When the Duquesne limited pulled out of the station a special car was attached to it which contained 55 Italians and Slavs who are returning to their homes in the old country. Shortly before supper an emigrant train with 167 Swedes came into the station. Eighteen of them got off in Pittsburgh and five at McKeesport. The others went to points west of Chicago.

E. R. Jones, superintendent of the Mexican Coal and Coke Company of Las Esperanzas, in the state of Coahila, Mexico, is at the Hotel Lincoln. He is a native of Ohio and is inspecting the bituminous coal mines of West Virginia and Pennsylvania. "Our company," he said, "owns 25,000 acres of coal land on which we are working five shafts. The vein runs from seven to ten feet in thickness. Last month our output was 41,000 tons. We have 226 coke ovens in operation and sell our coal and coke to the railroads and smelters. Much Kanawha and Pittsburgh coal is sold in Mexico. About two months ago President Diaz visited our mines and was taken through them. It was the first time he ever had been inside of a coal mine."

Capt. Samuel S. Brown went to his farm near Lexington, Ky., last night to pick out some fast colts which he expects to enter in the Futurity and Suburban races.

Thomas McKenzie, a dealer in drygoods of St. Louis, passed through the city last night. "I have just received a telegram," he remarked, "from my house stating that the wholesale drygoods business last week was the greatest in the history of the wholesale drygoods trade in St. Louis."

Miss Lyell Trainor of West Union, W. Va., who will take a position in the Pittsburgh Conservatory of Music, is at the Monongahela house.

THE DEATH ROLL.

William B. Horner.

William B. Horner, 79 years old, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank B. Stevenson, in New Castle, Pa., yesterday. He was born in Bucks county, Pa., and came with his parents to New Castle when 14 years old. He learned the drug business and was located at Memphis, Tenn., at the outbreak of the civil war. He refused to take the oath of allegiance to the confederacy and was forced to leave his business and property interests there and fly with his family. He returned to New Castle and was engaged in the drug business until he retired several years ago. He is survived by two sons and two daughters—Howard H. of the First National bank and Mrs. Frank B. Stevenson of New Castle, William L. Horner of Beaver Falls, and Miss Margaret C. Horner of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Annsaleen Giberson.

Mrs. Annsaleen Giberson, relict of Joseph O. Giberson, died at the family residence in Crawford street, Bellevue, yesterday morning. This is the third death in the family within 16 months, the husband and the son, William E., having died within that time. Mrs. Giberson was a member of the Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal church. Previously she was a member of the Ames church, Hazelwood, where the family formerly resided. She is survived by two daughters and two sons, Mrs. John I. Wallace and Annie, George L., and Harry E. Giberson. Funeral services will be held at the family residence Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. The interment will take place Wednesday morning at Fayette City, Pa.

Mrs. John B. Kennedy.

Jeannette Young, the wife of John B. Kennedy, a prominent resident of Allegheny, died yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the family residence, Sunshine, Wheeler avenue, that city. Mrs. Kennedy was 74 years of age and is survived by her husband and the following children: Miss Jeannette C., Miss Mary P. and Paul S. Kennedy. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Archduchess Marguerite Sophie.

Archduchess Marguerite Sophie of Austria, wife of Albert, duke of Wurtemburg, died yesterday at Gmunden, Austria, as the result of an operation for appendicitis. She was born in 1870.

Obituary Notes.

Mrs. Tuttle, wife of C. M. Tuttle, one of the best-known lawyers in northern Ohio, died in Warren, O., yesterday.

John T. Patterson, a well-known Fourth avenue broker, died yesterday afternoon at his residence, No. 316 Pacific avenue.

Francis R. Vantyne, aged 74 years, a well-known South Side machinist, died yesterday at his residence, No. 46 Althea street. He will be buried at his former home at Berea, O.

Mary Ann Wallace, aged 83 years, died yesterday at the home of her brother, Joseph Wallace, near Midway. She was one of the oldest residents of that section, having lived there nearly all her lifetime. The funeral will take place tomorrow noon and the interment will be in the cemetery at Millers Run.

TEN-ACRE FARM IS BOUGHT FOR CONVALESCENTS

St. Mark's Church Will Expand Work for Suffering Humanity.

ANNEX TO ST. BARNABAS

Pure Air and Good Nursing for Unfortunates Turned Out of Hospitals to Make Room Needed for New Cases.

The good work being done in connection with St. Mark's Protestant Episcopal church, South Side, has reached such a stage that the Rev. Father Harry Lancaster, priest in charge, and father of the notable charity work that has made St. Mark's a synonym for everything that is helpful to suffering humanity, has decided to expand. "The fact is," said the good priest, "we must expand, or stand idly by and see the work growing in our hands without making an effort to relieve the sick and needy."

To this end Father Lancaster has leased a farm in Baldwin township some six miles from the city, which will be used as an annex to St. Barnabas home. This home is for the purpose of caring for convalescents, turned away from the hospitals to make room for new cases.

Farm Is Secured.

The work has outgrown the present quarters, and it is hoped to carry it out on a broader scale in the new home. The farm comprises 10 acres of excellent soil, and a large, spacious residence, formerly a convent school. Father Lancaster expects to open this new home by the first of next month.

There are five rooms, a chapel, and a study room 40x20 in the building. These will be renovated and fitted out for hospital purposes. The study room will hold about 20 cots. A few rooms will be given to the care of incurables. The remainder of the building will be occupied by the Brothers who have charge of the home.

These "Brothers" are young men of this city, who have consecrated their lives to this peculiar charity. As yet they are not formed into a regular brotherhood, but Father Lancaster, who brought them together and drew up their rules for common living, intends to have a formal organization made as soon as the work grows sufficiently to require more help.

An Excellent Location.

The farm is beautifully located along the Baltimore & Ohio road, and commands a view of the surrounding country for miles. As a whole it will be an excellent place, especially in summer, for convalescents. Father Lancaster proposes to lease some more property in that locality, later on, with a view to establishing a similar home for convalescent women.

Scores of young women are turned away daily from the overcrowded hospitals before they are thoroughly well. Such a place would be a God-send, and Father Lancaster, with that zeal common to men of his disposition, proposes to have such a home established. This notable charitable work is done quietly, without ostentation. Father Lancaster and his co-workers depend absolutely on the generosity of the people to continue their work.

Cots Are Needed.

When the work of renovating the new quarters begins, some 20 or more cots will be required. Any person disposed to aid this work by donating a cot, is at liberty to do so. Nearly all the money required to conduct both the St. Barnabas and the Guild, comes from the parish and a few benefactors, but donations are always acceptable.

In connection with the Guild house, which is in charge of two sisters, Father Lancaster will soon open a maternity hospital. The Guild, too, has expanded, so that two houses near by have been leased for further extension of the work.

Large Congregation Greeted Him.

The Rev. Scott Hershey, D. D., of Boston, preached an eloquent sermon from the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church, Wilkinsburg, yesterday morning to a congregation numbering about 2,000.

HEAVY SUIT AGAINST BOY.

Harold Hartshorne, Aged 9, Charged With Beating Governess.

From the New York Commercial Advertiser.

Nine-year-old Harold Hartshorne is perhaps the youngest defendant in this country who has been sued for $50,000 damages. This is the amount that Marie Bentz, the former governess of the youthful Hartshorne, wants for an alleged beating that he gave her. The defendant is the son of James M. Hartshorne, who at present lives at 515 Madison avenue.

According to Miss Bentz's complaint, filed by Theodore Sutro, the plaintiff was on and before October 25, 1900, employed as governess to the Hartshorne child. At that time the family lived at 11 East Sixty-fifth street. On October 25, 1900, Harold, 9 years old, knocked his governess down in the street. The complaint alleges, beat her about the head and neck, jumped upon her and kicked her. As a result of this beating Miss Bentz says that her spine was badly injured, as well as her head; that she suffers from violent hysteria and nervous disease, and suffers from partial paralysis. She asserts that at certain times she cannot stand on her feet.

After action was begun young Hartshorne's father had himself appointed guardian ad litem for the boy for the purpose of the suit. Subsequently he went before a justice of the Supreme Court and secured an order permitting him to have Miss Bentz examined before trial. In applying for this order Mr. Hartshorne alleged that he did not have a sufficient knowledge of the case to make a proper defense. To enable him properly to defend the action, he asserted that he would have to have Miss Bentz examined and get her to tell him how the affair occurred. He said that all he knew was what his son told him, saying that the plaintiff had struck him. Subsequently, upon the application of Mr. Sutro, Justice Dugro modified the original order for the examination of Miss Bentz, permitting Mr. Hartshorne to examine her only as to matters directly connected with the alleged assault.

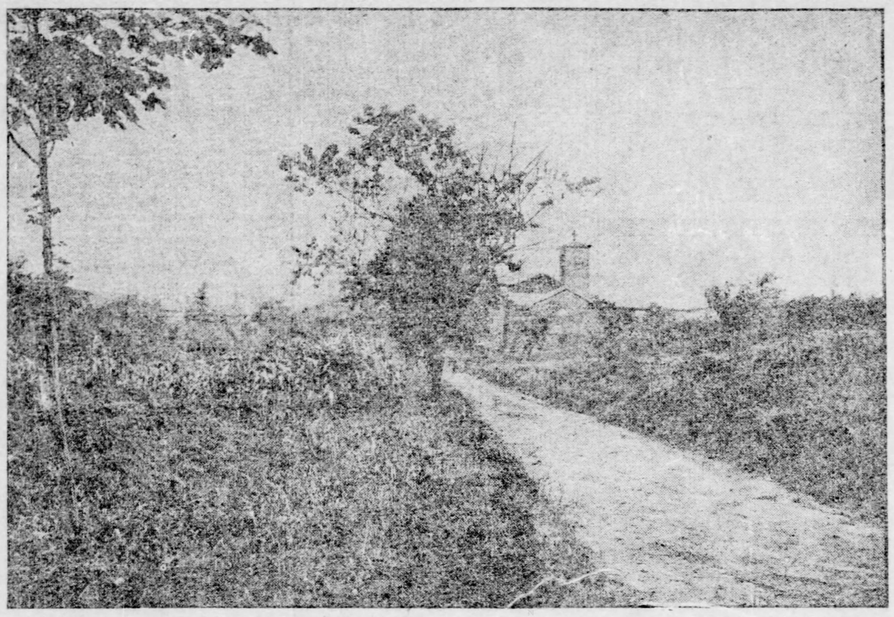
The Kind You Have Always Bought

INSIDE THE MONASTERY WALLS ON MT. OLIVER ARE SOME BITS OF ENTRANCING SCENERY.



During the holding of the "chapter" of the Passionist order at the monastery on Mt. Oliver recently a Gazette photographer was able to secure with his camera some of the pretty scenery found in the handsome grounds. The above view is one of those delightful bits in the rear of the monastery, showing the pathway which encircles the grounds, now between tall sheaves of ripening corn, again winding through thick shade trees into some cool retreat. From this point one commands the finest view of the twin cities. In the picture the cross-surmounted tower of the monastery is seen above the tips of the trees. At twilight this spacious garden has a touch of the poetic that would be no mean inspiration for persons so inclined. The fathers cultivate the greater portion of the grounds, but, fond of the beautiful in Nature, have laid out some delightful pathways, planted trees of various species and encouraged the sweetest flowers to grow.

FOR EDUCATION OF POOR WHITES

THE REV. DR. E. L. PRENTISS SPEAKS IN THEIR BEHALF.

Comes from Grant University, Which Is Teaching Useful Trades and Professions to Sons of the "Poor Whites." An Eloquent Plea.

The Rev. Dr. L. E. Prentiss of the U. S. Grant university, Chattanooga, Tenn., preached last night in the Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal church. Dr. Grant is visiting this city in behalf of the 'poor whites of the south,' for the education of whom the U. S. Grant university at Chattanooga was established.

"The object of the Grant university," he said, "is the education of the white youths of the central south. Who are these 'white youths?' They are the offspring of the loyal white men, neglected to a certain extent until the Grant university opened its doors. They are desirous of ameliorating their condition, of rising to a higher and nobler life. We have now in the university 800 students enrolled in seven departments, all of whom come from this historic people.

Taught Useful Courses.

"You know their history, you have heard their story year in and year out. That story is true today; it was true yesterday. Our method of training these youths is practical. We fit them for various avocations. They are taught practical farming, the mysteries of the forge, the industries peculiar to their country. They are taught these things in a practical manner, so that, in a word, when they have graduated from Grant university they have a trade and a business education. They are fitted for life."

Commenting on the influence of general education, he said: "The professions are crowded, but if one is called to the professional life there will be room. The youth who is ambitious, with an ambition that is of God, will succeed. There are some principles necessary to win, and I name punctuality as the first.

Are Ardent Students.

"The youth struggling in the world should be at his post on time. Then he should be faithful. Fidelity is a stepping stone to success.

"Then one should have a partner. Jesus Christ is the partner for the ambitious youth. The young man who has been educated under these principles will shed a luster on his community. His influence will be quiet and effective. All of these are instilled into the sons of the poor whites of the southland. I am glad to say that these youths are susceptible of the refining influences of college life. You should see with what enthusiasm they attend to their every duty. The fire of God burns within them. Surely such a work should be given a stimulus. It requires no small sum to educate these youths." Dr. Prentiss concluded his sermon by explaining the system of supporting this notable institution.

Chloroform and Gaslight.

From the Philadelphia Medical Journal.

In general the profession in this country is united in the belief that ether is a much more satisfactory anaesthetic than chloroform. A not inconsiderable number, however, prefer chloroform, particularly under especial circumstances, and some operators who have no well-equipped clinics at their command tend to use chloroform when working by artificial light, and particularly in ill-equipped houses. It is, however, known by most pharmacologists and by many others that chloroform has dangers when used by artificial light, but this fact is by no means generally recognized. Persons have been killed by the decomposition of chloroform by gas light. It has been attempted to overcome the danger of the production of this form of poisoning by placing soda or borax solution or milk of lime in the operating room, but these methods have been shown to be wholly insufficient.

SONGS OF PRAISE INSIDE THE PENITENTIARY WALLS.

The absence of Chaplain John L. Milligan on his annual vacation did not prevent Maj. J. J. McC. Johnston, warden of the Western Penitentiary from holding religious services yesterday afternoon, although he was without a minister. The service was entirely a song service and was evidently very much enjoyed by the prisoners.

The regular prison orchestra of violins and mandolins, consisting of 12 or 15 men, was assisted by a glee club of 20 members, led by Prof. T. G. Davies and Edward A. Keil and his son and daughter, Theodore E. Keil and Miss Carolyn Keil, who sang several solos and duets. Theodore E. Keil presided at the organ.

There was also considerable congregational singing by the prisoners, and the service was so much enjoyed that the usual hour was extended considerably by general request.

CHRISTIANITY IS THE SOUL OF CIVILIZATION

The Rev. Dr. E. R. Donehoo Says Religion Is Not on the Wane.

WILL CONQUER WORLD

Despite Inroads of Modern Day Life, Christianity Has Come to Stay and Past Triumphs Will Be Repeated in the Future.

"Is Christianity on the Wane?" was the subject of an interesting sermon delivered yesterday morning in the West End Presbyterian church by the Rev. Dr. E. R. Donehoo, pastor. Dr. Donehoo contended that, despite the inroads of modern-day life and living, Christianity is the soul of the nation. He said in part:

"Some very pious Christians take a most despondent view of Gospel efforts in the present dispensation. They have no hope of the ultimate triumph of Christianity, but predict its steady decline, until the Son of Man shall at last set things right at His coming, and achieve complete victory over all the hosts of sin. Such teaching seems to me to be paralyzing to all personal effort for the conversion of the world. It is certainly not in accord with the plain declarations of Old Testament prophecy which declares that the knowledge of the Lord shall fill the world earth, and that at the final coming of Messiah He shall see the travail of His soul and be satisfied, and that all kings shall fall down before Him, and all nations call Him blessed. All scripture answers this inquiry, in the affirmative, teaching plainly that at His coming the world will be ready and joyfully waiting to receive Him.

Ultimate Triumph Certain.

"The history of Christianity for the 1,900 years since its establishment abundantly confirms the truth of its ultimate triumph over all opposing influences. Pilate sneered at Christ's pretensions of establishing a kingdom of truth, but Pilate through the ages has been vainly striving to wash his hands of the guilt of condemning to death the Prince of Glory. Felix in his idle conceit and vain imaginings pronounced Paul mad, and Agrippa flippantly mocked at what he esteemed the trifling reasons of the prisoner before him in defense of the gospel, but today the world realizes that Felix was the mad man, and Agrippa the self-deceived, in closing his eyes to the truth which was destined within three centuries to bring the Roman empire to confess that Paul had reasoned correctly.

"No cause that ever appealed to the good in mankind has met with a tithe of the opposition which has been waged against Christianity from the outset. When the Jew became impotent to resist its progress the gentile world took up the fight, and made hot its furnaces, and forged its chains, and prepared its dungeons, and let loose its wild beasts upon the courageous believers in the heavenly doctrine, only to scatter its precious truths the wider, and more rapidly multiply the disciples of the crucified Nazarene.

Julian Confessed Defeat.

"What if the haughty emperor of Rome did abjure the doctrine which he had hypocritically professed, and sought to turn the entire empire back to the worship of their dethroned divinities? His defection only imparted new energy to the followers of Christ, until the dying Julian in impotent rage hurled a handful of his own blood heavenward and expired with the blasphemous exclamation on his lips: 'O, Galilean, thou hast conquered!'

"Steadily Christianity has advanced through the centuries, and though opposed by fire and sword, and every weapon that malignity could invent, and though now not a voice in all the world proclaims, 'Great is Diana of the Ephesians,' nor do the thunders of Jupiter bring terror to timorous mortals, and while mankind the world over realizes that Pan is dead, millions do adoration to the name of Jesus, while His praises are celebrated in every tongue and clime where man is found.

"Remove Christianity from this land today, wipe out its literature, its institutions, its laws, its morality, its influences, and then let some deadly blight, like that which fell on the armies of Senacherib, destroy every follower of Jesus, and a scene of horror like that which so lately befell Martinique would be witnessed throughout its utmost extent, in so much that the hapless survivors of the dearful catastrophe would fain flee for refuge anywhere to escape the dread consequences.

"Make up your minds to what you will, but understand this, Christianity has come to stay, and stay it will, until its principles have become the rule in every life, and Christ Himself shall be all in all."

ROOSTER STOPPED EXPRESS.

Flew Up on Bell Cord After Escaping From Owner's Bag.

From the New York Tribune.

Prof. George T. Powell, director of the Agricultural school at Briarcliff, Westchester county, has been for many years the most prominent lecturer at farmers' institutes in New York and adjacent states, and is one of the best known agriculturists in this part of the country. He tells the following story:

"I had been lecturing at North East, Pa., during the day, and late in the evening I arrived at Dunkirk, where I had to change cars for Buffalo. I boarded a fast Chicago express at Dunkirk, which made no stops from there to Buffalo. There were many passengers in the car, and nearly all were asleep. Being very tired, I took a seat, leaned back and had just fallen into a doze when I was awakened by the loud chuckle of a rooster. Arousing myself and looking around, there, greatly to my surprise, was a large game rooster strutting up the aisle, with head erect, and every few seconds letting forth such a loud chuckle that in a moment nearly every one in the car was awake and craning his head in great astonishment at the unusual intruder.

"The rooster strutted wonderingly up the aisle until he came to a large portly man, who was leaning back, with legs crossed, one knee as high as his head and still asleep. He took only one look and then flew up, alighting on the conspicuous knee. At this juncture every one else in the car became intensely interested, and nearly all the passengers were on their feet, anxious to see what the man would do when he awoke. It needed only one more sound from the rooster before the stout man opened his eyes, and with a sudden start backward he threw up his hands in astonishment, while roars of laughter came from every part of the car.

"This excitement was too much for the rooster, and with one jump he flew up on the bell rope, which sagged down under his weight, and the Chicago express thundering along at 50 miles an hour, came to such a sudden stop that many passengers were thrown from their feet in a confused muddle. The train had no more than come to a stop when an irate conductor came hurriedly into the car and demanded who had stopped the train. By that time the owner of the rooster had awakened, and, taking in the situation, reached up and gathered in the wandering bird, restoring him to the bag from which he had escaped, and which contained two more fowls that had not found their way out.

"The merriment was too great for any sleep from there to Buffalo. A man from Chicago, who stopped at the hotel with me, said, 'I have been traveling for 30 years, but that is by far the funniest incident I ever saw.'"

"She's such an undecided sort of girl. The sort that never seems able to say 'No.'"

"Well, you propose to her, my boy, and you'll change your opinion mighty suddenly."

GUNNER REFUSED TO GO ON BOYACA AND SHE IS LOST

SITUATION IS SERIOUS

No News Comes of Conditions at Agua Dulce—Isthmian Railroad Likely to Be Captured—Venezuelan Forces Reoccupy Campano.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Kingston, Jamaica, Aug. 24.—Details of the capture of the Colombian government gunboat Boyaca by the insurgents outside of Panama have reached here. The Boyaca was captured August 1 by the insurgent gunboat Padilla after a short and unequal fight. She had on board at the time nearly 300 soldiers under the command of Gens. Ferrero and Enao, who were to reinforce Gen. Morales Berti at Agua Dulce.

The Boyaca also carried several colonels, a supply of amunition and a considerable sum of money.

An American gunner named Ross, who was serving on board the Boyaca, declined to sail on her on her last and fatal expedition. Flying the insurgent flag the Boyaca is now guarding the entrance to the Panama harbor, presumably with the intention of preventing steamers or other vessels from bringing government reinforcements to Panama.

No News From Agua Dulce.

Nothing definite is known on the isthmus of the situation of the government general, Morales Berti, at Agua Dulce, but many persons believe that the general, after withstanding a siege of several days, during which his forces were subjected, chiefly at night, to a severe artillery fire from the insurgents, perceived the hopelessness of receiving reinforcements and supplies from Panama and was forced to surrender the troops of his command to the insurgents.

The insurgent forces in the Agua Dulce district are said to number between 2,000 and 3,000 men. Associated with Gen. Berti in the defense of Agua Dulce were Gen. Castro, who gained notoriety at the previous battle at Agua Dulce, and Generals Gomez and Moreno. If the reported surrender of the government forces at Agua Dulce is true, the insurgent general Herrera is confronted by a big problem to provide food and shelter for and to control this large and hostile element. Owing to the fact that the government line of communication between Panama and Agua Dulce is broken, but little news reaches Panama from the seat of war, although the contending forces are only two days' march from that city.

Attack Is Expected.

Rumors are current on the isthmus that several detachments of insurgents have been seen at the various stations along the railroad line between Colon and Panama and an attack at either end of the line is expected in certain quarters to occur at any moment. Because of the presence of insurgents along the railroad the government is most anxious to obtain reinforcements on the isthmus as soon as possible. Fresh trouble, however, is said to be brewing in the interior of the republica and owing to the frequent refusals of steamships to carry government troops the bringing of reinforcements to the isthmus is apparently no easy matter.

The government gunboat Gen. Pinzon arrived at Cartagena a week ago from Colon, after having made the voyage with difficulty. It is now said to be impossible for the Gen. Pinzon to go to sea again in her present condition. Important and indispensable parts of her machinery have been completely ruined. The Pinzon was formerly the American yacht Namouna. She was bought by the Colombian government and entered its service last summer.

Government officials on the isthmus assert that the newly acquired government cruiser Cartagena will shortly bring troops to the isthmus. In other quarters it is said the Cartagena is neither at Savarilla nor Cartagena, but that she has gone to Santa Marta, from where she will proceed for the British island of Trinidad, in connection with the detention there of the steam Libertador, which has been in the service of the Matos revolution against President Castro of Venezuela.

Situation Is Serious.

The Colombian government recognizes the revolutionary situation to be serious. Many persons question the ability of the insurgents to hold Colon if they attack and capture on the Atlantic side of the isthmus. The government is endeavoring to purchase another war vessel in the United States for use on the Pacific coast.

There is at present no foreign man-of-war at Colon.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—United States Minister Bowen, at Caracas, Venezeula, has notified the state department that on Friday last Carupano was occupied without opposition by the government troops which recently evacuated Cumana. Carupano is a seaport town 57 miles northeast of Cumana.

WILLEMSTAD, ISLAND OF CURACAO, Aug. 24.—News has reached here from Venezuela that in consequence of the reoccupation of the port of Carupano in the state of Bermudez, by government forces, the blockade at that place has been terminated.

The United States training ship Topeka has left La Guayra for Haiti. The departure of the Topeka from Venezuelan water is taken to prove that the United States minister at Caracas, Herbert W. Bowen, believes that the final result of the Matos revolutionary movement will be long delayed.

AMERICANIZATION IS GROWING IN BERLIN

BERLIN, Aug. 24.—Local Anzeiger says as an evidence of the growing Americanization of the world is a plan to establish a post graduate medical school at Frankfort after an American model. A private person has contributed $500,000 for the establishment of this school.

IMMUNE FROM TYPHOID.

Arabs Practically Free From This Disease, Because Brought Up on Bad Drinking Water.

From Medical Talk.

Some Frenchman or other read a paper before the Paris Society of Biology recently which makes the statement that the Arabs are practically immune from typhoid fever. That is to say, an Arab can bear any kind of exposure to typhoid fever without taking it. They account for this peculiar bodily condition of the Arab from the fact that ever since his early infancy he has been reared on impure drinking water, which, in the countries where the Arabs abound, is notably bad. It is saturated with all sorts of contamination.

This has had the effect of weeding out the weaker ones and leaving only those to live who can stand typhoid fever germs. The grown Arab, therefore, is able to bear exposure that would give a European typhoid fever at once. This, however, is not intended as any argument for the use of impure drinking water. It only shows that the human system is capable of adjusting itself to unfavorable conditions.

But while the Arab is immune from typhoid fever, he is especially susceptible to consumption. This fact is accounted for by the reason that he has been accustomed to the very pure air of the mountains, and when exposed to the climate of Europe he quickly succumbs to consumption. He can stand our drinking water, but he cannot stand our climate.

The whole subject of national susceptibility and unsusceptibility to disease is a very interesting one. It may be after all that our climate, which is so peculiarly provocative of catarrh, will at last produce a race of people that will be practically immune from catarrh. He hope so, at least. At present it is a national disease and nearly everyone has it.

The very best authorities on chronic catarrh state that there is such a thing as immunity from this disease. The cold bath every morning, gargling the throat with cold water, splashing the neck and chest with cold water—if this is practiced thoroughly every morning, it will practically render anyone immune from catarrh.

Paddling the feet in cold water every evening might also be added to this regimen. This practice hardens the nervous system against the vicissitudes of the weather, and will soon produce a condition of the system in which the subject need have no fear of catarrh.

His Naturalization Oath.

From the New York Telegram.

A Yorkshireman who has been a citizen these 20 years of the United States took a fellow countryman to Judge Gildersleeve's court the other day to have him naturalized. The foreigner entered the court room with a cigar, and kept the smoking butt between the fingers of his uplifted hand as the clerk perfunctorily recited the oath. Without a rising or falling inflection the official reeled it off thus: "I swear that I will support the constitution of the United States and that I absolutely and entirely renounce and abjure all allegiance and fidelity to every foreign prince, potentate, state or sovereignty, particularly to Edward VII., king of England, of which country I have been a subject"—and just then noticing the cigar—"and if you don't take that stinking cheroot out of your hand before his honor happens to look this way and see it he will have you deported, so help me God." The butt dropped without exploding, and the man became a citizen.

Bull God's Tomb Found.

From the London Mail.

The tomb of the bull Meneris, which was worshipped in Heliopolis, has just been discovered a short distance west of Matarieh, Egypt. The stones of the tomb were covered with hieroglyphics.

They are being removed to the museum, where several other smaller antiquities which were found in the tomb have already been transferred.

Poole Again Pitched the Reds to Victory

PIRATES SPLIT DOUBLE HEADER WITH THE REDS

First Game Was Won on Errors While Cushman's Pitching Lost Second.

GREAT CROWD ATTENDED

Almost 25,000 People Witnessed the Two Games—Cincinnati Team Got Onto Millvale's Star Twirler in Third and Scored Nine Runs.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 24.—The Pirates and the Reds played a double-header before almost 25,000 people here today and broke even. In the first game Phillips and Phillippe were pitted against each other in the box.

Errors galore on both sides at unexpected stages of the game made it possible for either to win. The Reds lost, but gave Phillippe an awful scare in the ninth inning, when a hit meant a tie score.

Hits were also very abundant and the boys from the Smoky City were out-batted. Phillips pitched a good game up to the sixth inning when the Pirates fell on his curves, and in the seventh it looked as though they would drive him to the tall and uncut timber.

Bill stuck it out, however, and in the ninth came very near winning out. With the score standing 8 to 4, the Reds came to the bat, and a single, a double and an error brought in two runs. With a man on base and only one out, two good batters were up, but Phillippe settled down and both Beckley and Crawford went out easily.

How Runs Were Scored.

The runs were made as follows: In the third the Reds scored. After Maloney had struck out, Phillips got a base on Leach's high throw. He took second on Kelley's out and came home on Beckley's single to center. Crawford went out at first.

In the fifth the Reds again scored. After Steinfeldt had gone out, Maloney got a base on Leach's error. He took second on Phillips' out and scored on Kelley's single.

In the sixth Wagner singled, took second on Burke's out. Conroy singled and took third on Phillips' throw to the plate while Wagner scored. He came home on Tannehill's single. In this inning, with one out, Peitz doubled, as did Corcoran. Peitz scoring. Steinfeldt singled and Corcoran scored.

Clarke Drew a Base.

In the seventh Clarke walked. Beaumont singled and Maloney threw wild, Clarke scoring. Leach singled and Beaumont scored.

Wagner went out at first. Burke singled and Leach scored. Burke was caught between bases but Beckley threw wild. Conroy sent one down to Steinfeldt and he touched Burke out. Tannehill singled; Zimmer singled and Conroy galloped home. Phillips made a wild pitch and Maloney threw wild to third, allowing Tannehill to score.

In the eighth, with one out, Leach walked. Wagner got a base on Peitz's error, Burke went out at first, but Leach stole home on the play.

In the ninth Steinfeldt singled and Maloney doubled into the crowd. Kelley sent one down to Conroy and he threw wild. Steinfeldt and Maloney scoring on the play. Beckley went out at first and Crawford flied out, ending the agony.

The Second Game.

As Heine Peitz remarked to Mr. Cushman: "It's back to tall timber for you." To say the least, this was not a very encouraging epitaph to throw in a youngster's face who was twirling his first big league game, but it is nevertheless the truth.

The Reds won the game in one inning, that was the third, and the manner in which they landed upon that protege of Barney Dreyfuss was enough to make the cool chills run down his back.

It was a slaughter. First a single, then a double and then a base on balls, until nearly every man on the team had faced him twice in that inning.

It was laughable to see the sight and that enormous crowd cheered themselves hoarse at the antics of the Reds and the consternation and despair written all over Cushman's face. Had it not been for this inning it is more than probable that he would have won the game, for as soon as a few timely and wise words could be whispered into his ear he settled down and nary a run crossed the plate afterward.

Poole Was Steady.

On the other hand, Poole was steady. He was hit rather hard but always had a cool head on him and the Pirates were never allowed to go very far.

They outbatted the Reds, but Poole did not allow a base on balls and kept these hits well scattered. The Reds played a faultless game and after the third inning the visitors never had a chance to win. The following is how the runs were made:

The Pirates scored in the first. With two out Leach singled and Wagner singled. They made a double steal and Burke singled, scoring Leach. Conroy ended it by going out at first.

In the third Poole singled and Kelley flied out to Tannehill. Beckley doubled and Crawford doubled, scoring Poole and Beckley. Seymour singled and Peitz doubled, scoring Crawford. Corcoran singled and Seymour and Peitz scored. Steinfeld filed to Wagner. Bergen doubled and Poole got a base on Conroy's wild throw, Corcoran scoring.

Wagner held the ball and Bergen stole home. Poole stole second and Kelley doubled, scoring Poole. Beckley drew a base on balls and Crawford also walked. Seymour singled to first and Kelley scored, Peitz went out at first.

In the fourth with one out Conroy singled. Tannehill doubled and Hopkins singled, scoring Conroy. Cushman singled and Tannehill scored. Clarke singled and Hopkins tried to score, but was caught at the plate.

In the seventh Beaumont started off with a double. Leach flied out and Wagner singled, scoring Beaumont. The next two men went out.

BROOKLYN WON AND LOST.

Hanlon's Team Broke Even With Seele's Chicago Recruits in a Double-Header.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Brooklyn and Chicago broke even today. A combination of errors and hits gave the visitors a commanding lead and sent Lundgren to the bench in the first game.

In the second game Brooklyn batted Donovan hard and consecutively, and were easy winners. Kling's batting and fielding were the feature of the day, both of his errors being excusable. Attendance, 11,000. Score:

BROOKLYN BEAT PIRATES.

Local Team Made a Sensational Finish in Ninth, But Was Unable to Overcome Superba's Lead.

Pittsburgh's champion ball team lost Saturday's game to Ned Hanlon's Brooklyn Superbas at Exposition park by the score of 9 to 8. The finish was one of the most exciting witnessed on the home grounds for weeks, and it was either team's game until the last half of the ninth inning was over.

With two men on bases and one out in the last part of the ninth Manager Clarke allowed Miller, a find of Tommy Leach's from Cleveland, who covered right garden for the Pirates, to go to bat and strike out. Sam Leever, who held down the slab for the champions, went in the air in the third and allowed Brooklyn three three-base hits and four runs crossed the pan.

RICH STAKES FOR GREAT FUTURITY RACING EVENT

Purse Is Estimated at $70,000, Which Will Be Most Valuable in World.

PROBABLY 30 STARTERS

Thousands of Persons from All Over the Country Will Attend the Race at Sheepshead Bay Track Next Saturday.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 24.—If the valuation of the Coney Island Futurity stakes, to be run next Saturday at Sheepshead Bay, reaches the estimate of $70,000 it will not only be the richest Futurity but the most valuable race ever run in the world.

The most valuable Futurity in the past was in 1890, when Potomac was the victor, and the great race was worth $67,615. Chacornac won the least valuable renewal of this famous race in 1899, it being worth only $30,630, less than half it was in Potomac's year.

The inaugural Futurity was worth $40,905. Proctor Knott winning it, with Salvator, probably America's greatest race horse, behind him. In 1889 it was worth $54,559, being won that season by a rank outsider, Chaos.

Potomac's year was the next, then in 1891 His Highness proved the victor, earning for his stable in this event $61,975. The mighty Morrello won it in 1892, when it was worth $46,450, and the sensational Domino led his field safely home in world's fair year, winning the $47,950 hung up that season.

The Butterflies Big Winnings.

It was worth $48,710 in 1894, when won by The Butterflies, and in 1895, when captured by Requital, was worth $53,190. In 1896 the late Marcus Daly won it with Imp. Ogden, it being worth $43,770, that year, while it was worth only $31,200 in 1897, when the filly L'Alouette proved the victor.

Thirty-six thousand six hundred and ten dollars was its valuation in 1898, when won by Martimas. Chacornac's race followed in 1899. It was worth $33,590 in 1900, when won by Balleyhoo Bey, and last year its value was $36,850, the victor proving to be the late unlucky colt Yankee.

This year the field promises to be the largest ever started in this classic event. The biggest field ever started in this Futurity was 23, in Chaos' and Martimas' years, in 1889 and 1898 respectively. The smallest field was in 1896, when Ogden won it, only 10 colts and fillies facing the flag, while last year there were 19 starters.

This year there is the enormous number of 178 eligible entries, of which 141 are virtually out, owing to lack of class, going wrong in their work or being in training and racing far away from Coney Island scenes; so this leaves but 33 colts and fillies to make up the field for this rich prize.

Thirty Probable Starters.

Of this number 30 at least are sure starters. J. R. & F. P. Keene and J. B. Haggin will have the greatest array of starters of all the eastern millionaires, the former being represented by the great American winner Dalesman, the flying Dazzling and the maiden bay colt Tobogan, by Kingston, dam Imp. Glide.

The colors of the owner of Ranco Del Passo and Elmendorf will be borne by the Foam stakes winner Sir Voorhies, and the pair of much talked of maidens, the brown colt Teddy Mack, by Imp. Candalmas, dam Tongere, High Order's dam, and the brother to Ranald, the bay colt Sir High, by Salvator, dam Imp. Scotch Fir.

W. C. Whitney, whose Ballyhoo Bey and partnership colt Yankee won this race for him in 1900 and 1901, has only this maiden bay colt Payne by Imp. Waddell, dam Mountain Eagle, to represent him this year, and while this youngster is highly tried and has been reserved for this race the prestige of the field which will oppose him so overshadows any maiden that Payne will go to the post a very long shot, and if he duplicates the triumph of Ballyho Bey and Yankee his victory will be one of the biggest surprises of the present racing season.

A. Belmont will pick his two representatives from his once supposed invincible Mizzen, the bay colt Fire Eater, by Hastings, dam Fidese, and the chestnut colt Lord of the Vale, by Hastings, dam Lady Violet, who ran second in this race herself in Morello's year.

S. S. Brown, the Pittsburgh coal king, will start Blue Girl's brother, Blue Ribbon, and the maiden sister to the old favorite Imp, the brown filly Scioto, by Imp. Wagner, dam Fondling.

P. J. Dwyer is also likely to have two starters, both maidens. One, the chestnut colt Merry Acrobat, by Handspring, dam Merry Thought, and the other Attorney, a bay colt by Imp. Albert, dam Lady Useful.

Whitney & Duryea will be represented by Irish Lad, probably the post favorite on account of his victories in the great trial and Saratoga special stakes. Velmel & Dwyer will start Africander, winner of the Bedford stakes and the Wingfoot handicap, John A. Drake, by Sarable, winner of the Vernal stakes, and Julius Fleischmann, by Hurstborne, winner of the Brighton junior stakes.

Other Probable Starters.

J. D. Follensbee, by Daisy Green; D. Gibbon, who has won the great race twice, by Sovereign, whose sister, High Degree, was second in Martimas' year; Goughacres' Stable, by Athel; F. R. Hitchcock, by Sergeant, winner of the Boquet selling and Pansy stakes; Lyman J. Grant, by the Surf stakes, winner Monte Carlo; J. B. Morris, by Artvis, winner of the Bell Tremont stakes; J. E. Schorr, by Gnatas, winner of the Louisville Nursery stakes, and C. R. Ellison, by Skillful, winner of the United States Hotel stakes.

Other maidens eligible which are likely to be among the starters are John E. Madden's chestnut colt Ace Full, by Im. Mirthful, dam Myrtle Harkness; S. Sanford & Son's bay colt Canaphoarle, by Potomac, dam Caladonia; Miles & Son's bay colt Cochene, by Hamburg, dam Imp. Cochernony; J. R. Wilson, Jr.'s chestnut colt Inneboruck, by Hamburg, dam Imp. Iris; L. V. Bell's chestnut colt Tim, by Charade, dam Kitty H.; J. E. Pepper's bay colt Royal Summons, by Imp. Kantaka, dam Himyara; A. Featherstone's chestnut colt Sunny Shore, by Halma, dam Sunny Slope.

The following table gives the good money winning 2-year-olds of the season. So far they are Futurity candidates and it is safe to say if any one of this lot proves the winner he will easily be the champion money winning 2-year-old of the present racing year:

Winning Futurity Candidates.

Name	Amount Won.	Name	Amount Won.
Irish Lad	$68,620	Skillful	$11,780
Mizzen	32,295	Hurstborne	11,610
Artvis	14,695	Africander	8,477
Mexican	14,345	Monte Carlo	5,880
Dalesman	13,672	Sir Voorhies	5,180

The original distance, six furlongs, was changed to the present Futurity course, 172 feet shorter in 1892. The record at the present distance is held by last year's winner, Yankee, 1:09 1-5.

IRISH FAIR SPORTS.

Special Program of Track and Field Events Arranged for Opening Night.

At the Colosseum, Allegheny, tonight, in connection with the Irish fair, a two-weeks' carnival of sport will start. For tonight, the management announces a one-mile bicycle race, two-mile bicycle rabe motor-paced, the motor dropping out at the last lap of the two miles; high jump, hitching kick, tug of war between two teams of four men each, a mile pursuit race with Irish jaunting cars, handball contest by Michael Eagan, champion of the world, and an exhibition of club swinging.

The entry list, which closed last night, contains the names of the leading athletes of this section, representatives of the A. O. H., Knights of Columbus, C. M. B. A., Cathedral lyceum and other societies, being among those who will compete. Champion Eagan will start to play at 7 o'clock. He is open to meet any of the football players. Each night of the Irish fair there is to be a special program of sports.

ENTRIES HAVE CLOSED.

Old Bird Races End.

The E. E. Homing club of the Pittsburgh district of the National Federation of American Homing Pigeon Fanciers flew its eighth old bird race from Denver, Col., distance 1,536 miles air line. The birds were liberated on May 24, and F. B. Herd is the first to report his bird yesterday. Considering the many storms, the birds have done very well. The old bird series ends with this fly.

AMONG HE AMATEURS.

The Brighton A. C. defeated the crack team of Emsworth by a score of 5 to 2. The features of the game were the pitching of Devereaux and the batting of Loebic.

Next Saturday the St. James A. C. will meet the Sharpsburg Grays on Shadyside academy grounds, and a warm game is promised, as the teams are about evenly matched. St. James have September 6 and 13 still open and would like to hear from any amateur team having grounds. Address H. B. Loxtorman, 922 St. James street.

Owing to the resignation of Manager Gillespie of the Primrose Reserves, William Fairman has been selected to fill the vacancy for the balance of the season. All 12 to 14-year-old teams desiring Saturday games, address Wm. T. Fairman, 1534 Garfield avenue, Allegheny.

The Rawsthorne Printing Company have added another victory to their credit by defeating the W. G. Johnstons in a well-played game, the features of the same being the pitching of Worrell, who has won seven straight games and lost none, a record to be proud of. Rawsthornes have only lost one game this season.

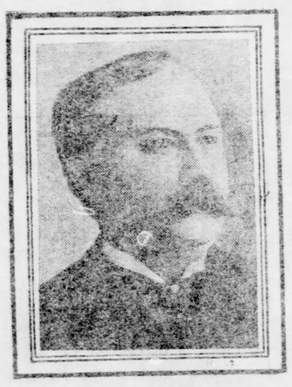
MR. JAMES M. WISMAN
ENTERTAINER AND MONOLOGIST
PRINCIPAL KING'S SCHOOL OF ORATORY

In his original, refined and popular READINGS, SKETCHES AND MONOLOGUES, has been before the public as an entertainer for fifteen years, and is eminently a successful reader—of figure, graceful and commanding. Gifted by nature with magnetism of voice and stage presence, he has by intelligent study lifted his art into the realm of Oratory.

He is prepared to make arrangements with Lecture Committees, Teachers' Institutes, Churches, Societies, Lodges and Private Parties.



REPERTOIRE

Lecture Recital with selections from Mark Twain, Artemus Ward, Riley, Carleton, Fields and others.

An evening with Shakespeare.

Interpretation of the Mosaics of Literature, embracing the best from the world of literature.

Monologue Entertainment—Rip Van Winkle, David Harum, This, That and the Other, The Littlest Girl.

In his Sketches and Monologues there is no necessity for stage settings, costumes, etc.—The aim being to impersonate mentally, not bodily—His characters, therefore, presenting a realism that have made them popular with the general public, in Church, Theater or Lodge Room.

Imports and Exports.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Exports of specie from this port to all countries for this week aggregated $4,454,000, against $10,785,403 last year. The imports of drygoods and merchandise at the port of New York this week were valued at $11,161,174. The imports of specie this week were $16,784 gold and $4,451 silver.

STILL GOING UP.

Pittsburgh Bank Exchanges Show Large Increases Over Figures of a Year Ago.

Pittsburgh bank exchanges for the week ending yesterday broke all records for any similar week in the history of the Clearing House association, being over $6,926,000 larger than last year, which then held the record. Compared with the preceding week there was a gain of about $400,000. The total for the year to date shows an increase of more than $15,400,000 over the same period of last year, and, consequently, establishes a new record. The exchanges for yesterday were $1,461,000 ahead of those for the same day last year and about $180,000 larger than the preceding Saturday. The local money market ruled very firm throughout the week, with the rate for call and time loans quoted nominally at 5@6 per cent. Some institutions had sufficient funds to accommodate all legitimate requirements, but others found it necessary to do some calling, which in time caused a shifting of some loans. There is no prospect of an early or material change in the situation.

The detailed clearing house reports are as follows:

	Exchanges.	Balances.
Yesterday	$6,564,207 49	$1,205,697 01
Previous Saturday	6,383,691 58	962,584 84
Last year	5,102,645 40	1,206,497 68
Yesterday's increase	$1,461,562 09

The figures for the clearing house for the week ending yesterday, compared with those for the preceding week and the same week last year, are as follows:

	Exchanges.	Balances.
Daily average	6,293,852 95	1,170,335 74
Last week	37,302,240 53	6,534,561 52
Daily average	6,217,044 75	1,089,093 58
Last year	31,836,786 36	6,118,745 36
Daily average	5,306,131 06	1,019,790 89

This week's increase, $5,926,211 75.

The exchanges for the week ending yesterday, compared with those for the corresponding weeks in previous years, were as follows:

WEEK'S SALES WERE SOMEWHAT SMALLER.

The volume of business transacted on the Pittsburgh stock exchange during the week ending yesterday, was about 15,000 shares smaller than that of its predecessor, but some 2,000 shares larger than for the same period last year. The market was slightly irregular until the closing session, when it became as a general thing quite firm to strong, the final prices in several issues being the highest. The total public sales were 21,634 shares of stock and $24,000 bonds. These figures compare with 36,529½ shares of stock, $21,000 bonds and $44.90 scrip for the preceding week, and with 19,856.25 shares of stock and $15,000 bonds for the same week a year ago.

The following statement is a complete summary of the publicly recorded transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange during the week beginning Monday, August 18, and ending with Saturday, August 24, 1902. It shows the total sales, opening, highest, lowest and closing prices, and the changes in the selling prices as compared with those of the preceding week and the nearest ones to that time:

O PATRONAGE TO KEEP ALIVE OLD FACTIONS

President Has Decreed That Southern Republicans Fight the Enemy.

TINAL DEFEAT NO CRIME

Deaf Ear Turned to Politicians Who Battle Only Within Party Lines for Federal Offices—Must Do Their Utmost at Polls.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 25.

Recent lectures by President Roosevelt of southern Republican leaders ll attention to the president's desire at the Republicans of the south, inad of fighting with each other to in ascendancy in the matter of patnage distribution, shall make genue contests for representatives in conress wherever they have the slightest portunity for success.

From the beginning of his adminisation the president has shown symptms of hearty disgust at the factional ferences in the south, and with the stant anxiety of the southern leaders get nearer to the patronage counter. president at first ignored many of organizations in the south, and made intments that suited his own taste. as warned that he was doing him harm, politically and mentally. He turned around and placed the southpatronage question largely in the hands of Postmaster General Payne, who en known from the beginning as litical manager of the president's s. Since taking this step the presas not personally investigated the ion of things in the southern states. s refrained from going into the deas he did at the beginning.

Disgust at Deceit.

s sufficient to say, however, that he was looking into each case himhe became disgusted every time with absolute lack or genuine political ity among southern leaders and the vs uppermost thought in their minds eating factional fights that one or ther faction might be recognized as st to the chief executive in the matpatronage distribution. The presihas seen so many evidences of this selfishness in the south and utter gard of party interests that he has patience with most of the Republn organizations in that section. He g ago announced to friends that he not care the snap of his finger about his re-election in 1904, and the main reason he had in turning over patronage matters to the postmaster general was to relieve himself of the worry and annoyance that had been caused.

The president is laboring under the belief that there is really a foundation in the south for a Republican party of decent proportions, formed among Democrats of a conservative tendency. Looking at the question from this standpoint, he insists on the Republicans making fights to show just how much may be expected. He is a fighter himself and it is action that he wants. If the Republicans fight hard and lose they will gain the respect of the president. What he wants to see is a fighting organization in each state, not organizations whose only aim is to secure the patronage.

Must Get into Action.

The president hasn't the least respect for men of this stamp. If there is a chance of making some headway in some of the southern states, like Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Texas, the president wants the attempt made. If the attempt isn't made, he will hold the leaders responsible and ignore them when the fat jobs are to be passed around. Briefly put, the leaders must work for their positions and not get them by underhanded methods and by fighting among themselves.

At different times the president has often said that he could not believe a word said to him, and this lack of confidence caused him to go outside of the organization for office material for a long time at the beginning of his administration, and even now in occasional appointments.

TEMPERANCE PEOPLE OF WILKINSBURG AGITATED

Airing of Vehicle License Question Has Shown That Much Beer Is Sold There.

The temperance question is being agitated in Wilkinsburg pretty freely, special attention being given to it because of the delivery by outside dealers of beer. Wilkinsburg is a local option town.

The fact that so much beer was being delivered to the thirsty residents of Wilkinsburg was brought out by the agitation of the vehicle license question, and the celerity with which beer agents paid the fee was very noticeable.

Burgess James Horner has received many protests against this alleged illegal traffic, and some action will likely be taken at an early date. The burgess' plan is to secure a good detective and pay him well for doing his duty, and after he has obtained all information necessary for the conviction of violators of the local option law, take the matter before the grand jury.

Penalties for this transgression in the past have been very severe, ranging from $50 to one year in the workhouse and the burgess has, after conviction of the offender, to revoke his license. Under the law no city wagon is allowed to take orders for liquors or to receive money for same in the borough of Wilkinsburg.

ATERSPOUTS OFF CAPE MAY.

vy Thunder Storms Drove Bathers from the Ocean.

CAPE MAY, N. J., Aug. 24.—Between and 12 o'clock today five waterspouts re seen about five miles off shore. hree were single shafts of water formed during the confluence of two electrical storms and a small sized hurricane almost in the nature of a cyclone. The other phenomena was a double waterspout seen to the southeast. The others were directly east.

A succession of thunderstorms with flashes of lightning and quick crashes of thunder prevailed all day. Bathers in the ocean and many fled from the beach because of the turbulent waters.

Fake Rocky Fords.

FREE EXCURSION
TO RENNERDALE LAND SALE.
The high class residence suburb. As beautiful and convenient as Sewickley, for about one-tenth the price. Great, large lots, 60 to 75 feet front, by 168 to 190 feet deep, will be sold at this sale from $250 to $600 each; only 5 per cent down and 4 per cent per month, with no interest or taxes until 1904.

Rennerdale is situate on main line of Pennsylvania R. R., 12 miles from the Union Depot. It is a strictly high class residence suburb, which can be reached in 30 minutes from the Union Depot, Fourth ave. and Birmingham stations, and when the new four track system now in course of construction is completed the run can be made in half that time.

A large, new station has been erected right on the plan, and 1,400 feet of the main approach, which is now being macadamized, and all other streets graded and trees planted.

A natural gas main is now being laid nearby and the Chartiers Valley Water Co. have made surveys for the supply to Rennerdale.

The charter and rights of way through Rennerdale for street car line have been secured by the Carnegie & McDonald Street Railway Co., which will connect with Pittsburgh lines. A number of fine houses, open for more fine dwellings have been erected and the owners are enjoying all the advantages of the country and city combined.

Choice Sewickley frontage, 12 miles from Pittsburgh, owned and occupied by city people, is worth $100 per front foot. Rennerdale will some day be worth as much.

Special trains will leave Union Depot on Thursday, September 4, at 1:30 p. m., city time. Will stop at Fourth ave. and Birmingham stations. For plans, price lists and tickets, call on or address

PROPOSALS.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at the office of U. L. L. Peoples, architect, Times building, up until 12 o'clock p. m. Friday, September 5, 1902, for the erection and completion of a school building to be erected at Munhall, Allegheny county, Pa., drawings for which can be seen at the architect's office on and after August 21, 1902. The successful bidder will be required to give a trust company bond for the full amount of the contract. The school board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

PROPOSALS.

Treasury Department,
Office of the Secretary,
Washington, D. C., Aug. 7, 1902.

PROPOSALS will be received, to be opened at 2 o'clock p. m., September 2, 1902, for the sale to the United States of a suitable site, centrally and conveniently located, for the U. S. Marine Hospital building to be erected in Pittsburgh, Pa.

The department requires a piece of land containing not less than one acre, nor more than five acres. The property offered should be near a street car line, and other things being equal, preference will be given to the property most conveniently located. Each proposal must be accompanied by a diagram of the land in question, which must show proposed streets and alleys, the grades, and the character of foundations obtainable, etc. Any improvements on the land must be removed by the vendor within thirty days after written notice, and the vendor shall pay all expenses connected with furnishing evidence of title and deeds of conveyance. The right to reject any proposal is reserved. Proposals must be sealed, marked "Proposal for Marine Hospital site at Pittsburgh, Pa.," and mailed to the Secretary of the Treasury (Supervising Architect), Washington, D. C.

H. A. TAYLOR,
Assistant Secretary.

NO FAULT FOUND WITH EXPENSES OF LAST SESSION

Watch Dog of Treasury Cannon Declares Appropriations Are All Necessary.

THEY NEED NO DEFENSE

People Are Glad to See Step Taken Toward Building Isthmian Canal. Democratic Talk of Billion-Dollar Congress Is Nonsense.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 605 Fifteenth St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 25.

"If our Democratic friends desire to make the contest this fall on the allegation that the recent session of congress was a billion-dollar one, and that therefore the Republicans were guilty of extravagance, the Republicans will gladly meet them on that issue."

The speaker was Representative Joe Cannon of Illinois, the veteran chairman of the house committee on appropriations, the so-called "Watch Dog of the Treasury." Continuing he said:

"But first let me call your attention to the fact that it was not a billion dollar session as we appropriated only $890,000,000, and the increase over the appropriations of the last congress was due to the appropriation for the isthmian canal. Do the Democrats wish to be understood as opposing that legislation? Congress always authorizes contracts for public improvements and by making such contracts there is a saving of from 25 to 33 per cent as compared with the former system of piecemeal appropriation without contracts. The latter is the modern and business method of handling public works. This congress has authorized such contracts. Who opposes them? Do the Democrats or the economists object to the contracts nearest their homes? I haven't heard of any such fault finding.

"I would like to have the Democrats take up the appropriations and say which should be lopped off. Would they cut the appropriation for the navy, or that for the army, or the rivers and harbors, or the public buildings, or the pensions I do not believe that they would be willing to assume the responsibility for leaving out any of those items from the great appropriation bills and those items constitute the bulk of the appropriations that were made.

"The people are not complaining about the appropriation of public money for public improvements, which causes the circulation of money. Some day we will have the flag floating over a federal post-office building owned by Uncle Sam in every good sized town in the land, and the people will never be out of sight of Old Glory, and the people will approve of such expenditure, because it makes Uncle Sam a real estate holder in every community. I shall not waste any time on the stump defending congress for making the appropriations that it did at the last session. That will not be necessary and the Democrats do not dare make it an issue."

With this parting shot the veteran started for the railroad depot to finish his vacation in Michigan before entering upon the campaign in Illinois.

CHARLES W. METZGAR.

FIRE CAUSED $4,000 LOSS.

Pittsburgh Provision Co. Got Off Comparatively Lucky in Yesterday Morning's Blaze.

The fire discovered in the storage house and stables of the Pittsburgh Provision company, on Herrs Island early yesterday morning, as reported in The Sunday Gazette, did about $4,000 damage. The building in which the fire occurred is a three-story brick, about 70x130 feet in size. The flames were practically confined to the ground floor, which was filled with about 100 tons of hay and a large number of empty barrels and kegs. The rear portion of the first story was occupied as stables for the company's horses.

The fire was discovered in the hay about 10 o'clock, and an alarm was sent in from box No. 158. When the engines arrived the fire had gained such headway that it was feared the entire building would be destroyed and a second alarm was turned in.

The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

WRECK IN EAST PITTSBURGH.

Two P., B. & L. E. Engines Smashed Things by Going in on Open Switch.

An open switch caused a wreck on the Pittsburgh, Bessemer & Lake Erie tracks in East Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock, blockading the tracks for several hours. Engines Nos. 60 and 34, going south in double-header fashion with a long train, went in on an open switch and crashed into a string of empty freight.

The engine crews saw what was going to happen in time to jump, and thereby saved themselves from serious injury. The head engine, No. 90, was smashed up in bad shape; No. 34 lost its cab and the tender was reduced to scrap. Albert McGinness, a brakeman, living in Station street, East End, was the only one seriously hurt. In jumping from No. 34 he was injured about the legs.

The point at which the run-in occurred is up on a hillside and several cars narrowly missed toppling over on some houses below.

OKLAHOMA GETS A CITY.

New Survey Gives the Territory a Larger Area.

GUTHRIE, OKLA., Aug. 24.—Advices from Washington to the territorial official states that the interior department has approved the Johnson and Kidder survey of the 30th meridian, which places it four and a fraction miles east of the present boundary between Oklahoma and the Chickasaw Nation, Indian Territory, thus adding to Oklahoma the city of Chickasha, the most important commercial and railroad point in that point of the southwest.

A long-drawn-out legal battle is expected to follow this decision, and the matter must ultimately be passed upon by the United States supreme court.

Greeting:
In these big sales this week kindly use the Shopping Card. It is such a great help to us.

A Great Two-Days' Sale of Sundries Today and Tomorrow.

The Most Unusual of Small Prices.

Taking the 70 departments of this store no better word could be given a special sale than that of Sundries—meaning, in this instance, a little of everything.

An end-of-August Sale in which the prices are superbly ridiculous. Take those on fine Jackets as an instance and as a guide to reduced goods throughout the store—goods that everyone has use for.

Autumn invoices are piling in upon us as fast as steam can bring them and it is imperative that we give the goods the room that is due them.

The most effective way to get room is to put prices on broken lines and odd lots that will get them out of the way quickly. We have done so.

A good many hints follow, but they are only hints.

And This Is the Great Feature of the Sale.

Women's $ 8 and $10 Jackets $ 2.50.
Women's $12 to $18 Jackets $ 5.00.
Women's $15 to $22 Jackets $ 7.50.
Women's $20 to $50 Jackets $10.00.

Autumn weights, many of them Winter weights. Not one but what is handsome and stylish. Not one but what is clean and fresh.

There is every style that women will wear this Winter—Etons, Russian Blouses, 27-inch Boxes, tight-fitting styles and three-quarter lengths.

Collectively there are all the fashionable trimmings—braid stitching, fur and velvet.

They are all black, of such fine materials as broadcloth, melton, kersey and cheviot.

We are free to say that we can fit perfectly any size, as the bust range is an extremely large one.

All are lined with either splendid Silk or Satin.

Walking and Dress Skirts, Half.

When in this department you might take a look at the new Fall styles. You'll not find so very much difference between them and these skirts at less than half prices:

At $5—sold for $10—Walking and Dress Skirts—cheviot, mohair and homespun—blue, tan and black.

We will also sell Natural Linen Walking and Dress Skirts at these reduced prices: 75c for those that sold for $2 and $3; $1.50 for those that sold for $4, $5 and $6; $3 for those that sold for $7, $8, $10 and $12.

Dress Trimmings.

We start with fine Trimmings and say 25c a yard for short ends from Trimmings that sold for 75c, $1 and $1.25 a yard. The pieces will not be cut. Many are long enough to trim a waist, or possibly the entire dress.

Collars, Panels and Garnitures, only 16 of these. $6 patterns for $3; $4.50 patterns for $2.25; $2 patterns for $1.

To clean up the Ruffings we will say 5c a yard. Two colors only. Black and white and all white.

Small Enameled Buttons—just a few colors—goods that sold for 25c, 35c and 50c a doz., today, 10c a dozen.

Girls' Dresses.

Reduced to $1.50 from $2, $3 and $3.50.

Sizes 4 to 12 years.

There are lawn and gingham dresses in guimp and high neck styles.

For girls 6 to 14 years we will offer Wash Sailor Suits, in Percale—blue and white, red and white and pink and white—for 85c, reduced from $1.50.

$1 for a $5 Hat.

Women will find a table full of prettily trimmed Hats for that price.

5c and 10c each for Untrimmed Hats that sold for 50c.

And the Flowers with which to trim them, 15c and 25c a bunch, formerly 75c and $1.

Parasols.

We have a little lot of Parasols that will be cleaned up today and tomorrow, and the cleaning-up prices are interesting.

42 Parasols—all that we have left of the $3 grade—will be sold for $1.25 each.

A few that are slightly soiled, formerly selling for $2, will be sold for 75c each.

Two Hints from American Wash Goods Department, Basement.

Clear enough to show any woman the economical side of buying now and laying away for future use.

10c a yard—sold for 15c and 20c—A lot of Dress Ginghams in the very best styles and colorings.

12½c a yard—sold for 25c—Lot of fine Madras Ginghams—32 inches wide—excellent for house dresses either for women or children.

Huckaback Towels—Little to Pay.

This is an occasion when you can lay in your Fall supply of good Towels, and count the cost a mere nothing.

Hotelkeepers will please note.

Huck Towels with red borders—17x32—regularly 10c and 12½c—in this sale 7c each.

Huck Towels with red borders, and also plain white, an extra size, 19x40—regularly 17c, in this sale 12½c.

Black Venetian Cloth.

$1.50 Yard.

We haven't the least doubt but what you have often paid $2 a yard for black Venetian not any better—as a matter of fact, we could easily sell this for $2 a yard, for it is as handsome as $4 imported broadcloth.

The reason we can afford to sell this new Venetian Cloth for $1.50 a yard lies in the fact that we imported it ourselves.

It is 51 inches wide and that is a great advantage.

Percaline 12c Yard.

Take either black or colors at that price, but in the lot there are only 1,200 yards.

It is the kind we have been selling for 15c and 20c a yard.

Stockings 12½c Pair.

Kind we have sold for 25c, but most of them are children's, in sizes from 5 to 7.

Some few pairs, odd sizes, for women.

They are a great bargain. All black.

Short Lengths Imported Swisses.

38c a yard.

From Swisses that sold for $1, $1.25, $1.50 a yard.

Women know how to employ these short lengths, so there is no call for verbiage.

We will also clear out an odd lot of 25c Printed Irish Dimities and 35c Scotch Madras, in all about 650 yards, at ..... 12c yd.

Mussed Undermuslins.

Really we cannot undertake to give prices. We would not know where to begin, the lot is that varied.

But as they are slightly soiled the best we can say is the greatest kind of reductions.

American and French makes of Nightgowns, Corset Covers, Drawers and combination Skirt and Corset Covers.

Special Prices on Cedar Chests.

In the House Furnishing Department of the Basement there are 8 Cedar Chests. We want them out of the way, so make the following special prices for today:

Size 22x22x38 long, $11 00
Size 22x20x42 long, $8 00
Size 24x24x42 long, $13 00
Size 24x21x48 long, $14 00

Dresser Scarfs and Covers 25c.

Regular 50c goods.

A big lot to sell today and tomorrow.

Made of fine cambric and hemstitched beautifully.

Sold several hundred of them Friday and Saturday. Found that women liked them so well that we ordered a fresh supply.

Baby Finery.

We have six Mull Hats in pink that sold for $2 and $3, and six mothers of 3 to 5-year-old girls can buy these Hats Monday for 75c each.

Also will have a few Pique Coats, in both white and colors, that will be sold for half prices—$4 coats for $2—$6.50 coats for $3.25—and up to $10 coats for $5.

Real Shell Goods Half Prices.

Hair Pins, Hat Pins and Neck Combs. Pretty difficult to tell real shell from the imitated. The beauty about it is in knowing that it is real.

$2.50 styles for $1.25.
$ .50 styles for $ .25.

Stamped Cushion Covers 25c.

You will find them in the Art Needlework Department. You will also find they sold for 50c and 75c.

There are but 110 in the lot.

Colored Silks 50c yd.

Some of them ends, or you can buy as many yards as needed from odd pieces.

They are silks that sold for 85c, $1 and $1.25, and you can have

Peau de Crepe—or Satin Alaska—or Brocade Peau de Soie—or Cannele Stripe Taffeta—or Printed Warp Taffeta.

There is a silk bargain if there ever was one.

Saturday we received 1,000 yards of Fancy Silks, those corded Pompadour effects in light and dark shades, and also open-work lace stripe silk. Although they were made to sell for $1 we will put them out today for the special price of 65c a yard.

$5 Chafing Dishes $3.50

They have all the extra improvements, such as hot water pan, with side handles, dome cover, quick heating asbestos lamp, which can be regulated for large or small flame. Pierced legs and dark ebony handles.

Wrist Bags—Only 100 of Them.

They are gray and tan suede, some silk lined, others lined with suede, all with jeweled frames, reduced

From $2.50 to $1.50.
From $3.00 to $2.00.

Alone worth a trip to the store.

Chop Dishes About Half.

Fine ones. Our sample line from Limoges, France.

The handsomest of decorations.

Here are the reductions—

$2.50 Chop Dishes for $1.25
$4.00 Chop Dishes for $2.50
$6.00 Chop Dishes for $3.50
$7.50 Chop Dishes for $4.00

Little for Black Silks.

Two examples will be enough to show what we intend doing in this department today and tomorrow.

$1.25 a yard Black Faconne Taffeta, correct for the waist or entire dress, will be sold today for 85c a yard.

45-inch All-Silk Black Grenadines which we have been selling for $1.50 a yard — will be sold today for $1 a yard.

Novelties in Cloisonne Ware.

Decorative pieces as well as pieces for desk use — entirely too many to enter into description. Please notice the prices and then see the articles.

$ .50 Articles for $ .25.
$ .75 Articles for $. 50.
$1.00 Articles for $ .75.
$1.25 Articles for $ .75.
$1.50 Articles for $1.00.
$2.00 Articles for $1.50.
$3.50 Articles for $2.50.
$5.00 Articles for $4.00.

Odds and Ends of Colored Dress Goods.

50c a Yard for Choice.

And that choice will be from colored Dress Goods that sold for 85c, $1, $1.25 and $1.50 a yard.

The lengths are suitable for children's wear and women's separate skirts.

If that simile, a golden opportunity, was ever applicable is in the present case. Mothers should read this twice, in case of their girls starting to school this day week.

Less for Refrigerators.

Refrigeration is just as essential through the Fall months as in hot Summer months. The most of the Refrigerators here offered for reduced prices are the well-known Eddy make. Eddy stands for best.

1 $18.75 Refrigerator, $16.85. 75 lbs ice
2 $22.50 Refrigerat'rs, $18.75. 100 lbs ice
